Sam Rayburn Dies Of Cancer At 79

HOUSE SPEAKER SAM RAYBURN
Politics was his life

Longest Service In House

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Sam Rayburn, who served longer as House speaker than any man, died today in the home town he loved. (See also page 7).

Cancer and its complications caused his death. He would have been 80 on Jan. 6.

The White House was notified immediately. So with Rep. John W. McCromack of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader of the House.

McCormack was the man Rayburn chose to serve temporarily as speaker when "Mr. Sam" had to leave Congress before it closed because of what he called lumbago.

MAY HAVE KNOWN

But even then, his doctor believes, he knew he had cancer.

The physician, Dr. Joe A. Risser, and members of the speaker's family and staff stood by the bedside in Risser Hospital as Rayburn faded away.

"It was a very easy death for a very great man," Dr. Risser told reporters.

Asked about the immediate cause of death, Risser said simply that: "He just quit breathing."

Then, in more formal language, he put it this way:

"At 6:20 this morning Mr. Sam passed away. He died quietly. He showed no evidence of pain lines in the face. He semed to be as one in sleep."

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Rayburn had been unconscious for about 36 hours before his death. The doctor and family had spent two near-sleepless nights at the hospital.

The funeral services will be conducted by Elder H. C. Ball, minister of the Primitive Baptist Church of Tioga, Tex. Rayburn joined the church some years ago.

The chaplain of the House, the Rev. Bernard Braskamp, will assist.

Dr. Risser told reporters that the family decided that they would prefer that people remember the Rayburn Foundation, which supports the library instead of sending flowers.

The burial services will be held immediately after the church services at Willow Wild Cemetery. These, as well as the services at the church, will be open to the public, Holton said.

The burial will be in the family plot perhaps three-quarters of a mile from the center of this northern Texas town of 7,000, where Rayburn was the outstanding citizen.

President John F. Kennedy is expected to attend the services.

Rayburn achieved one wish concerning his death but failed in another.

"I want to die with my boots on and with my gavel in my hand," the venerable dean of 20th century politics told

MISTAKEN IDENTITY?

U.N. Says Italians Slain By Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Thirteen Italian airmen flying for the United Nations in the Congo were murdered by drunken Congolese troops last Saturday, a U.N. spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the Italians were shot shortly after they landed at Kindu airport in Kivu province.

He said some of their bodies were hacked to pieces and thrown into the Luluaba River near Kindu prison.

They apparently had been mistaken for Belgian paratroopers.

"It is with very deep regret that we must presume 13 colleagues of the Italian Air Force have been brutally murdered by soldiers of the national Congolese army at Kindu," he said.

Smith said the Italians were having lunch at a Malayan U.N. officers' mess when a drunken mob of Congolese troops attacked.

He said the Italians were beaten severely and dragged off to a hilltop near Kindu prison where they were shot in front of a cheering crowd. Some of the Italians were unconscious from the beatings when the shooting occurred.

Smith said some of the bodies then were hacked to pieces and thrown into the Luluaba River nearby.

The United Nations sent word to central government Premier Cyrille Adoula that the troops guilty of the killings must be punished.

New Version Reported On Arrest Of Beria

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A sensational new version of the arrest of Soviet police boss Lavrenty P. Beria, purporting to come from Premier Nikita Khrushchev, was reported by Polish Communist sources today.

They said Beria brandished a pistol and was disarmed by Khrushchev himself who wrestled with him in a heretofore undisclosed meeting of the Communist party politburo.

The informants said Beria later was tried and executed on Dec. 23, 1953 in Azerbaijan. This date agreed with previous announcements of the execution.

The Polish sources told Western newsmen they were present at a glass-clinking reception for about 1,000 persons during the recent Soviet party congress in Moscow when Khrushchev launched into the story of his physical struggle with Beria.

One informant said he took notes of what Khrushchev said.

This is the account:

Khrushchev proposed a toast to the victory over the Stalinist cult of personality. He said Beria, backed by an army of secret police, launched a determined bid for power. Beria was a member of the triumvirate that included V. M. Molotov and Georgi Malenkov, and was then ruling the Soviet Union after the death of Stalin.

Other members of the Politburo decided the situation was intolerable and called a showdown meeting of the Politburo for the ostensible purpose of discussing military questions.

Before the meeting Khrushchev appealed for support to Marshal Kiril S. Moskalenko, the commandant of the Moscow garrison who since has become deputy defense minister and chief of rocket forces.

He asked Moskalenko: "Have

Mob Stones Paris Embassy In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—A mob of 1,000 African students threw stones and bottles at the French Embassy today in a howling protest against French Algerian policy. Soviet troops and police kept the demonstrators from entering the embassy building.

About 100 policemen and 100 infantrymen called out from the Moscow garrison pushed the mob back from the embassy doors. But the screaming demonstrators, who included a sprinkling of Soviet students, shattered most of the double plate glass windows on the ground floor and threw ink and milk bottles.

Damage was far less than than inflicted on the American, West German, Belgian, and Danish embassies in past anti-Western demonstrations. The troops reached the scene about 20 minutes after the crowd began marching past the building. The demonstration broke up in less than an hour.

Community Shelter Program Is Called Cheapest And Best

(Ninth in a series)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

The cheapest, most sensible shelter is the community or neighborhood type accommodating 50 to 100 persons or more.

You and neighbors can build one for about $100 per family member. This could well be five to 10 times less than building an equally effective individual family shelter. The larger the community shelter, the cheaper it is.

Few people remember that just such a community shelter was actually tested in Nevada a few years ago, virtually under an A-bomb, with two dozen men inside.

The shelter "rocked like a ship," they said, but they and the shelter came through the blast and fallout in perfect shape.

And few Americans realize that the Soviets are far, far ahead of us in building shelters, especially of the type for 100 persons or more.

Expert students of Russia's civil defense vouch for this, despite Madame Khrushchev's recent statement that the Soviet Union was not building shelters. To the contrary, the Soviet program even provides for compulsory training in defense and survival to make nuclear war less costly in human lives.

SAUSALITO PLANT IS DISMANTLED

Lando Leaves, Couldn't Get Enough Space

Ellis A. Lando, who has operated the plant since 1953, was overseeing 20 of his former 60 workmen in dismantling, lining up and labeling parts so that foreign workers will be able to reassemble them. He expects to finish the packing job by Dec. 15.

"It's like a funeral parlor around here," Lando said.

He added that he has been in the business 40 years, formerly in San Francisco, where he was called "Lando the blind man."

SOME TO HOLLAND

Much of the equipment, which he estimates weighs about 200,000 pounds and is worth approximately $750,000, will go to Holland, Lando said. Some may go to South America, Japan and Canada.

Lando stopped production in September. He said he is leaving Sausalito because, when the city refused to give him a use permit to expand his plant, it was not economically feasible to continue. He had sought a permit to expand his 180-foot long plant to 500 feet. The permit was denied in August by 3-2 vote of the council, with George Keeney and Howard Sievers voting against denial.

PLANNING CITED

Councilmen voting for denial said the Marinship area needed professional planning and said the addition to Lando's factory might truncate Marinship as it would extend over the route for a proposed north-south road.

Lando, who lives in Mill Valley, said he plans to open another plant, but not in Sausalito. "I would love to settle in Marin," he said. He said some of his employees have been with him for 27 years and he would like to locate in this county so they could remain in their present homes.

He said he has had invitations to build a plant in Richmond, Petaluma and Willits.

He said his annual payroll had been $425,000.

APPOINTIVE, ELECTIVE?

Mill Valley Vote On Treasurer Job Set

Mill Valley voters will be asked next April to decide whether the city treasurer should be appointive or elective.

The Mill Valley City Council voted 3-2 last night to put the matter on the municipal election ballot. It turned down 4-1 a proposal by Mayor Robert D. Huber to also put on the ballot a proposal that councilmen be paid $25 a month. They now receive no pay.

Huber was alone in voting to put the pay measures on the ballot.

The mayor and Councilmen Michael Wornum were dissenters to the proposal for the electorate to decide on elective vs. apointive city treasurer, which was moved by Councilman George D. Monardo.

Mayor Huber said he was "completely unbiased" in proposing $25 per month pay for councilman since he will not be a candidate for re-election next April.

The only incumbent councilman who could be affected would be Joseph E. Sheeks, whose term also expires next spring. Huber pointed out that the council cannot legally vote pay for terms which have already started.

Sheeks said he would "adamantly oppose the whole idea." Other councilmen—except Huber—agreed with him.

Paul Fourman, a spectator, spoke up to suggest: When you think of the abuse you have to take without pay, think of the amount you would have to take at $25."

Wornum argued against an appointive treasurer, declaring "this is the last vestige of control on how the council spends the money."

Councilman George Blackwell pointed out that former City Treasurer E. H. Daniel recommended the job be appointive.

"We had the same problem with the city clerk when that job was elective," said Blackwell. "Then we made it appointive." (City Manager A. E. Almcrants doubled as city clerk.)

Sheeks said Mill Valley is a city where people are conscious of what goes on and if an appointive city treasurer misspent funds "there would be no lack of hue and cry."

"We have the newspapers to keep a check," added Mon-

EXPERT SEES PUSH FOR BIG SHELTERS

Nobel Winner Tells Marin Group Greatest Danger Now Firestorms

The Atomic Energy Commission likely will recommend and begin planning within the next year for large underground community shelters—to protect from 100 to 1,000 persons each.

This was the opinion expressed by Nobel Prize-winning nuclear physicist Owen Chamberlain, speaking on "Fallout and Fallout Shelters" last night at the Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur.

It came in response to a question from the audience as to whether the public was being furnished with full information regarding what type of shelter will provide the best protection from a nuclear explosion.

"Thinking in the AEC has been changing" said Chamberlain, a physicist at University of California in Berkeley. Before the advent of the huge new nuclear devices, emphasis was put on immediate blast and radioactive fallout."

Now he said, with the 100-megaton bomb boasted by Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, the greatest danger is in fire—the firestorm. He said one 100-megaton bomb could immediately set ablaze everything within 60 miles of detonation and continue to carry the fire on winds up to 150 miles per hour.

Only 300 such bombs could "literally destroy the country," he declared. The only answer, he feels, are the large underground shelters. And, to be of any protection, they would have to be air-tight with elaborate supplies of oxygen and food—"enough to last for weeks or months." He estimated a cost at $500 per person.

And when the survivors came out from underground; someone asked. The country deforestrated, water sheds gone?

"With the number of survivors," Dr. Chamberlain said,

Mother Held In Quentin Dope Ring

A Los Angeles mother of two, believed to be the chief source of an $18,000 heroin supply that trickled into San Quentin Prison since March, was headed for Marin Municipal Court today from Southern California.

Paula Huerra, 31, married and mother of two, was arrested at her home yesterday by Inspector Donald E. Midyett of the Marin County district attorney's office and two state narcotics' agents. She was held in lieu of $5,250 bail.

Midyett telephoned yesterday that he and the state agents would drive Mrs. Huerra to Marin today. No narcotics were found at her home when she was arrested.

Another woman charged with conspiring to smuggle heroin, marijuana, and peyote into San Quentin is free on $1,050 bail. She is blonde Anne Marie Kellam, 25, of Oakland. Mrs. Kellam was scheduled to be arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday but could not show up because she was ill.

A third woman charged in the Marin complaint is Marie Frances Hall, about 47, of Hayward, who has a son serving time in San Quentin.

Six inmates at the prison are accused with the three women of conspiring to smuggle dope into prison for sale to inmates.

According to the complaint, Mrs. Huerra mailed heroin

Novato Trustees Vote Pre-Election Contracts

Contracts of the three top administrative officials of Novato Unified School District were renewed for two years last night—providing the unification of Novato and San Jose Districts is approved by voters next Tuesday.

Contracts of Supt. William J. J. Smith; Ralph D. Giovannello, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, and Eugene DeBrecht, assistant superintendent in charge of business, all expire June 30, 1962. This is the day before the new unified school district would come into being if it is approved by the voters.

After meeting in an executive session, the board voted to offer two-year contracts beginning July 1, 1962 and ending June 30, 1964, to the three administrators. These contracts do not provide changes in salary or conditions of employment.

This renewal is contingent on the unification election next Tuesday being successful.

Smith had told the trustees Tuesday night that the county counsel gave the opinion there was a possibility that the board could not renew the contracts after the election, if unification passes.

This would leave the new unified district with valid contracts with the San Jose administrators, but not with the Novato administrators.

Edwin L. Blackmore, assistant to the county superintendent of schools, has stated that the new unified district must honor all administrative contracts for two years. Phillip W. Schneider, San Jose district superintendent, has a contract which runs until June 30, 1964.

Three Fasting Algerians Pose Problem

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle today faced mounting pressure from abroad to release three fasting Algerian nationalist leaders who reportedly intend to continue their hunger strike until set free.

Three Moroccan ministers sent by King Hassan II to plead with De Gaulle for the release of Mohammed Ben Bella, vice premier of the Algerian rebel government, and two rebel ministers announced last night that they were delaying their departure for home.

The announcement raised speculation that De Gaulle may be showing signs of freeing the three rebel leaders to avoid making them martyrs in Algeria's fight for independence.

Ben Bella and his fellow prisoners, Hussein Ait Ahmed and Mohammed Khider, were transferred under heavy guard from the Chateau de Turquant in the Loire Valley to Garches Hospital near Paris Monday night when French officials became concerned about their health.

The three started their fast Nov. 2, along with about 3,900 other Algerian prisoners in France who are on a hunger strike demanding better prison conditions.

Algerian spokesmen had indicated earlier that Ben Bella and his two ministers were demonstrating solidarity with all Algerians imprisoned by the French. But their attorneys made it clear that the three are fasting for their freedom. Ben Bella is determined to go on "to the end," his lawyer said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Victory Statement

MANILA (UPI) — A Manila newspaper publisher published a victory statement today by Liberal Party presidential candidate Diosadado Macapagal but Nacionalista candidate Carlos P. Garcia, the incumbent president, doggedly refused to concede defeat.

Macapagal, vice president under Garcia for the past four years, distributed his statement to newsmen yesterday for use only after Garcia conceded.

But wtih most of the vote from Tuesday's presidential election tallied unofficially, and Macapagal holding an apparently unbeatable lead, the Manila Evening News published his victory statement calling for "a better life for the masses of our people."

Refused Service

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Carl Rowan, deputy assistant secretary of state, was refused service at a Kansas City night club for an hour Wednesday night. Then the management learned his identity.

"It's not particularly embarrassing to me," Rowan said. "I've been in hundreds of incidents like this. I've been a Negro for a long time. It is disgusting, though, that these things happen."

Rowan was here to address the American Assn. of Land Grant College and State Universities.

Trains Delayed

NORDEN (AP) — Three of Southern Pacific's transcontinental passanger trains were delayed by a fire that blocked the railroad's mainline route at nearby Donner Pass last night.

An S.P. spokesman said fire which started in a section foreman's home spread to a wooden structure built over the tracks to keep them free of snow. The snow shed collapsed, blocking 1,200 feet of track in both directions.

The blocked section of track was expected to be restored to use later today.

For Brown

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, has indicated President John F. Kennedy expects to give Gov. Brown active campaign help in his re-election race next year.

Salinger also indicated the national Democratic leadership does not hold very high the chances of unseating Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, California Republican, up for reelection in 1962.

Salinger told a news conference that Kennedy has not planned anything specific on campaign help for Brown, but . . .

"Certainly the governorship of California is a very, very important race, and the administration, of course, is interested in the election of Democrats."

Airport Accident

BOSTON (AP)—Two airliners collided last night at a runway crossing on Logan International Airport.

Fifteen persons were injured, none seriously.

The collision wrecked one of the planes, a Northeast Airlines jet-prop Viscount. The entire after end of the plane was torn off, including the lounge and part of the passenger cabin.

The other plane, a four-engine DC-6, owned by National Airlines, came to a halt after the crash with its nose on the ground, the landing gear was broken and the bottom of the nose chewed.

The Northeast jet-prop had just landed after a flight from Washington and New York. The National plane was preparing to take off for New York.

A warning that the two planes were going to collide came too late.

New Storm

Bitter winds blew across miles of snow-covered countryside today behind the second storm to buffet New Mexico and Texas in three days. The new storm also hit Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Blizzard conditions lingered on the eastern Colorado plains, closing U.S. Highway 160 west of Springfield and U.S. 40 between Kit Carson and Cheyenne Wells.

Expert Says S. P. Better Equipped

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A transportation authority said yesterday Southern Pacific is better equipped to get Western products into Eastern markets at competitive prices.

"In any case, competition between railroads doesn't keep down rates," Dr. Roy Sampson, an assistant professor at the University of Oregon, said. "But competition among producers for markets does.

"In other words, the more products available for hauling the cheaper the hauling and it is obvious that the unification of S.P. and Western Pacific parallel lines would produce a greater saving than Santa Fe's plan for an end-to-end union with W.P.," Sampson said.

Santa Fe and Southern Pacific are bidding for control of Western. Dr. Sampson gave his analysis as a rebuttal witness for S.P. at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing into the case. The hearing is in its 10th week.

Decision On Eichmann May Have Been Reached

JERUSALEM (UPI) — The three Israeli judges who tried Adolf Eichmann on charges of slaughtering six million Jews appeared today to have reached a verdict.

Teams of English, French and German translators have been asked to stand by. The judgment, reportedly about 300 pages long, is expected to be stenciled in Hebrew beginning next week.

It was believed the court had finished writing it out, or had only minor additions to make. Its members held several meetings this week to discuss reconvening, it was learned last night.

The Israeli press has predicted the verdict will be read in open court Dec. 4, but a court official said yesterday no date has been set.

Other sources pointed out Dec. 4 is the beginning of the Jewish festival of Hanukkah and believed it more likely the verdict will be delivered after the holiday ends Dec. 11.

Eichmann is a former Nazi official accused of sending Jews to death camps during World War II. In the four-month trial which adjourned Aug. 14, he contended he was never an anti-Semite and that he merely followed orders as a transportation official.

When it adjourned, the court announced it would give two-weeks notice before publicly rendering its verdict. Sources said it would take three days to read the judgment.

Eichmann's German-born attorney, Robert Servatius, is due to arrive here in about 10 days for consultations with Eichmann. The two are expected to discuss the possibility the court will allow character witnesses for Eichmann to be heard before udgment is read.

Rembrandt Sells For $2.3 Million

By MILES A. SMITH

NEW YORK (AP) — Rembrandt's masterpiece "Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer" shortly will go exhibition at New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art, which last night bid it in for $2.3 million —the highest known price for a single painting.

The artist got 500 florins for it, the modern equivalent for that being $7,800.

And the National Gallery in Washington, which broke the record for auction prices for the second time in the evening, will display Fragonard's magnificently beautiful "La Liseuse," a picture of a young woman reading. The price was $875,000.

It was a record-topping night at the Parke-Bernet Galleries as 24 old masters brought $4,679,250. They were from the collection of Alfred W. Erickson, New York advertising man who died in 1936, and his widow Anna, who died last February. The auction took just under an hour.

There is no way of proving or disproving how much one painting might have brought in a private transaction at some point in history. But even guesses and rumors seldom have gone above one million to one and one-half million dollars. It never has been denied that when the late Andrew Mellon—whose pictures now are in the National Gallery—paid the Russian government 21 million dollars for seven pictures in 1932, Raphael's Alba Madonna was rated at a little more than 1.1 million dollars.

The record for a single painting at auction was $770,000 for Rubens' "The Adoration of the Magi," at a London sale in 1959. The record for a collection at auction was $2,186,000 for seven French moderns in London in 1958.

A private collector living in New York, whose name was not announced, got the third most valuable painting in the sale. It was the early Venetian Carlo Crivelli's "Madonna and Child" of 1472, the central panel of a polyptych. Other panels are in the Cleveland Museum of Art, the Brooklyn Museum and the Metropolitan, which has two.

Space Tows

PASADENA (UPI) — Ion engines some day may propel "tow trucks" in outer space to give space satellites extra speed, engineers of Consolidated Electrodynamics Corp. said in a recently published pamphlet. The ion-powered space tow trucks would haul the satellites from a low orbit on a spiral course to an orbit farther out in space and then release it.

Deadlines Near For U.S. Reds To Register

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has drawn a bead on Communist party leaders as deadlines for registering near.

The party has until Sunday to register with the department as an arm of the Soviet Union. If the party doesn't register, its officers must by Nov. 30.

Both deadlines are apt to be ignored by party leaders, who have fought the issue in the courts since passage of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy indicated in Dallas yesterday the steps his department would take if the deadlines are ignored.

If the Communist leaders fail to register "as they have indicated," Kennedy said, "they will then be subect to a $10,000 fine and a five year imprisonment."

Both the party and its leaders are subject to a fine of up to $10,000 for each day of violation. If the two deadlines are ignored there is a third: Party members must file by Dec. 20. If they don't, they face the same fine.

Also, individuals may draw a five-year prison term for each day they have not registered.

Taylor Viet Nam Aid Plans Get Go-Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is reported to have decided to go ahead with some of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's recommendations for strengthening pro-Western South Viet Nam against a growing Communist onslaught.

"We're beginning to get off the ground," a high official said.

Secrecy still obscures details of what Taylor recommended to President John F. Kennedy after returning two weeks ago from a fact-finding mission to Southeast Asia. Taylor is Kennedy's personal military adviser.

Reports from South Viet Nam indicated a number of actions already may have begun.

U.S. Air Force jets have been carrying out aerial photographic reconnaissance. The Air Force has been reported shuttling planeloads of supplies from the Philippines to airfields near Saigon. The supplies were said to include helicopters capable of carrying troops and mounting guns for low-level strafing.

There also have been reports that the Air Force is assigning several officers and men to give added instruction to the small Vietnamese air force.

Some members of the Taylor mission are known to have felt Vietnamese air power wasn't being used to its fullest advantage, even though it included only about a dozen single engine propeller-driven fighter planes and a handful of elderly transport aircraft.

To bolster this small force, it was understood a few World War II vintage B-26 bombers were being assigned to the Vietnamese.

Pentagon officials who have talked with members of the Taylor mission received an impression of something less than optimism about prospects for pulling Viet Nam out of the fire.

There was a feeling in some Pentagon quarters that the mission of the U.S. Military Advisory Group in Viet Nam should be changed, that fewer members of the group should stay in Saigon and more get out in the country to work alongside the troops and local officials at the lowest possible level.

Film Series Scheduled By Museum

Switzerland will be the theme of the first of five films in the "World Around Us" series scheduled for 1962 by the Louise A. Boyd Memorial Museum, it was announced today.

Trustees of the museum, formerly known as the Junior Museum of Marin, said the first film would be shown on Jan. 5 at the San Rafael High School auditorium. Others in the series are: Feb. 22, Tuscany; March 22, Central America; April 23, Across Tropical Africa; May 11, Russia. Tickets for the series will go on sale at the museum at 76 Albert Park Lane in San Rafael next week.

President David M. Plant told the trustees Tuesday night that a storage shed is being built with labor and materials donated by the San Rafael Optimist Club. A filter for the seal pond was purchased with funds donated by the Kiwanis Club and scientific reference books have been added to the library with money donated by the Business and Professional Mens Club.

San Rafael landscape architects Katy and Paul Steinmetz have donated a landscaping plan for the museum and plants are being donated by Egger's Nursery, Plant said.

The board was informed the museum will begin construction of new outside animal cages. Two new animals, a spider monkey and a coyote, have been given to the museum, Plant said.

The flower market in Mexico City is half a block long and it is open all night.

RAYBURN

friends when he left Washington at the end of August for what was to be his final departure.

"They're going to have to carry me out of here, God willing. I love this house," he said.

Later, when illness ravaged his body, his associates quoted him as saying he wanted to return to this community, his hometown, to end his days among "those friends and neighbors who for so long have given me a love and loyalty unsurpassed in any annals."

He was brought to this town of 7,000 persons Oct. 31 from Baylor Hospital in Dallas, 75 miles southeast of here.

A diagnosis of cancer was made shortly after he entered Baylor Oct. 2.

The ailment, originally described by Rayburn as lumbago, forced him to abandon his post as boss of the House almost a month before the last session of Congress adjourned.

It was an unprecedented thing for "Mr. Sam" to do, and friends immediately suspected that Rayburn himself feared the worst.

Last Saturday, his doctor said Rayburn had only hours or days to live. He lapsed into increasingly long periods of semi-consciousness or unconsciousness.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas and Mrs. S. E. Bartley of Bonham, and his brother, Richard Rayburn of Bonham. They are the last of a family that once numbered 11 children.

A bachelor, Rayburn's only marriage was dissolved several months after it took place in 1927.

He detested Washington's social whirl of which he had to be a part and preferred to spend his leisure evenings in his homey rooms in a Washington apartment hotel.

There he would sit for hours with friends, nibbling at a steak and sipping bourbon in moderation while watching television. He loved good food and good drink and enjoyed sharing it with his intimates.

Friends suspected that Rayburn would have been a good, or doting father. He loved children, especially boys.

"God," he once confided to a friend, "what I would give for a tow-headed boy to take fishing."

He was sensitive about two things, his lack of hair and his ill-starred marriage. He often accused photographers of focusing cameras in such a way as to emphasize his complete baldness.

He wouldn't discuss his marriage to Miss Metze Jones of Valley View, Tex., a sister of former Rep. Marvin Jones of Texas. They married on Oct. 15, 1927, and several months later the marriage was dissolved. She now is Mrs. Jeff Nelly of Amarillo, Tex.

Although a God-fearing man and a respector of all religions, Rayburn did not publicly embrace any religion until he was 74 years old. At that age he was baptized into the Tioga, Tex., Primitive Baptist Church.

Rayburn's down-to-earth political philosophy could be summed up this way:

"In politics you have to know how the people feel and what they are thinking. If you don't feel what you can't see, you are dead."

BILL FOR BABY PAID 'HARD' WAY

Papa Fred Boracchia of 364 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, proprietor of the Alpine Market in Fairfax, plunked down the cartwheels at the hospital to pay for admission of wife Gloria for arrival of the new baby.

Against the time when she and mama are ready to go home, papa has another 150 silver dollars to pay off the rest of the bill, he said.

ardo. To this Wornum replied: "It's not the duty of the newspapers to check on spending of money. It is the position of the treasurer."

"I don't know why you hesitate now," said Monardo. "You have voted to streamline everything."

Wornum retorted, "The next thing is to make the council appointive."

If the appointive treasurer proposal is approved by the voters next April, it will not take effect until the present term of City Treasurer William G. Rutherford expires in 1964.

EXPERT

"any usable land—it may do."

Chamberlain said most scientists believe there is little radioactive danger from fallout from the current "burst of activity" on the part of the Russians.

He said the effect on the average life expectancy is equivalent to about the loss of one day. Of course, he added, shorten each life by a day all over the earth and you have a 100,000 extra deaths. In Marin it means one or two deaths in the next 30 to 50 years.

Dr. Chamberlain believes that living with fallout need not be any more distressing than living with the hazards of driving, heart disease, or smoking. The body is damaged more from an airplane trip than the current fallout rate, he said.

Asked to comment on the survival series by Prof. Willard F. Libby now appearing in the Independent-Journal and Libby's $30 fallout shelter, Dr. Chamberlain said: "I think the recent Los Angeles fire answers that question . . . Such a fallout shelter would have to be very, very far away from the blast to be of any good."

He said he saw no way out of the arms race with Russia at the present time. "If we are to take our retaliatory power seriously," he said, "we must continue nuclear testing . . . Some of those tests will probably be in the atmosphere."

The talk was taped for Radio KTIM to broadcast at a later date. It was sponsored by the Ross Valley Democratic Club.

Furnace Co. Complaint In Hub City Told

Another complaint against Holland Furnace Co. salesmen was reported today in San Anselmo, and in Corte Madera the building inspector requested action against the firm for violations of the town building code.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani of San Anselmo referred to the district attorney a complaint by Mrs. Adeline Hayes of 49 Park Drive. He said Mrs. Hayes told him she paid a Holland Furnace Co. representative $10 to clean her furnace, but after taking the money he said it could not be cleaned and called a "technician" of the company named Robert Parkerson. The latter then told her the furnace would have to be replaced and offered a new one at a "special 10 per cent discount price" of $1,544. Mrs. Hayes made a $150 down payment and the furnace was installed.

William G. McBride, Corte Madera building inspector, asked Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis to initiate legal action against Holland Furnace Co. for violations of the building code. He listed three furnace installations and one thermostat installation made by the company's representatives without permits. He also charged Robert Parkerson, Paul Rouvalis and William Hill had violated town ordinance in soliciting in Corte Madera.

Town Attorney Davis, in response to a query, said he had not yet received McBride's letter, but commented, "People must defend themselves or we will end up in a welfare state."

One of the latest transactions occurred on Nov. 7 when Mrs. Kellam went to Los Angeles and got heroin from Mrs. Huerra, then kept it concealed in her Oakland apartment for delivery to the prison, the complaint alleges.

you some men who are willing to risk their lives?" And Moskalenko replied without hesitation: "I have."

But Moskalenko managed to smuggle in a submachine gun past the guards. Since the meeting was to discuss military problems, Moskalenko and his picked group were allowed into a waiting room adjoining the Politburo room.

At the meeting, members of the Politburo asked Beria to explain charges he had worked as a British agent during the revolutionary days of 1918. They also asked him to explain what happened to a party member who disappeared in the purges of the 1930s after making this accusation.

Khrushchev told Beria: "You are not a true Communist and never even joined a party organization."

Beria then pulled his gun from a brief case. Khrushchev grabbed him and tried to get the gun. Malenkov pressed a floor button, summoning Moskalenko and his group.

Beria was overpowered, put under arrest and led away.

Trial Set For Longshore Union Aide Archie Brown

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The trial of Archie Brown, San Francisco longshore union official charged with violating a federal law forbidding a Communist to be a union official, yesterday was set for Jan. 22 by U.S. Dist. Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli.

The date was agreed upon by U.S. Atty. Cecil F. Poole and defense associate counsel Norman Leonard.

Leonard said Richard Gladstein, attorney in cases involving leftist personalities, will defend Brown.

Brown was indicted May 24 on a charge of violating the Landrum-Griffin Act. The indictment charged Brown was a member of the executive board of Local 10, International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, while still a member of the Communist Party.

Brown, 50, contends the law under which he is charged not only violates his right to be a member of the union but also violates the right of the union to choose its own officers.

U.S. Has Busy Day In Space —3 New Satellites Circling

Navigation, 'Spy' Aids Get Boost

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three new United States satellites circled the globe today seeking data for navigation and spy-in-the-sky space systems.

The trio soared aloft yesterday in one of this nation's most productive days in the space age.

Two of the satellites rode skyward in the nose of a Thor-Able-Star rocket fired from Cape Canaveral last night. One is the 190-pound Transit 4-B, partially powered by a nuclear generator. The other is a 240-pound "Dumbell" package which is intended to stretch out more than 100 feet in two weeks in a satellite stabilization experiment.

The satellite twins gave the U.S. a big boost toward a space navigation network to guide ships, planes, submarines and missiles.

Earlier, the 35th rocket in the Discoverer series flung a satellite into orbit from Vandenburg Air Force Base, in another try at developing means of recovering capsules from space.

Within a few days, the Discoverer is scheduled to eject a capsule which Hawaii-based planes will attempt to snare as it parachutes to earth. Eight such capsules have been retrieved in previous tests. Perfecting the tenchnique is essential for recovering data from the Midas missile detector and Samos reconnaissance satellites.

The successes raised the total of successful U.S. satellites to 59. The Soviet Union has orbited 13.

In other missile-space developments yesterday:

A Pershing artillery missile scored its 22nd success in 26 test firings on a short-range hop of less than 220 miles from Cape Canaveral.

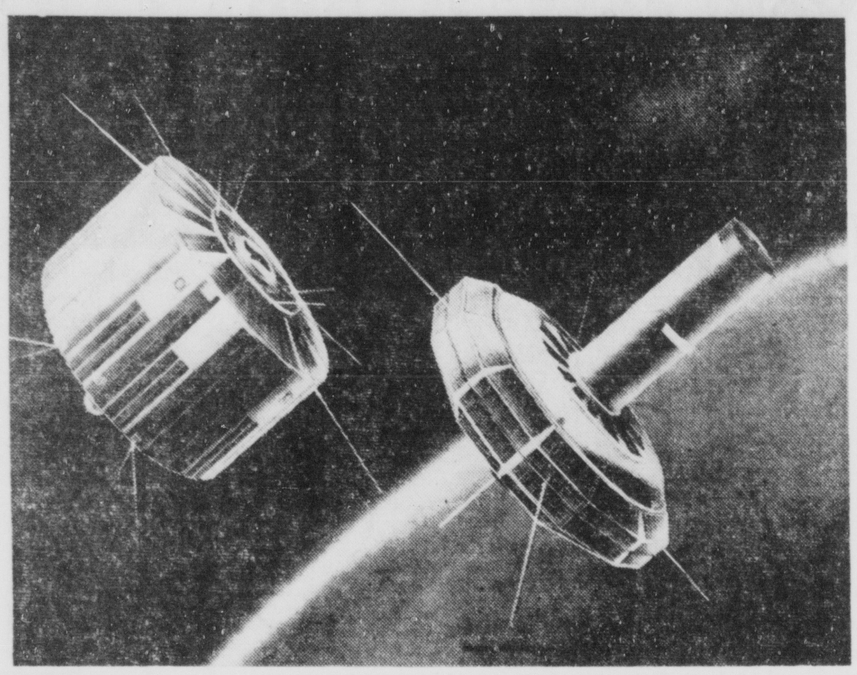

The Nike-Zeus missile killer system registered a double triumph at White Sands, N.M. In one test, Zeus radar tracked a special missile test target. In the other, the launch technique and ground electronics equipment were given a trial.

The Air Force announced plans to send into orbit next month a 10-pound satellite named Oscar (for orbiting satellite carrying amateur radio) to beam signals to more than 200,000 amateur radio operators in this country. Intended to be kicked loose from a Discoverer, Oscar will enable the hams to practice the art of tracking and observing a moving space object.

In the only failure, an Argo D-8 rocket broke apart shortly after it lifted off from Point Arguello. The shot was intended to probe briefly the Van Allen radiation belt with a parcel of instruments.

Transit 4-B is the fifth and last test satellite in the series aimed at an operational network of four transits by the fall of 1962.

The Atomic Energy Commission reported the grapefruit-sized atomic generator in 4-B is operating. The first unit of this type was aboard transit 4-A last June and gave the United States a large lead over the Soviet Union in harnessing nuclear power for space exploration.

SATELLITES LAUNCHED — The Defense Department released this drawing in Washington yesterday after a rocket was fired at Cape Canaveral in an effort to put two satellites into orbit at once. The units are the drum-shaped 4-B navigation satellite (left) and a doorknob-shaped one named Traac. (AP Wirephoto)

Labor Blasts Closure Of NWP Tunnel

Members of the Marin County Labor Council voted last night to protest abandonment of the Puerto Suello tunnel by Northwestern Pacific Railroad with consequent halt of rail service through San Rafael.

The action was taken on recommendation of County Supervisor Walter R. Castro, who dealt with a variety of problems now before the supervisors in a talk to the AFL-CIO union representatives. He proposed that council members meet with his board to discuss such matters as have been subject of recent council letters to supervisors.

Notable among these was the problem of building costs, concerning which the council has repeatedly held that some changes in official procedure might help bring down local costs and make it easier for working folk to live in Marin County.

Castro countered that costs of supplying utilities are significant in housing developments. He cited an example of a reported cost of $1,100 per house to bring water to one development now in the planning stage.

He said further study should be given such matters as building costs, the railroad tunnel closure with effect on business and industry, and the problem of the county hospital. This last, he said, might be solved by use of nursing homes or by retaining the 40-cent tax now used for the civic center and diverting it for hospital construction during the next fiscal year.

Paul Crumley of the Carpenters Union reported a slight slowing of carpenter work in the county, with resultant reappearance of an "out of work" carpenter list which had disappeared through the summer.

Lloyd Brooks of the Laborers Union said he thought the "bottom seemed to be falling out" though work was still fairly good. Omar McNally of the Machinists said his union needs skilled and semi-skilled help. Other unions had good reports.

United States Mourns Death Of 'Mr. Sam'

In a statement released after the chief executive, saddened by the death of House Speaker San Rayburn, had taken off on a trip to the West Coast, Kennedy said the nation "has lost a devoted servant and the citizens of this country an unflinching friend."

The presidential statement echoed sentiments voiced in an outpouring of sad tributes which began flowing from the Capitol immediately after the news came from Bonham, Tex., where the speaker died. (See also page 1.)

There were no party lines in the expressions of grief over the loss of the man known as "Mr Democrat." The Republicans who fought him at every step in the chambers of Congress were as outspoken in sorrow as the most loyal political followers.

Two partners of the speaker in dealing with the nation's business—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana — effectively summed up for their legislative colleagues.

Johnson's office said:

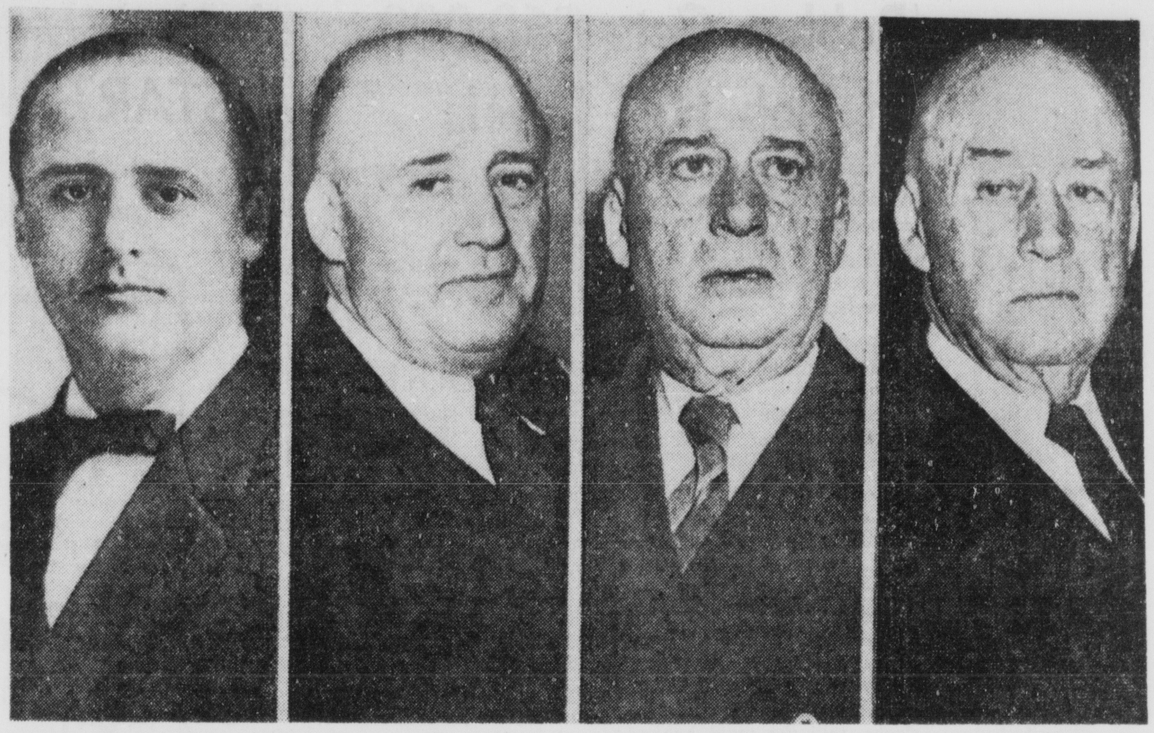

"The Capitol is a lonely place without him and the good people of the world have lost a companion and an ally. He was always there when he was needed. His voice and his judgment were heard and respected. In the end it all added up to one thing: He did what was right."

Mansfield put a similar view in these words:

"He was the last of the old frontiersmen and his place will be difficult to fill."

Former President Harry S. Truman, also a close associate of Rayburn, said at his home in Independence, Mo., "I am just as sorry as I can be to hear of Sam's passing. He was one of the great men of our time."

Former House Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, long a co-worker with Rayburn and the man who took over from the Texan when the Republicans were in control of the House, said few men have had a greater influence on our national life in recent years than Rayburn.

STEPS IN LONG CAREER — House Speaker Sam Rayburn, who died today in Bonham, Tex., is shown at various stages of his career (from left) in 1911 after becoming speaker of the House in the Texas Legislature; in 1939 as House majority leader in Washington; in 1949 after his election to speaker of the house, and as he appeared earlier this year before being hospitalized for cancer. McCormack Appears Likely To Be Speaker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A veteran Massachusetts Democrat with whom President John F. Kennedy has feuded sparodically for more than a dozen years appeared slated today to take command of administration forces in the U.S. House of Representatives.

All signs indicated that House Democrats in January will elect their floor leader, 69-year-old Rep. John W. McCormack, as speaker to succeed 79-year-old Sam Rayburn.

For a record-shattering 21 years McCormack has served behind Rayburn as the No. 2 Democrat in the House. Although he is not the most popular man in the house, many Demorats feel McCormack has earned a right to the top post because of his long party service and seniority.

The administration's legislative program undoubtedly will suffer from the change in leadership. No new speaker will have the influence that Rayburn wielded.

Reporter Helps Get Scoff Law Under Arrest

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—A gun-toting former Naval officer held off deputies who tried to serve him with traffic warrants yesterday and wound up in jail.

The retired officer, Edgar Leslie, 55, fired one shot from a .30-caliber rifle over the head of a Sonoma County sheriff's deputy before he surrendered to a newspaper reporter.

Deputy Art Loveland retreated to his car and radioed for reinforcements. Two more deputies arrived but Leslie refused to accept the warrants.

Leslie finally surrendered to Boniface Saludes, a reporter for the Santa Rosa Press Democrat. Leslie was held on charges of resisting arrest, threatening an officer and refusing to accept a warrant.

Bay Butchers Accept Three-Year Contract

More than six weeks of negotiations between butchers and retail meat dealers ended last night when 1,700 members of the Butchers Union in the Bay Area voted to accept a new three-year contract.

Included in the new agreement is a $7-a-week, across-the-board raise for the first year, $4 the second year and $3 the third year. The butchers now make $126.40 a week.

More than 300 butchers in Marin County are members of the union. The vote last night, at a meeting in the Sailors Union of the Pacific hall in San Francisco, represented 2,024 Bay Area members.

Also agreed on between the union and the Retail Meat Dealers Assn. were $2 a day premium pay for work performed before 9 a.m. and after 6 p.m., 12.2 cents an hour for straight hour time toward a medical plan, and three-day funeral leave for a death of an immediate member of the family.

The butchers had asked for, but did not get, five cents an hour toward a dental program and a ninth paid holiday, the employee's birthday.

Robber Gets $60,000 In Nob Hill Jewels

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A clipboard-bearing gunman robbed an elderly couple last night of $60,350, mostly in jewels, at their plush Nob Hill apartment.

The robber, posing as a telephone company worker, escaped with a pocketful of jewels and $350 in cash from the apartment of retired auto dealer Joseph Glikbarg and his wife.

The man tied up Glikbarg, 70, his bedridden wife, and their cook, Antoinette La Flame, after brandishing what Glikbarg described as "the biggest gun I ever saw in my life."

The robber, wearing a loose-fitting white sweater and gray slacks, told the maid he had come to repair the telephone. Once inside, Glikbarg told police, he pulled the pistol and announced, "This is a holdup."

$200,000 In Jewels Taken From Store

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Two well-dressed men, one carrying an attache case and the other a briefcase, coolly staged a $200,000 jewelry store robbery yesterday.

Ten days ago one of the men bought a jeweled cross at the store, H. L. Gross and Co. This time he strolled in with a companion and said he came to exchange the cross.

The other man informed Joseph Singer, the manager: "I am a Treasury agent. This store has been depositing phony money, and I'm here to check on it."

As Singer swung open the safe door, both men produced guns. The attache case and briefcase were filled with watches, rings and loose diamonds.

U.S. Catholic Group Says Anti-Red Extremists Aiding Communist Cause

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An agency of the U.S. Catholic hierarchy asserted today that anti-Communist extremists are "unwittingly aiding the Communist cause."

The assertion was made by the Social Action Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference in a report submitted to the annual meeting of U.S. Catholic bishops. The department is headed by Archbishop William E. Cousins of Milwaukee.

Although it mentioned no specific groups, the report expressed concern about "various U.S. anti-Communist organizations which stress the danger of internal subversion."

It said such organizations are lending unintentional aid to the Communists by "dividing and confusing Americans."

It said they also divert attention away from the real menace of "critical Communist gains in Asia, Africa and Latin America."

A recent study by the Social Action Department, the report said, showed that extreme anti-Communist organizations "often consider as Communists those who hold views and positions which most Americans consider as legitimate if controverted political attitudes."

"Some of these groups openly profess to use tactics and methods borrowed from the Communist Party," the report said. "They tend to label individuals as pro-Communist or Communist, and to harass or persecute such individuals."

A Catholic professor, Rev. Charles B. Quick of Providence College, said recently that "a substantial number of Catholics"—including priests as well as laymen—had become "dues-paying members" of the John Birch Society.

Four cardinals and 182 bishops and archbishops from all parts of the United States are attending the hierarchical meeting, which will continue through tomorrow. The assembled bishops will issue a joint statement after they adjourn. The annual statement usually deals with some current public issue.

Two Are Named To Conference

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Congressmen John Shelley and William Mailliard of San Francisco were named northern area chairmen of the White House Regional Conference today.

Shelley, a Democrat, and Mailliard, a Republican, were appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who is in charge of the regional conference.

The conference will meet in two sections, in San Francisco and Los Angeles, next Monday and Tuesday.

Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg and Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff will speak to both sessions.

College Students Tell About What They Want

College of Marin students have some pretty definite ideas of things they want at their school, the college's trustees learned yesterday at a luncheon discussion.

Among them: a college debating team, student participation in counseling high school seniors, anonymity for reporters on the campus newspaper.

The get-together at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto was initiated by Tom Schulz, student body president, "to get closer relationship between the board and students." Attending were trustees, administrators, teachers and students. Six round-table discussion groups were formed.

Elbridge (Sonny) Nestlehut said an increase of student responsibility and control of the students' own affairs is needed. He said his group felt the campus newspaper reporters should not be required to have their names appear on all items.

Margaret Deedy, daughter of board clerk Elizabeth M. Deedy, said her group was interested in having college students participate with counselors to tell high school seniors "what college is really like from a student standpoint."

Schulz said students in his group felt the college administration should be able to make the cafeteria and book store more self-supporting.

Peninsula Coordinating Group Elects

William H. Rafter of Belvedere last night was elected president of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council. Rafter represents the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. and the Bel Aire merchants on the council. He succeds Dick DeBerry as president.

Other officers elected were Dr. Fenimore Cady Jr., vice president; Fred Hannahs, secretary; Alan D. Kirchner, treasurer; Peter MacGowan, Stephen H. Nash, George Goddard, C.W. Young, and Helen Newman, directors.

Peter H. Behr, candidate opposing Supervisor J. Walter Blair in the Dec. 5 recall election, spoke to the group.

He charged that the board of supervisors, by not making policy decisions, has let the county hospital issue drift.

For economy reasons, he recommended purchasing compact cars for county use. This would not include the sheriff's cars, which should be leased, Behr said.

Ball Field Named For Custodian

Larkspur school district trustees have voted to name the district's Little League baseball field Wagner Field, after the district custodian who died on Oct. 25 while on duty.

The Larkspur-Corte Madera School student council suggested the name.

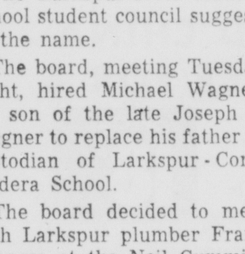

The board, meeting Tuesday night, hired Michael Wagner, 21, son of the late Joseph J. Wagner to replace his father as custodian of Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel reported refuse was being dumped over the fence onto the San Clemente School property by Mariner's Cove residents. The board instructed Seidel to send a letter to the homeowners asking they clean up the mess.

Trustees decided to hire a fulltime teacher in January to relieve teacher Lucille Cordeiro from her classroom at Larkspur-Corte Madera School. Mrs. Cordeiro will be a special language instructor for all schools in the district.

Bridge Motorists Getting Cards On Destinations

Motorists using the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge became postcard collectors today.

They're not expected to hoard the postcards, though, The California Division of San Francisco Bay Toll Crossings wants the cards back.

From today through Monday, each motorist passing through toll gates of the bridge is to receive a postcard asking the origin and destination of his trip. He is asked to answer the questions and drop the card in the nearest mail box. The state pays the postage.

The results are to be used in selecting location of a new crossing of San Francisco Bay to carry rapid transit facilities, according to the Division of Bay Toll Crossings announcement.

New Power Tools Are Space Savers

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UPI)—Going on the theory that families are getting bigger but living space is getting smaller, a firm here has announced production of a line of power tools so compact they can be stored easily in a closet or even under the kitchen sink.

Called "Compactool," the line consists of three units—a saw, drill and jointer — each of which weighs less than 40 pounds.

Rezoning Near School Is Denied

The Mill Valley Planning Commission Tuesday night unanimously denied a request to rezone the Bothin property across from Tamalpais High School from special commercial to a zoning to include retail sales and services.

Commissioners said there is already plenty of retail sales and service property in the city and to add more might create shop vacancies and depressed areas.

Francis Newton, representing Bothin, said rezoning would not devalue the existing shopping areas. He said this has been proved in other communities.

New Tam Teachers Meet Members Of Kiwanis Club

Dr. Joost Sluis, San Francisco physician, was guest speaker at a Ross Valley Kiwanis Club luncheon yesterday at which five new teachers in Tamalpais High School were introduced to the members of the club.

Introduced were Maxwell Hull, English; Edward McClellan, mathematics; Henry Marshall, physical education; Joseph McConnell Jr., history, and Mrs. Florabel Walker, English. Six more new teachers at Tam High will be introduced at the Kiwanis Club meeting on Dec. 6.

Dr. Sluis, who is a member of the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade, spoke on the communistic conversion attempt in the United States. He said Communists will try domination through philosophy, force, psychology, or trade.

He concluded that Americans have two alternatives of combating this infiltration: (1) Turn the job over to the government—which would form a type of dictatorship, or (2) each individual build up himself to combat the Communist philosophy. He strongly urged the latter.

Ross Council To Wear Two Hats

Ross Town Council will wear two hats tonight, sitting first as a planning commission and next in its council role.

Hearings on a proposed new zoning ordinance, starting at 8 p.m. in the town hall, will continue along lines followed for the past seven or eight months.

Then as council the group will undertake revisions of the Ross sales tax ordinance, to bring it in line with recent changes in state law, and will consider a grant of right of way to the Marin Municipal Water District for laying 157 feet of pipe on Winding Way.

Don't Carry It Too Far, Jayne

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Jayne Mansfield is changing the color of her hair and she says this will mark the beginning of the end of her sexy personality.

She did not indicate she was changing her equally-famous low cut gowns.

Blair Absent As Panel Debates Whether He Should Keep Office

With the subject of the topic absent, four attorneys today debated on the radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" whether County Supervisor J. Walter Blair should be recalled Dec. 5.

Mill Valley attorney Peter H. Behr, Blair's opponent, and attorney David Ring of Tiburon argued that Blair should be recalled as having failed to represent the people of the Third Supervisorial District as they wished.

Attorney's John B. Ehlen of Sausalito and Albert Bianchi of Mill Valley argued that he should be retained as an honest, conscientious official against whom recall would be a misuse of the law.

Moderator Kitty Openheimer said Blair had been invited to appear but had declined.

The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

The four panelists shared something less than a half hour to state their positions, then answered questions from the radio audience.

The program began with appearance by R. Keith Dearth, president of the Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., sponsors of the program for the past nine and one-half years, and Daniel C. Davis, president of Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

The occasion was the 500th "Sounding Board" since the series was inaugurated.

Mrs. Oppenheimer read the recall petition to the board of supervisors. It assailed Blair's votes to abolish the office of county administrator, to reduce the size of the Point Reyes National Seashore, to stop work on the civic center and to approve the Strawberry Tower Apartments.

Ring said it is "up to the people" to decide whether the recall move is fair. He said election does "not mean the officerholder is entitled to the full term of his tenure" if he does not act as the people wish.

Ehlen said recall is intended only to remove "officials guilty of misconduct or neglect of official duties," and asserted Blair has not been remiss. He denied Blair had failed to consider the wishes of the voters.

Behr backed the propriety of recall as "desirable and essential" because state law does not otherwise provide checks and balances on a supervisor who has both legislative and executive functions.

Bianchi said recall is one of the "valid and cherished tools" of government, but said Behr backers had "not charged Blair with being a crook or having his hand in the taxpayer's till." He termed Behr supporters "a small clique of self-motivated associates" and said they sought a "cure-all, patent-medicine brand of government."

At 9:30 a.m. when listener questions were delayed in reaching the studio, Behr asked Ehlen and Bianchi whether they were familiar with the preliminary or final county budget for fiscal 1962.

Ehlen replied he was not but he was sure Behr could get "adequate answers from Supervisor Blair after the election."

A listener question to Behr and Ring asked whether defeated Supervisor Vera Schultz talked of a recall at the time of Blair's election. Ring said "as far as I know this is 100 per cent false." Behr said "I don't believe it is true."

Bianchi said, "It is my understanding there was a meeting in Olney Hall at College of Marin shortly after Blair took office and other meetings before he took office."

In answer to another question, Behr charged the county now has the largest budget in its history "and it is $350,000 higher than it appears."

Ring was asked whether voters had come to Blair with requests on specific matters. He replied "Yes—and with no success."

Behr assailed Blair's vote to reduce the size of the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore from 53,000 acres to 23,000 acres as "infamous." Ehlen replied Supervisor Walter R. Castro was alone in the 4-to-1 vote for this.

Ehlen said the county tax rate had gone down seven cents this year. Ring said that while he was Mill Valley City Councilman in 1956, Behr had voted to spend "$20,000 for a drag strip."

A.F., Army Workers Get Raise

About 500 civilian employees of Air Force and Army installations in Marin will collect nine cents more per hour on their next pay checks.

The hike will mean about $100,000 per year more in the pay envelopes of the workers.

The increases are included in a general raise for civilian employees of the armed services, starting with the first pay period after Nov. 8.

About 400 are affected at Hamilton Air Force Base, 19 at the Mill Valley Radar Station, and 72 at Fort Baker, according to Air Force and Army sources here.

Foremen get an 11-cent hourly raise, with all others receiving the nine-cent boost.

Oakland Council Votes Home For Raiders

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland City Council today voted to give the homeless Oakland Raiders football team a temporary stadium next season, and a club official said that the American League entry would not change cities.

"The understanding was that we'd stick around if the city would give us a home field," general manager Wes Fry of the Raiders said.

Silent Crowd Has Its Way In Mill Valley

A dozen Mill Valleyans were poised ready to protest the modified four-lot subdivision of C. B. Redmond on Greenwood Way at the Mill Valley City Council meeting last night, but won without saying a word.

The citizens were there to protest the subdivision on the basis the road would lead up to a proposed road on Corte Madera Ridge, the latter being laid out in the North Ridge Master Plan. Redmond's attorney, Leonard Blume, asked for a continuance.

Councilmen said it was not the policy to continue such hearings and felt it especially bad when so many people had turned out on the matter. It voted 4-1 not to continue, Councilman George D. Monardo dissenting.

At this Blume said, "in that event, the applicant withdraws the matter."

A letter from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. told the council the firm has no objection to its property being annexed to the city. The land, with that of Adolph Biggio, who has also agreed to annexation, is about five acres and lies in the marshland area near city-owned land bought for the proposed small craft harbor.

After a public hearing on proposed amendments to the zoning ordinance, the council voted 5-0 to approve a planning commission recommendation to prohibit service stations in professional-administrative districts.

It voted not to amend the variance procedure regarding substandard lots which would allow the council to confirm or deny action of the planning commission. It voted to change the height limitation for building to allow part of a building to exceed the specified limit.

The council voted to amend the ordinance to process planned unit development on lands adjacent to the city and due to be annexed in the same manner as provided for city land. It referred to the planning commission for further study a proposal for automatic setback for parking structures and decks.

The council also:

1. Introduced a proposed sewer ordinance by title only.
2. Referred to city engineer Stanley M. Bala a request from Sherill Brodie asking the city to consider acceptance of fill from Enchanted Knolls point in a possible exchange for Brodie's firm leasing some city land.
3. Directed City Manager A. E. Almcrants to report at next meeting possibilities of setting up a subcommittee, to include Tamalpais Valley, to pursue the matter of the drainage problems of Corte Madera Del Presidio and Coyote creeks.
4. Heard that police chief Dan Terzich is working on a police training course with other cities after which mayor Robert D. Huber commended work of police reserve officers as well as amateur radio operators who have worked with the police.
5. Decided to place a stop sign on the northwest corner of Cornelia Avenue at the intersection with Lovell Avenue.
6. Asked Bala to prepare plans for annexation of 12 Country Club Drive properties and that city attorney Leland H. Jordan forward information to the boundaries commission.
7. Voted 4-1, Councilman Monardo voting "no," to permit A. R. Larson to subdivide a lot at 121 Lomita Drive to give him two substandard lots, each lot to be slightly short of the total necessary area.
8. Approved warrants of $28,879.

DINOSAURS CAN BE PAIN IN THE NECK

Three-year-old Irwin Horn discovered yesterday that there are no dinosaurs under his back porch in Tamalpais Valley.

Irwin poked his head under the bottom step of the back porch of the home at 351 Linda Way at 3:10 p.m. When he tried to withdraw it, it was stuck. He yelled.

Mrs. Robert H. Horn tried to release her son but found him stuck fast. She called the Tamalpais Valley Fire Department.

Fire Chief Herbert Owen raised the step and freed Irwin.

"What were you doing, anyhow?" Mrs. Irwin asked her weeping son.

"Looking for dinosaurs," he replied.

Mrs. Doyle Was Not At Meeting

Mrs. Agnes Doyle was not present at a Belvedere City Council meeting Monday night at which the council voted a resolution rescinding its censure of her at a Sept. 11 meeting and extending its apology.

The Independent-Journal reported in error Tuesday that Mrs. Doyle was present the preceding night.

What Becomes Of Patients If County Farm Condemned?

By RANDALL GOULD

Marin County supposedly has just 20 nursing home beds available for patients at this time.

The condemned county hospital has 71 bed patients.

Nearby counties which have been recently checked have virtually no extra beds available.

These three facts today summed up results of check by County Medical Director Rafael G. Dufficy Jr. and his staff in view of the state's threat to suspend the county hospital license Dec. 31.

Told that his facts spelled one big question — "what to do?"—Dufficy said:

"We don't know."

But as is Dufficy's wont, there was quick elaboration:

"As of right now we haven't got the answer, though we've been mighty busy trying to find some course if the license is lost. The supervisors say they will make a decision, but so far it hasn't come.

"Clearly it is not going to be easy and perhaps it isn't going to be possible to find beds outside the hospital.

"Such being the case I will say one thing. Even with the license gone, I'll fight against pulling the patients out if beds aren't available.

"The welfare of the patients comes first and I think even a court would agree. In any case, if the license is lost the state will give what it calls 'a reasonable time' for us to find other accommodation. Then, if we haven't moved, they can bring an injunction.

"But all this takes time. We will be doing our best. Clearly, though, it would be inhumane to move those patients into sub-standard care."

Dufficy said his survey of the "beds available" situation has so far taken in Sonoma, Napa and Contra Costa Counties. He found a few beds available in Sonoma County, none in the other two.

This seemed odd, he added, because "in Sonoma the county authorities are in quite a bind themselves. So we must investigate and see why they are not using those beds. The reasons might prevent us from using them, either."

Even in Marin County, it has been Dufficy's policy to refuse to put patients into some nursing homes authorized for reception by state approval but not up to what he felt the patients required.

Dufficy said that he's not concerned about money at this emergency stage. Others, however, are doing some fast thinking on that subject.

Welfare Director Betty L. Presley said it is far from clear as to whether after Jan. 1 the county can expect medical aid for the aged.

Administrator Alan Bruce said it is uncertain whether even in such a scheme as proposed by Frank E. Marsh, for private provision of beds at $400 per patient a month, it would be possible to use state medical aid money plus a special county contribution to make up the $400.

"It's supposed to be a matching formula of 50 per cent federal, 25 per cent state and 25 per cent county," explained Miss Pressley. "If the county goes beyond 25 per cent—well, we just don't know.

"Even more important to me in any situation of farming out the patients, perhaps to other counties, is control of medical care. What social work and medical review of the placement every three months?"

Smoking Effects Class At School

A two-week program to acquaint students with the effects of smoking started yesterday at Vallecitos School in Terra Linda.

The Marin Medical Society is sponsoring the program under direction of Dr. Gerald Hill. It includes a film strip and teaching outline provided by the American Cancer Society. Various volunteer members of the Marin Medical Society are presenting the film and talks, followed by a question and answer period for seventh and eighth graders at Vallecitos School.

Community Shelter Called Cheapest, Best

The group shelter tested in Nevada—the only shelter ever subjected in this country at least to actual bomb test—was a quonset hut type of structure, a multiplate corrugated steel arch set on a concrete slab, and placed in the ground.

Its top came about level with the edge of the hole; it was covered with several feet of dirt.

Atomic Energy Commission scientists and technicians stayed inside it while an A-bomb, about equal in power to the one that fell at Hiroshima, was set off atop a tower about one mile away.

This community shelter was equipped with bunks (one bed for each two persons), dining and recreation room, toilets, an antenna and periscope, air intake and filter, air exhaust vent, water supply and food stocks, a gasoline-driven electric generator, oxygen supply, and an emergency sand-filled exit, among other items.

Built for the AEC at a cost of $2,500, it was designed to withstand blast pressure of 35 pounds per square inch, and to reduce the intensity of fallout radiation about 10,000-fold from the immediate area above the shelter.

It can sustain 100 persons for 14 days to a month. All 100 of them could get inside the shelter within five minutes by filing in quickly. It can be completely buttoned up or sealed for three hours—as it might be in a firestorm—or for a week when the outside air is used.

Built privately, this shelter might coust about $5,000 now if undertaken by a neighborhood group. The estimate of $5,000 includes equipping it with radiation meters and other essential equipment. Beyond that, the neighbors would still have to contribute food, blankets and other supplies.

Such a community shelter would be very effective, and far more comfortable than the economical poor man's shelter which is designed solely to keep you alive.

This type of shelter could also be used in ordinary times as a clubhouse, recreation hall or meeting place for social functions. It certainly need not be considered an emergency building in case of attack.

Building it involves selecting and buying a site, meeting zoning requirements, getting approval of the Civil Defense Office, perhaps a bank loan, and engaging a reliable contractor.

Designs for community shelters are available from your local office of Civil Defense.

Hub Mother, Children In Fair Condition

A San Anselmo mother and two children injured in an automobile accident yesterday were reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Mrs. Barbara Currie, of 100 Oak Springs Avenue, and her children, Debbie, 5, and Randy, 12, were held at the hospital after their car slammed into a tree. A third child, Bill, 13, was released yesterday after treatment for minor injuries.

Contaminated Food Being Looked Into

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—At least six California agencies are making plans to protect people from contaminated food in the event radiation fallout increases to the danger point.

Dr. John Heslep, acting chief of the State Bureau of Radiological Health, said yesterday, "we cannot foresee any reason to be concerned about radioactivity in our food commodities."

But he added that since the resumption of Russian nuclear testing we are beginning to see a pickup of radioactivity in food, especially in crops of short production duration like milk."

Heslep said that although radiation fallout levels "would have increased many fold over what we see now" to harm foodstuffs, state officials had decided to begin "making plans against any contingency."

Charles Paul, state director of agriculture, said his department is conducting research on the washing of food in the field to remove contamination.

Paul said the state, with federal help, is taking an inventory of all stored and canned foods available to the state.

"Within 30 days we'll have a complete inventory of every mouthful of food in California," he said.

Paul said these six state agencies were taking part in the planning: The state departments of agriculture, water resources, fish and game and public health, the University of California and the state atomic energy coordinator.

In its early days, Fort Huachuca was an outpost of civilization in the southern Arizona Territory, with the mission of keeping the Indian tribes on their reservations and patrolling the border between Mexico and the United States.

Jewish Leader Praises JFK On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Washington attorney told Reform Jewish leaders yesterday that the Kennedy administration "did as much for civil rights in its first eight months as the previous administration did in its entire eight years in office."

This appraisal was made by Joseph L. Rauh Jr., a leader of Americans for Democratic Action, in an address before the General Assembly of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

Rauh added, however, that the Kennedy administration has made only "a very small beginning" on the "tremendous task" of securing the civil rights of Negroes and other minority groups in America.

"The record is good or the record is bad, depending on whether one looks forward or backward," he said.

On the "good" side, Rauh credited President John F. Kennedy with "setting a new moral tone for America by speaking out unequivocally and often against discrimination and segregation" and "making clear that they are not only illegal but immoral."

But Rauh said the administration's performance must be weighed against its own promises — and also against "the size of the job to be done." And in that scale, he said, the record is not so good.

RETURNED FOR RANSOM—Tony Hewitt, 8, hugs his toy poodle, Peaches, at his La Puente home after the dog was returned by a youth who demanded—and got—$25. The dog was snatched from Tony by two unknown teen-agers and returned after the ransom was paid. (AP Wirephoto)

Teen-Agers Reported Taking Dogs --Receiving Ransom For Return

But there's no one to thank: Tony's mother had to pay $25 ransom to a teen-ager.

The Pasadena Independent today reported this story of Peaches' abduction and return:

Tony was walking to the candy store with Peaches and a chum when a car pulled up Sunday afternoon. Two teen-agers jumped out, grabbed the dog, told Tony, "We're taking him for a ride"—and left the child in tears.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Hewitt, Tony's parents, summoned police. But no clues turned up. Hewitt, a cement contractor, says the dog is worth $350. Youths have been stealing dogs from neighbors, Hewitt says, and selling them.

On Monday, Mrs. Hewitt went to the scene of the crime, a nearby bowling alley parking lot. She asked several teen-agers about the dog. They shook their heads.

Then she offered $25 reward, and one youth said: "I may be able to help—but I don't want to get mixed up with the law."

Mrs. Hewitt promised not to identify him to police, and the boy, about 16 or 17, left. That night Mrs. Hewitt heard from an anonymous, but apparently youthful, phone caller, who said: "You can get the dog back if you'll meet me in three minutes at a church parking lot."

Mrs. Hewitt rushed to the lot. Minutes later, the boy appeared with Peaches and demanded $25 ransom, saying it has to go to the boys who stole the dog. Mrs. Hewitt gave him the money. The boy returned the dog and fled.

Today Hewitt is offering $50 reward for arrest of the dog-napers, but adds: "I don't want anything done to the boy who returned the dog."

NEW YORK (UPI)—American motorists soon may be able to get their coats as well as their windshield cleaned at the local gas station. Whirlpool Corp. said it will install coin-operated dry-cleaning machines in seven American Oil Co. service stations and later may expand the service to American's 29,000-station chain.

Bible Society Asks $400,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Bible Society has been asked to set aside $400,000 to buy and distribute Bibles to overseas areas where communistic, atheistic literature is being passed out.

The society's council, at the close of its annual meeting yesterday, urged the expenditure, adding: 'All over the world people are choosing either atheism, materialism, or the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Millions may choose Christianity if we can reach them with copies of manuscripts in their own languages."

Christopher Would Do Well To Study McCarthy First

There have been violently obvious signs recently of trial balloons being launched about San Francisco Mayor George Christopher's candidacy for Republican lieutenant governor.

Now we haven't anything to say at this point about Mayor George Christopher. The fact is he's one of the backbones of Marin's dairy industry.

But we do want Neighbor George to realize that already in the field for the lieutenant governorship on the GOP ticket is a man with 10 times the knowledge of state affairs, 10 times the experience with legislation in Sacramento, 10 times the ability to handle the affairs of the State Senate (the principle job of the lieutenant governor).

We're not bashful about whom we mean. We've said it before and we'll say it again:

We're for Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy for lieutenant governor of California.

Jack McCarthy has the knowledge and the experience and the ability that are needed in the state's No. 2 position.

Now it well may be that Mayor Christopher has hidden talents which he may call to our attention; we may have to reassess his qualifications for the job at some future time.

But we hope that Mayor Christopher thoroughly considers the abilities and qualifications of Senator McCarthy, considers too McCarthy's proven ability to carry the standard of the Republican Party, before he makes up his mind as to whether he should be a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Neighbor George would find himself in a real fight with a man who knows all the ropes, and with the strength to pull them.

Fiery Leaves Of A Dry Fall

Have you noticed the autumn colors in Marin this year? Richer, more vividly colorful than usual, we think. We hear the Napa Valley vineyards are particularly beautiful this fall. That's always a good November drive.

The rich, fiery colors are typical of a dry autumn. Nature's vivid shades do not like watering down. The chemical reactions which produce the beautiful reds, oranges and purples are best initiated in dry weather.

Since it would be difficult to imagine a more dry or dusty fall than this one, it follows that the colors this November are especially lovely.

CHESS PLAYERS TAKE THEIR TIME

A chess match that started in 1926 is still edging towards its conclusion. The competitors were both students at Glasgow University when they began their unhurried game.

Undeterred by the fact that one player has long since moved to Australia, they exchange moves by mail. A single move each year is all that is allowed, meaning that each of them has 2 years in which to deliberate.

The thoughtful opponents optimistically predict that the issue will be decided by 1976.

Seldom does anything in our quickly changing era take so long to complete as this round-the-world chess game. But no matter how much time it takes, it is only a flash compared to the eternity of happiness that God has prepared for those who serve Him well on earth.

Pray, think and act on behalf of others in the light of your eternal destiny and you will be sure of winning the only game that counts.

"And this is the promise He has promised us, life everlasting." (1 John 2:25)

Let me treat each person, O Christ, as someone with whom I share the endless joys of heaven.

Let's Not Use First Names

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have developed an irritation which I feel might be shared by others than myself in this area.

Why, do you suppose, in this area in particular, there are those characters who feel compelled to address even a total stranger by their FIRST NAME?

Twice within the past few weeks, I have run down two flights of stairs to answer the phone to total strangers, who within two minutes addressed me by my first name. In both instances, I was meant to be a prospective CUSTOMER.

Can it be that this is supposed to be a new selling technique? If so, I should indeed keep a list of those offensive characters, and be certain not to buy from them.

Then there are those whom you meet for the first time and before the evening is over remark chummily, "Let's use first names." Why? First names are for old, tried friendships. A first name is a very personal belonging and meant to be shared by those we have loved over the years. Are people just simply too LAZY to say Mr. or Mrs.?

Personally, I dislike a person who addresses me by my first name without being invited to, as wholly as one who might ask if they could have lunch at my house — without being invited!

Psychiatric Unit At S.R. General

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The letter of Mr. Campbell Oct. 31 raised an important issue about which both the physicians of Marin County and the staff at San Rafael General Hospital have been actively concerned.

The county has been sending mentally ill patients to Napa State Hospital for observation for many years, particularly when an issue of acute, serious mental illness is involved; or when the patient is possibly dangerous to himself or others.

The letter of Mr. Campbell implies that none of these patients is cared for locally without recourse to Napa. Actually, a significantly large percentage of seriously mentally ill patients can and have been cared for in San Rafael General Hospital, as well as in Marin General Hospital and in Ross General Hospital.

For instance, sometimes after an operation, a patient becomes disturbed, depressed, irrational, etc. Many of these and similar patients are and should be cared for locally and not carted off willy-nilly to be deposited in that huge institution at Napa. Of course, in some cases, local facilities are not extensive or adequate enough for local care, which should be remedied.

To that end, that patient care be improved and extended, San Rafael General Hospital recently organized a psychiatric section of the medical service, in which many patients can be cared for without the stigma of a mental hospital or psychiatric hospital. We hope that some arrangement can be worked out whereby patients who require some legal observation or supervision can be cared for under arrangement with the Board of Supervisors.

Kuchel Casting Pro-Socialist Vote

EDITOR,

According to a report from Washington, D.C., the Democrats are having a difficult time finding a candidate willing to oppose Sen. Thomas Kuchel come next election time.

Just why the Democrats would want to get Senator Kuchel out of office is a puzzle to this Republican. I have never been able to see any difference between "tax and spend" Democrat Clair Engle and his "tax and spend" buddy Republican Senator Kuchel.

My opnion about the recent New Jersey governorship contest is that New Jersey Republicans couldn't get enthusiastic about a New Deal Republican, and that handed the victory to his Democratic opponent.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York has just conned the deluded people of his state into blowing 100 million dollars on useless fallout shelters. The eminently qualified publisher of the Scientific American magazine, just told the truth about shelters.

If Governor Rockefeller, Senator Javitts of New York, Senator Case of New Jersey, Senator Kuchel and the other New Dealing Republicans are allowed to dictate Republican Party policy, that is surely going to spell the end of a one time good party.

The Conservative Party in Britain did not defeat the Socialists (read Demo-Socialist for America) and return to power there, until they woke up and abandoned their mistaken "me too" aping of the Socialists.

I have very small hope that Senator Kuchel will change his tax and spend, pro-socialist public power voting policy. He appears to this Republican to be far more interested in getting re-elected than he is in being a principled supporter of an honest free-enterprise Republicanism.

Sabotaging the system that made this country great is a disservice to the American people.

Sleeping Pills For Dr. Libby?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I see in today's I-J (Nov. 9) that Dr. Willard Libby is unruffled by the cave-in of his $30 fallout shelter in the great L. A. firestorm. I'm relieved to learn that he still has faith.

In yesterday's Libby "You Can Be Safe" column, published in your paper, Dr. Libby suggested taking sleeping pills as a way to reduce boredom while sitting out the fallout danger. But would he be able to choose between fallout and firestorm if the worst should hit L. A.?

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A revenue agent, hot on the trail of a West Virginia whiskey still, suddenly heard a shot, and something grazed his left arm. Undaunted, the agent continued forward, whereupon a second shot whistled through his coattails. When a third bullet, neatly puncturing his slouch hat, still failed to halt him, a voice from the woods sounded.

"One more step, mister," it warned grimly, "and I begin takin' aim!"

Want the real low-down on what ails us all?. Tony Randall says the trouble with many Americans today is that "they confuse sex for love, money for brains, and plumbing for civilization."

The Way Those New Yorkers Talk Confuses A Northern Californian

By BUD SPRUNGER
(For Hal Boyle)

Friend of mine from the Southwest couldn't get a doughnut. They kept handing him something with jelly in the middle—where the hole is supposed to be. Finally he found out that in this spot the word for doughnut is cruller.

Arriving from San Francisco, I made the mistake of asking for a snail with my coffee. The dudes turned sort of green before I corrected that to butterhorn. They figured that out but told me in the future to ask for Danish.

Other translations are not quite as difficult. Almost any tourist can figure that hotcakes on the menu are pancakes.

But you can get mixed up in the names of meals. In the Midwest, Southwest, West and South we say supper for the last meal of the day, but around here it is dinner. And so they won't get confused, they say lunch when they mean dinner.

And, oh yes, around here they call a waitress Miss, not Mam, as in the Southwest.

By and large these folks speak English pretty well, but they do have a lot of trouble with the word bring. They hand you something and say "bring it over there." Apparently the teachers around here don't drill their kids on the verb take.

New Yorkers go to business, while the rest of us go to work. Maybe they just don't work as hard here. I don't know.

You never hear of them going to the city, either. Just about everybody in Northern California goes to the city when they go to San Francisco, which they pronounce San Frencisco. But here suburbanites say they are going to New York, and those that live in boroughs other than Manhattan say they are going to town.

CLOTHING CAN cause you trouble, too. I wanted a pair of Levis the other day and some clerk was trying to be helpful. After I had tried out overall pants and jeans on him, he finally convinced me that what I wanted was a pair of dungarees. Turned out he was right.

Maybe the trouble here is the schools. The kids around here don't get grades. No, sir. What they get are marks.

AND ALTHOUGH that bring and take thing floors them, the Eastern kids go to grammar or elementary schools instead of grade schools.

When they go to a grocery, they haul home a bag of food when they should be getting a sack. Or, as they say in Tennessee and Kentucky, a poke.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Does Recall Election Boil Down To Difference Between Honesty, Savvy?

When I was a little boy in Seattle it had the first city-wide strike in the history of the nation. A few years later the citizens recalled Mayor Frank Edwards.

Just graduated from University of Washington, I came to San Francisco to encounter the second general strike in the nation.

Now I work in Marin where 3,150 of the 19,285 registered voters of the Third Supervisorial District have petitioned to recall Supervisor J. Walter Blair. The election will be Dec. 5.

IN ITS FACT sheet for November, the Recall Blair Committee notes:

"Recall does not imply malfeasance or criminality — these are properly the province of the grand jury and the courts.

"Although relatively uncommon, recall is not unique. There have been two recall elections in the Bay Area recently, one in Albany, one in San Leandro. Currently a recall movement is underway in Monterey (city)."

In Albany, Mayor Kathie Zahn was recalled last Jan. 17.

BLAIR AND HIS opponent, Peter H. Behr, had been scheduled to address a meeting recently in Tamalpais Valley, reputedly a Blair stronghold. Blair people said he could not attend. Attorney Albert Bianchi spoke for him.

Real estate man Stephen Kramer, who helped nominate Blair in 1960 and joined the recall movement against him in 1961, spoke for Behr. Behr attended and answered some questions.

Bianchi pointed to Kramer's acknowledgement of Blair's honesty and said he only had carried out his election platform.

He termed the recall petitions "a minority," as Blair earlier had dismissed scores of persons opposing the projected high-rise Tower Apartments on Strawberry Point as "pressure groups."

Backing Blair presumably are the same persons interested in large-scale commercial development of land as heretofore have supported him.

BACKING BEHR (as indicated by the publication in Mill Valley of the names of the recall petition signers) are a variety of professional persons, artisans, trades unionists and persons in public life including city officials of Sausalito and Mill Valley.

A point made at the Tam Valley meeting was Kramer's assertion that in such things as the civic center stopwork dispute and the vote to abolish the county administrator's office, though most California counties have an administrator, Blair had "acted first and investigated later."

He said this was the opposite of what was wanted of a supervisor. He said honesty wasn't enough; savvy also was wanted.

COLUMNIST Heywood Broun wrote in 1934 regarding a government committee to be sent to San Francisco to deal with the Pacific coast waterfront strike that he disagreed with just sending a good committee. "Let's send an intelligent committee out there," he said.

It seems to me (to borrow the late Broun's column title) that most of the more vociferous persons at the Tam meeting were asking that a comparatively more qualified person represent their district.

Yale-trained trial attorney Peter H. Behr, whose four years as Mill Valley city councilman are still praised, appeared to be their man.

Decision On Testing Must Be Left To Man With Facts—The President

WASHINGTON—The Soviet nuclear explosions, which have been in the open air, have posed the question of our resumption of testing in the open air. The President's statement of Nov. 2 deals with this question and, so it seems to me, defines it accurately.

Since the Soviet Union has broken off the negotiations for a treaty, the United States must decide for itself whether, when, how, and how often it needs to conduct open air tests in order to protect its vital interests and its essential responsibilities.

These decisions have to be made here in Washington. They cannot be made by the United Nations in New York because the United Nations cannot meet our paramount responsibility should we become unable to meet it.

OUR PARAMOUNT responsibility is to maintain the nuclear force needed to preserve without question the nuclear balance of power. If we do that, co-existence will continue to be practiced and a world war will continue to be highly improbable. We can, therefore, never take the chance of losing the race of armaments, and the question of testing must be decided by that criterion.

This is, as I understand, the position taken by the President. He will resume testing in the open air if and as it is necessary to the maintenance of our "relative position." He will not resume testing in order to make a big noise, or propaganda or psychological warfare.

HE WILL NOT, I take it, order a test because some group of nuclear scientists and weapons makers have had a bright idea which they would like to try out. If the United States tests in the air, it will be only because it deems the tests essential to maintain the balance of power.

This means that the decisions will have to be made by the President, that they cannot be made by public debate.

It is not only because the President has the final responsibility. It is also because he is the only man with complete access to all the knowable facts. Whether, when, and how to test is not something that can be decided by the governor of New York or by members of Congress or by editors and columnists, or by the man in the smoking car. None of them can know enough.

TO TEST OR NOT to test will not be one decision, but many. There will be a long series of questions to be decided specifically in the circumstances. Only the President can make these decisions because only he can know the true condition of our own armaments and of our own technological capability. Also, he knows what our best intelligence believes about affairs in the Soviet Union.

The recent tests are an admission by the Soviet Union that they are far behind us. But the Soviet Union is already a sufficiently great nuclear power to hold up its end in the balance of terror.

Unification Won't Affect Building Plans

(This is the third of a series of four articles on various aspects of the proposed unification of Novato Unified and San Jose Elementary School Districts, on which voters in the two districts will ballot next Tuesday.)

By THERON A. NEWELL

If the voters approve unification of San Jose Elementary and Novato Unified School districts next Tuesday, it will not affect the building program of either district in the elementary and intermediate grades.

Supt. Phillip W. Schneider said the San Jose district has caught up with classroom needs temporarily.

"Of course we have Bel Marin Keys being developed. That will call for another school probably sometime in the next year or two," Schneider said.

The Novato Unified district, on the other hand, has elementary building needs right now, according to the program outlined by Novato Supt. William J. J. Smith.

Rancho School needs expansion of probably six classrooms and a multipurpose room. Lu Sutton School needs a multipurpose room. Some expansion is needed at Olive School.

In addition, the Novato district is faced with starting another elementary school. This could be at the high school location or on a new site on Sutro Avenue, depending on how the population moves, Smith said.

Hill Intermediate district is completing an intermediate school which will take care of the needs of that area for seventh and eighth grades for some time.

The big building problem, if the districts unify, will be for high school.

Part of the problem, Smith said, could be solved by building a graphic arts building at Novato High. He suggested a building of about 3,600 square feet costing around $54,000. It could be used for art classes, ceramics, wood working, etc. Or another wing of six classrooms could be added to the high school at a cost of about $78,000, Smith said.

"Of course, it will depend on what the new school board thinks is the most urgent," he remarked. "It could take a gradual method of absorbing the high school students, or make a crash program out of it."

San Jose District now has a tax rate of $3.05 per $100 assessed valuation for operations, plus 33 cents for bond retirement, a total of $3.38. In addition, San Jose District residents pay a total rate of $1.63 to San Rafael High School District, including 29 cents for bond retirement. This makes a total school tax rate in that district of $5.01.

Novato District residents pay a total rate to their unified district — which includes high school—of $4.72 per $100 assessed valuation. This includes 66 cents for bond retirement.

If the tax rates were evened up, San Jose residents would probably pay about 16 cents per $100 assessed valuation less in a new unified district, while Novato residents would pay an increase of about eight cents.

Both districts have authorized bonds, some of which they are eligible to sell at present and some which cannot be sold until the future.

The San Jose district has $259,000 in bonding capacity left, according to Superintendent Schneider. It is eligible to sell $89,000 of these now. The district's bonded indebtedness is $237,000, Schneider said.

Novato Unified district voters have authorized $1,500,000 in bonds for future construction. Of this amount, the district is attempting to sell $207,000 before the election, which are all the bonds it is eligible to sell now. The district has $1,728,000 bonded indebtedness against its bonding limit of $1,935,000.

"The San Jose bonds can be sold after the election, but not Novato's," said Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to the county superintendent of schools.

"The law reads that a unified district may sell the bonds of any elementary or high school district that becomes a part of it," he said. As Novato is already a unified district, this would not apply to its bonds, he said.

It was probably the intent of the lawmakers to make it so that a unified district could sell all authorized bonds of its component districts when it unified, but they probably did not think of a unified district becoming part of another unified district, Blackmore surmised.

A new district would of necessity go to the voters soon to ask for another bond issue, both superintendents agreed.

"San Jose would be out of bonds if another major project came along, like a school at Bel Marin Keys," Schneider said.

Novato voters would however, not be asked to vote more bonds for some time if the districts remained separated, according to Smith.

The new district would be in line to benefit both from the state and federal government money if the unification passed.

On the state level, the state offers a "bonus" in its allotments over a five-year period to new unified districts, Smith said.

"This has been estimated between $225,000 and $300,000, probably around $250,000" for the first year, Smith said. It would decline through the following four years.

The San Jose Elementary district is getting $193.41 from the federal government for each student that lives on federal property. The new unified district would get $227.37 each for these same students, according to Schneider.

There are 1,063 of these children attending San Jose schools. This would mean additional revenue or $36,142 per year for the new district.

San Rafael High School District is now receiving $370.66 per student living on federal property. Raymond J. Simpson, assistant superintendent for business services of San Rafael schools, estimates that half of the 400 students now attending San Rafael High School from the San Jose district belong in this classification.

In summary, the new district would gain money in the current operating expenses by the unification. However, it would lose bonding capacity from the Novato district, necessitating call for another bond election.

(Next: What if voters reject unification?)

Episcopal Bishop Due In Marin

Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California, will be guest speaker at a Marin County Council of Churches, ecumenical worship service at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The service will mark the beginning of the Third Assembly of the World Council of Churches to meet in New Delhi Saturday through Dec. 6, announced Rev. Bliss W. Bellinger, president of the Marin Council and pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, Terra Linda.

"The purpose of this gathering, to which the public is invited," said Pastor Bellinger, "is to search for and discuss the common basis we have for Christian unity on a county-wide basis." He said Bishop Pike would discuss "the importance of the present-day ecumenical movement and relate it to the local responsibility of each Christian and his congregation."

"Spokesmen for the ecumenical movement look to the New Delhi Assembly as a major step in the reunification of Christendom," said the Terra Linda pastor.

Uruguay Social Worker Visits Juvenile Hall

A pretty, young social worker from Uruguay, studying juvenile problems in the United States, walked away with first prize for popularity at Marin Juvenile Hall on Tuesday afternoon.

"They made a flag and a map of my country in honor of my visit," she said delightedly. "This is the only place I have visited that such a nice thing has happened."

Her tour, sponsored by the State Department, began in New York in June and has included Boston, Chicago and Minneapolis prior to her arrival in San Francisco last Sunday.

"I saw street gangs in Chicago," she said, obviously awed by the enormity of juvenile problems in the nation's large cities. "The whole thing is so much bigger than it is in my country."

Educated through high school in Montevideo, the one-million-population capital of her country, she went to college in Switzerland and France. She now works for the Movimiento Naconal Gustave Volpe, a private agency named for an Uruguayan student, Gustavo Volpe, who was killed six years ago by a young delinquent while Volpe was defending a friend from a street thief.

After a day of meetings yesterday with the juvenile hall staff, she appeared no different from any other tourist — her Leica aimed eagerly at the Lucas Valley hills.

"How beautiful!" she said repeatedly. "What surroundings for such a place. They will never believe these pictures in my country. No wonder the children here look so happy."

One last question: Did she ever plan to be married?

"Of course," she said brightly. "Who doesn't?"

Coin-Operated Machines For Dry Cleaning Coming To San Rafael

Some industry sources estimate that consumers will spend $60,000 next year to have their clothes dry cleaned in coin-operated machines.

This do-it-yourself service will soon make its entry into San Rafael at the Montecito One Hour Cleaners where Roy and Gladys Okerstrom are having eight RCA Whirlpool coin-operated machines installed on the Mall in the Montecito Shopping Center—around the corner from their present establishment but connected with it.

The operation is quite easy, Okerstrom says. Simply weigh your garments on the scale provided and be sure there are no more than eight pounds per load — the maximum the machine can handle efficiently. Close the door, put in $2 (eight quarters) and relax for 50 minutes. When the cycle is completed the door opens automatically and garments are ready for removal — cleaned, dried and with no more wrinkles than they had at the start.

Same cleaning detergent is used as in professional cleaning. Okerstrom figures an eight-pound batch of dresses, sweters, etc. can save you $9.60 from having his own operators do the job. The Okerstroms are on hand to give special advice on handling.

The operation should be ready to go by the end of the month.

Hickey Acting Like Viennese Analyst

"Things weren't always like this," he tells his warriors, wounded in pride and body, as they prepare for Sunday's National Football League clash with the Chicago Bears.

He's showing them movies of their finest hours — their 49-0 trouncing of Detroit and 35-0 shellacking of Las Angeles in October. To the 49ers, that seems a long time ago.

San Francisco was sitting atop the football world a month ago but they've lost three and tied one in their last four games.

"The boys are working hard," Hickey says, "and I'm trying to encourage 'em. There never has been any apparent lack of effort."

Len Rohde will go at offensive tackle in place of big Bob St. Clair, who has a painfully pulled thigh muscle.

Abe Woodson, who won all league honors last year, is back in the defensive secondary in place of Jerry Mertens.

But Hickey won't say whether he plans to go with John Brodie or Bill Kilmer or both at quarterback now that Bobby Waters, the third triggerman in the shotgun triumvirate, is injured and apparently through for the season.

SOME SURPRISES

"That's for the Bears to find out," Hickey says, "but we'll have some surprises for 'em."

At least one man has ventured a prediction on whether the 49ers will go with the T or shotgun formation Sunday.

The veteran owner-coach of the Bears, George Halas, says he is convinced Hickey "is going to divide up his attack against us about half and half between shotgun and T."

Halas was in a jovial mood. Told the 49ers were still working out in Redwood City, the Papa Bear lamented "I was hoping they'd change sites. That place is completely blacked out. I've got a picture of the field on my desk.

CANVAS SCREEN

"They've got big pieces of canvas 20 feet high stretched all around the grounds. And my men out there tell me Hickey won't even let his own brother watch practice from the inside.

"All I need is just one little peek," he said.

"We can't let this happen Sunday," Hickey said.

Giants Hinting They May Consider Swapping Willie McCovey; Dodgers?

CONNOLLY

In order to save themselves a lot of unfavorable criticism, the San Francisco Giants are hinting, subrosa, that they may consider a trade for first baseman Willie McCovey. This comes as no great surprise, considering the kicking around McCovey has been taking the past few seasons.

The element of surprise, however, is the fact that the Los Angeles Dodgers seem to be angling to acquire McCovey. In order for the Dodgers to land Willie, it may take some pretty sharp trading, involving, for sure, name pitchers.

McCovey will only go to a club that can offer hefty pitching material in exchange. And right now the LA club seems to be the only outfit with surplus pitching, and the only club sorely in need of a first baseman.

There may be some people who will argue McCovey isn't really a first sacker. But if anybody can tell me where else he can play, then I'll go for it.

It would be silly for the Giants to sell or trade McCovey if they didn't happen to have Orlando Cepeda. In everybody's book, Cepeda belongs on first base and when he is moved to the outfield the whole Giant club is shook up.

The ideal way to get rid of McCovey, of course, would be to swap him to some American League club. But since the Harvey Kuen deal, the Giants want to shy away from the American League surplus talent. Kuen laid a big egg and he was supposed to be top material.

NATIONAL LEAGUE pitching rates higher than any of the American League, so it is really of necessity that the Giants may consent to ship McCovey to the Dodgers.

Before McCovey is shipped away, though, it would behoove "Chub" Feeney and Horace Stoneham to be sure Cepeda is signed. There could be quite a money hassle before the Puerto Rican inks his 1962 contract.

Cepeda led the league in home runs and in runs batted in for a salary said to be around $30,000. Measure that dough against what Willie Mays is collecting and you can understand why Cepeda's salary adjustment for 1962 is a project worth while studying.

THEY SAY that before Cepeda is through wrangling over his 1962 stipend, he will insist on nothing less than $60,000.

On the market he may be worth that but with another member of the same team collect $85,000 it makes quite a difference.

Owner Horace Stoneham has had many a brush with his players in years gone by, but they all seemed to have been well taken care of and all signed, being quite stubborn during negotiations.

Harvey Kuen is supposed to have swept in 40,000 clackers last year and some of the pitchers got that or better. But in my book, Orlando Cepeda is much more valuable and far more popular than any single player, pitcher or outfielder now on the roster.

THE CONTRACT season is quite a spell off yet but it promises to be a whammer when the shooting starts within the next 30 days.

Tars To Seek Second Place Tomorrow

Tomorrow night at Kentfield the College of Marin Tars will have a chance to win or tie for runner-up spot in the 1961 Golden Valley (football) Conference.

Dick Read's Tars will face American River Junior College at 8 o'clock. The Tars carry a 2-2, won-loss, conference record and are tied in the standings with Shasta College for second place. Marin, by winning could capture the second place cup if tomorrow first place Sierra College beats Shasta College, or if Shasta wins, Marin would tie for the cup.

It will be the GVC's last grid games of the season. Marin to date, has a 4-4 season record.

Four Indians Fit For Limited Play

All have been out with injuries in recent weeks.

Curtice said halfback Stan Lindskog, troubled with a foot injury, will do the Indians' kicking against Washington State here Saturday but will be unable to run.

FORMER 49ER ACQUITTED OF FORGERY

SAN JOSE (AP)—A Superior Court jury acquitted former San Francisco 49er professional football star Joe Arenas last night of forging a business partner's name to a $264 check.

The partner, Dante Canepa, had accused Arenas of forging his signature in cashing the check, a refund by the State Board of Equalization after an application for a liquor license had been denied.

The check was made out to both men, Arenas contended that he had authorization from Canepa to endorse the check with both his own name and Canepa's.

Jim Doran, 34, is the oldest member of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League. This is the 11th pro season for the former Iowa State star who plays outside end.

Big 5 Favors 'Open' Status Of Rose Bowl

LONG BEACH (UPI) — Tom Hamilton, Athletic Association of Western Universities commissioner, yesterday indicated a lessening of interest on a new Rose Bowl contract with the Big Ten.

In an interview with Jerome Hall of the Long Beach Independent Press-Telegram, Hamilton said officials of the host conference were "very pleased" with nationwide speculation on open selection of the outside representative.

This year's selection is on an open basis, with the Rose Bowl not bound by contract to pick a Big Ten team.

Sportswriters voted Monday in favor of Alabama as a potential visiting team, against either Ohio State or Minnesota —currently top rated in the Big Ten. But a Big Ten team has played here for the past 14 years and there is strong support for a resumption of the agreement.

Hamilton said there is no present plan to change the open selection for this year.

The Big Five host team on New Year's Day will probably be decided when eighth ranked UCLA meets unranked USC on Nov. 25.

Big Growing Pain Of New ABL Is Expansion Problem

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Basketball League, only three weeks old, already has growing pains. Expansion is a main item at a league meeting in Chicago Saturday and Sunday.

Also on the agenda is the 1962-63 schedule and plans for the ABL's first annual All-Star game.

"The league has been overwhelmed with franchise applications," says Commissioner Abe Saperstein, who owns the Chicago Majors entry as well as the independent Harlem Globetrotters. "Among cities seeking membership are Portland, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Denver, Indianapolis, Rochester, N.Y., and Milwaukee."

The ABL currently is made up of Chicago, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Hawaii, Washington, Kansas City and Los Angeles.

ROGER MARIS

MVP Greater Thrill Than 61st Homer

BOSTON (UPI)—Roger Maris, even more elated than on the day he hit his 61st homer, considered his year "complete" today upon being named the American League's "Most Valuable Player" for the second straight season.

It was a tight squeeze for the 27-year-old New York Yankee outfielder, who barely beat out teammate Mickey Mantle in the voting by four points.

Maris polled 202 points with seven first place votes compared with Mantle's 198 points and six first place votes. A year ago it was even closer, with Maris topping Mantle, 225 to 222.

"Without a question of doubt, this makes my year complete," said the delighted Maris at his Raytown, Mo., home. "I was hoping I would win, but I wasn't confident. Believe me, I'm very, very happy I won again."

Even en route to becoming the first man in major league history to hit 61 homers in a single season, Maris made it clear how he felt about the MVP award.

GREATEST HONOR

"To me, it's the greatest honor that can ever come to a ball player," he said during the last few days of the season. "Winning the award last year was the greatest thrill of my life.

"I don't know if I'll be fortunate enough to win again this year. There are a lot of great ball players in this league. We've got some of the best on this (Yankee) ball club."

Along with his new all-time high total of homers, Maris also led the league with 142 runs batted in, so that little attention was paid to his relatively low .269 batting average.

Mantle, hampered by injuries from time to time, threatened Ruth's record 60 also, but finished with 54 homers, 128 RBI's and a .317 batting mark.

Jim Gentile, Baltimore's slugging first baseman, finished third in this year's balloting with 157 points and five first place votes. Gentile had a fine year, hitting 46 homers, driving in 141 runs and hitting .302.

First baseman Norm Cash of Detroit, who led the league in hitting with .361, was fourth with 151 points, followed by southpaw Whitey Ford of the Yankees with 102 points, and Yankee relief ace Luis Arroyo with 95.

Tudorich, winner of this year's Chicago and Arlington Handicaps, was foaled in England. He's a 4-year-old son of Tudor Minstrel.

Redwood Club Honors Gridders And Runners

Kicking specialist Charles Cauldwell was honored twice last night at the fourth annual Redwood High fall sports banquet at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto.

Cauldwell and guard Buddy Weckel were both given seniod scholastic awards and Cauldwell, along with halfback Keith Norton, was presented the "Dr Arnold Nutting Award."

Halfback Kip Solinsky and guard Mark Pearce both got football captain's blankets and Randy Keller received the cross-country blanket.

The affair, sponsored by the Redwood Benchwarmers Club, was held to honor both cross-country and football athletes with merit awards. It was attended by more than 200 persons. Presiding was club president James Wylie. Chairman for the affair was Dave Teather, club president in charge of football.

Cook, Coombs Get Newspaper Award

John Cook, Novato High tackle, and Dennis Coombs, Redwood High halfback, have been selected "Preps of the Week" by the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM for their outstanding performances in games last week end.

Cook, a 200 - pound senior, was outstanding on both defense and offense in the San Rafael - Novato game last Friday which gave the Hornets the Marin County Athletic League 1961 Championship. He not only exerted leadership to his colleague linemen, made key breakthroughs and tackles against the Bulldogs, but also kicked two conversions and tackled Bulldog quarterback Jack Sovereign in the San Rafael end-zone for a safety.

Giant halfback Coombs led his Redwood teammates to defeat Marin Catholic last Saturday afternoon. The victory saved his team from the humiliation of the cellar in MCAL standings. Coombs scored two touchdowns, one on a 57-yard romp, and set up Redwood's third tally.

Novato's Cook is used to honors. This year he was chosen by San Francisco newspapers as lineman of the week for Northern California twice, and as a junior, last year, received the honor once. The six-foot athlete is also a track letterman (discus and shotput) and a varsity baseball catcher.

It is John's intention to apply soon for San Jose State College where he hopes to play football and major in industrial arts, a subject he would like to specialize in as a high school teacher. Much of his free time as well as his class time is devoted to that field.

Cook will no doubt apply for a San Jose State athletic scholarship and there not only be a valuable lineman, but with continued drill in conversion kicking be an asset to a college team in that skill. Cook developed kickoff and field goal booting through an injury. Last year, he tore a cartilage in his knee, could not participate in contact sports for several months, so to stay in shape, he ran and kicked. It resulted in his being tabbed "The Toe" around school and became "top kick" for the varsity team.

Cook presently at the high school shop is putting a V-8 "overhead" engine he has rebuilt into an older pickup which will be redeveloped into a slick roadster. Both he and Dennis McCormick, Hornet star halfback, spend much time working on their cars together. Cook has driven McCormick's pickup roadster and motorcycle in Cotati drag race time trials, and Mac has won trophies in the finals.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cook of 93 Buena Vista in Novato. His father is a sporting goods wholesaler for the Sloss and Britian Manufacturing Co. in San Francisco. John also has a sister, Elizabeth, 10, of the family home.

During the summer — for "good pay" and to stay in shape —Cook worked as a laborer for John Novak, Novato developer.

Redwood's Coombs is a bad and good actor. On the gridiron to his opponents he is considered a "bad actor," and on the stage to his theatrical colleagues, a good one.

Dennis is active in drama at Redwood High and is a member of the youth group players of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, Greenbrae Ward. Now that football season is concluded, Dennis will be traveling evenings with the church players. He will participate in a Mormon drama festival of the Santa Rosa stake next week.

Dennis, 17, was born in San Francisco, and for the last decade has resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Coombs and a brother Chris, 15, in Tiburon. The Coombs live at 541 Comstock Drive. Dennis' father is co-owner of Merchandising Advertisers of Calif. in San Francisco.

In addition to acting Coombs, 165-pounds, plays baseball. He is a quiet, modest and popular athlete, and when it comes to the theater and football, a very determined person. For example in order to play football, he underwent an operation to keep his arm from slipping from its shoulder socket while playing. Surgery did the trick, but then during the season his other arm began to slip. Dennis played anyway. And at home after hard practices and after games spent some sleepless nights.

Dennis wants to go to college, "maybe Brigham Young" in Utah. He also, like many dedicated Mormon young men, may spend several months or years as a missionary before beginning his lifetime occupation.

Huskies Work Hard For UCLA Contest

SEATTLE (AP)—The Washington Huskies had an extra long and hard workout yesterday as they prepared for their grid tussle with UCLA in Los Angeles Saturday.

There were two reasons for the intense drill. No. 1 was that they think it would be kind of nice to whip the Uclans. The Huskies' wins have been a bit scarce this season.

The No. 2 reason was that they didn't have much time for a workout today. They had to make room for President Kennedy, visiting the university to make a speech. He and his party took over the Huskies' dressing room.

Don Jordan's Hopes Dealt Another Blow

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Former welterweight champion Don Jordan's comeback hopes were dealt another setback last night as Jordan was beaten decisively by Rodolfo Chivo Diaz.

Jordan, 144, of Los Angeles didn't win a round. Diaz, 141½, banged away at will. There were no knockdowns in the 10-round bout.

HANLEY

A year ago at this time when the 49ers were bogged down with a 4-4 record, Red Hickey sprung the Shotgun for the first time and it whipped a heavily favored Colt team in Baltimore.

Now, the redhead is confronted with another crisis, created by three losses and one tie in the last four appearances of the same Shotgun which has lost its surprise element and one of its triple-barrels.

To expect Hickey to come up with another magical solution is asking too much. Yet, that is precisely what he must do to regain the affection of 49er fans. They are not interested in technical explanations why the Shotgun no longer is firing with the deadly efficiency it did two months ago.

Football technicians, such as Hickey is, may attribute the Shotgun's failure to blocking and tackling, or rather the lack of both. And detailed discussion of such niceties may fascinate the technicians in the same way a complicated chess problem will charm devotees of that parlor game. But sports fans—football, baseball, boxing, basketball, hockey, or what-have-you — want action, not an exercise in mental gymnastics when they put their money on the line. They don't care whether it is provided by the Shotgun or the T, just so long as it is action, preferably the winning kind.

"The manager of American sport must be especially tough or a philosopher, because his public knows no tolerance of defeat or failure."

A TALENTED English sports writer, Part Ward-Thomas of the Manchester Guardian, wrote that following his first visit to Candlestick Park. And he was right.

Pat was right insofar as pro sports are concerned because there is only one objective in such competition—to win. Unlike amateurs, pros don't play the game for its character-building benefits. It is their way of putting the bread-and-butter on the table and they know the consequences if they perform their jobs sloppily.

"There are no signs of sympathy in baseball parks, and the greater the player the louder will be the jeers that greet his mistakes," Pat also wrote following his Candlestick visit. He should have stayed around a little longer and taken in a couple of recent 49er games and he would have written the same thing about football.

FOOTBALL is a rugged way to make a living, coach or player. But it isn't the only rough way. Politics isn't any soft touch. The late beloved senator from Kentucky, Alben Barkley, used to take great delight in telling about his campaigns and constituents, particularly one of the latter on whom he believed he could rely for a favorable vote because of many, many past favors.

Barkley was surprised to learn this particular voter was wavering and cited to him all he had done for him, only to be jarred by: "But what have you done for me lately?"

Hickey, in effect, now is being asked the same question by 49er fans.

Warmups Tonight For Fifth World's Bowling Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 128 men and 64 women will warm up tonight in a "parade of champions" for the fifth annual world's invitational match game bowling championship.

The 10-day tourney, with a distribution of $48,240 in prize money, formally starts tomorrow with the entry list representing 25 states and Canada and Mexico.

The preview in tonight's special competition for $3,000 in prizes will be followed by day and evening sessions for nine days and a climatic single daytime session Nov. 26.

After the first four days, the fields will be sliced to 48 men and 32 women, a double round Tuesday, Nov. 21, will send 15 men and 15 women into the match-play finals along with defending champions Don Carter of St. Louis and Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Canadian Jockey Rides 5 Winners; All In Day's Work

SAN BRUNO (AP) — Canadian jockey Paul Frey, 23, rode five winners including Barracho J. J. in the featured Highlands Purse at Tanforan race track yesterday.

It was the biggest day for any rider in the current Tanforan meeting. Previous high was the four victories of jockey Ralph Neeves last Friday.

Frey's first victory came in the third race aboard Special Purchase ($14.60). He rode Woodtick ($37.60) home in the fourth; Gliding Wings ($9.40) in the fifth; and Deer Call ($20.40) in the seventh.

Then came the featured eighth and Frey's 200th victory of the year aboard Barrach J. J. ($6.80).

Tennessee Boy Is AP Back Of Week

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Mallon Faircloth, Tennessee's talented tailback, used his head as well as his hands and feet in leading the Vols to a 10-6 upset victory over Georgia Tech last Saturday.

Cadets' Big Game Tomorrow

The game, originally scheduled for Saturday, will kickoff at 2:30 p.m.

Both teams of private schools have been rivals since 1909. Both teams this season are undefeated in five starts and will clash for the Bay League 1961 Championship. Menlo is the defending champion, San Rafael, last year's runner-up.

In the last 14 years the academy has never beaten Menlo. Tomorrow they should do it.

While Cadet coach Phil Roark said the game's outcome is a tossup, at the same time declared: "Menlo will have to beat us . . . that's how we're going down there. We may win, they may lose."

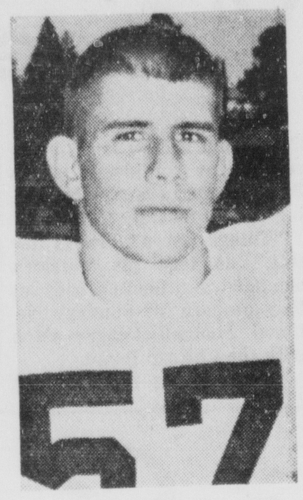

BILL FREEMAN

The contest is called "the little big game," and to its winner, along with a crown, goes a big train bell, a symbol of a significant victory.

Roark said the southern team will probably run off an unbalanced line and will strike with a fierce aerial attack. While in past games the Cadet pass game has been short of good, these last two weeks they have been going through it as consistently and severely as close order drill at a military academy or in the Marine Corps.

San Rafael will probably counter attack by air from its wing T and sometime-spread formation. But Roark's gravel crunchers, like spirited a leading running back Bill Freeman, and line sparker Steve Beck calling signals, may be too much for the civilians. The dark clouds of the past 14 years may split tomorrow.

JOE HEINZ
Starting fullback

Cadet starters will be: quarterback Hoffmann, halfbacks Bill Freeman and Dave Kerr, fullback Joe Heinz, tackles Doug Silva and Dave Blaine, guards Robin Gehres and Jeff Eales, ends John Knudsen and Frank Blakemore and center Beck.

Huskies Knock Heads For UCLA Contest

SEATTLE (AP)—The Washington Huskies knocked heads in a long, tough workout Tuesday as they prepped for their game with UCLA in Los Angeles Saturday.

Almost the entire session was contact work and there was plenty of concentration on line blocking and short drives to try to punch over the goal line.

The third and fourth strings ran UCLA plays against the first two teams.

A Strong Spartan Defense May Do It

SAN JOSE (AP) — San Jose State Coach Bob Titchenal says he believes his Spartans will have to put up a strong defense if they hope to stop unbeaten Fresno State Saturday.

Titchenal ran his squad through a defensive drill yesterday. He said his offense will be weakened by the loss through injuries of fullbacks Johnny Johnson and Mike Miller.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

The Grand Ending Of The Salmon-At-Sea Fails; Now Try The Rivers

STEVENS

That hoped-for grand finale for the salmon trollers failed miserably. Sunday was almost a complete bust. Perhaps one fish per rod or less. Considering that limit catches were normal up until Friday, we are saddened over the fish. Oh, well! While it's goodbye, ocean salmon fishing, it's hello, river and bay salmon fishing. A different "modus operandi" but perhaps still greater sport with each fish hooked.

It is a far different story on striper striving in the local areas. Not so hot on lures but sizzling on bait in certain sectors. Particularly heated are the Mission Rock region and all along the east side of San Pablo Bay.

Around 350 stripers in the medium sized class came in from 74 skiffs in the Mission Rock region, an average of approximately 4½ fish per boat, not bad, eh?

Still better was the take over the weekend in the upper San Pablo Bay. Carl Bennett, of the Rodeo Marina, called me to report the F&G boys counted over 600 stripers. Most of them were in the six-to-eight pound category, but some of the oldtimers (and the lucky ones) used sardine heads and bullheads to bring back some lunkers.

For example: On Sunday morning Bob Asarani worked the area near the Radar screen and collected his legal trio weighing respectively: 12½, 16 and 16 pounds; J. Horimoto only fished until 11 o'clock Sunday morning but managed to boat a pair of 10s and a 12 pounder. Harry Faver and Nick Talioga fished with bullheads near Buoy 14 and came in with limits each from eight to 18 pounds. The party boat, "Two Dares," tried the Buoy 9 sector Saturday afternoon and netted 17 limits by 2:30; the Kathie unloaded limits to 10 pounds at Buoys 8 and 10. On Sunday, the Sunfish ran into a problem. Out of the 20 passengers aboard, 10 of them were without an angling license. The fact was not learned until the boat had left the harbor. Result? Only 10 rods were permitted to fish. The Kathie M. on Sunday, accounted for 10 limits to 12 pounds at Buoy No. 15; the Poisdon had a field day with 45 bass for its 15 rods, and the Two Dares, took 13 limits of mediums in a half-day's fishing between buoys eight and 10.

IT HASN'T been quite so torrid on the Marin side of the Bay as on the Contra Costa side, but the prediction that an improvement in the entire shore line area from the Marin Islands to the mouth of the Petaluma Creek has proved true. Quite a few limits and many near limits have been taken the past three days. Generally speaking the fish are in the 3-to-8 pound class, but some of larger size have been taken in around 20 feet of water near the black buoy.

The well heralded appearance of bass in the Richardson Bay sector has been somewhat disappointing. Probably the action has been only from the forerunners of the main schools. So far the take has been much smaller than at the same season last year, but we can take an optimistic view when we realize the movement of bass has been delayed this year over last. The reports that the herring had come into Richardson Bay were, I am afraid, a bit previous. Such oldtimers as I contacted maintain the little fish have NOT made their appearance as yet.

(This is being written Tuesday, Nov. 14. Could be by the time you read it, the herring will have arrived and fishing in Richardson Bay will be fast and furious). Here's hoping!

Here's a suggestion. When the herring do start running and the bass are in hot pursuit. Try plug casting from a skiff. Use your casting rod and attach a spinner to your line; use just enough weight to make a long cast easy. Retrieve with jerks to give the spinner life. Unless I miss my guess you'll have the time of your life with each fish landed. Okay?

OH, YES! I should tell you I just received a couple of pictures of a bear and a local hunter in the mail. Edward Williams of Mill Valley, was the sender. The pictures may not be clear enough to take news print, but the story of how, where and when the bear was killed by our hero is interesting. Look in tomorrow's paper for a brief resume.

TALKS TO PACKERS

Saturday's Winner Gets Title Crack At Joe Brown

NEW YORK (AP) — The winner of Saturday's Carlos Ortiz-Paolo Rosi fight will get a title bout with lightweight champion Joe Brown, matchmaker, Teddy Brenner said today.

He said Brown's manager, Lou Viscusi, agreed to the bout in telephone conversation.

"He accepted our offer of a $60,000 guarantee," Brenner said. "The fight will take place in March. The site hasn't been selected."

Brenner said the fight probably will be in either Houston or New York.

Rosi, a native of Italy, and Puerto Rican-born Ortiz, now fight out of New York. Ortiz, who has won 34, lost four and fought one no decision, is a 9-11 favorite for the nationally televised ABC-TV Saturday fight. Rosi has a 36-8-2 record.

When Airmans Guide, a 4-year-old bay filly, won The Beldame at Belmont Park, it was her sixth victory in eight races this year. The race marked her 12th straight time in the money in the last two years.

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — After 13 years of frustration, Y. A. Tittle views with caution any talk about "big money" and a possible pro football championship for the New York Giants.

"It's a long way off yet," said the 35-year-old quarterback today. "We'd be foolish to get too excited and look ahead to that instead of looking ahead to next Sunday's game. That Pittsburgh club can be just as tough as Philadelphia."

Tittle long has been one of the greatest passers in the National Football League. In 13 years as a pro—most with the San Francisco 49ers—he came close but never hit the jackpot with a championship team. He was traded to the Giants last August when Red Hickey, 49er coach, decided to go all the way with his "shotgun" offense and had no use for a quarterback who couldn't run.

"We came close in '57," said Tittle, whose teammates call him "Yat," an abbreviation of his given name of Yelberton Abraham Tittle. "We wound up in a tie with Detroit in the Western Conference. We led 24-7 at the half but they beat us. Then they went on to win the league championship.

"Last year we were close again, but Green Bay beat us. In '59 we were two games ahead at the mid point, but we finally lost it to Baltimore."

Tittle could see a trade coming when the 49ers went to the "shotgun" near the end of last season.

"I sat it out most of the last three or four games, partly because I was hurt," he said. "A quarterback has to do a lot of running in that formation and I am not cut out for that. When they drafted Billy Kilmer, I figured I would go.

"Here we use the same kind of shotgun but only about 10 per cent of the time."

Ironically, it was from the "shotgun" or spread formation that Tittle threw the "clubhouse boy" pass to Erich Barnes last Sunday, the blow that broke the back of the Philadelphia Eagles.

The road ahead for the Giants is rugged. Pittsburgh this week. Then Cleveland, Green Bay, Philadelphia and Cleveland again with three of the last four on the road.

The Steelers come to Yankee Stadium Sunday on a three-game winning streak. They have won four of their last five under Rudy Bukich, standin for Bobby Layne who now is ready to return to action.

GRAND AUTO STORES
SAN RAFAEL
850 Fourth St.

Mr. Marin wants to buy many things with his Christmas Club check. He needs a new car but he also has to get gifts for his wife and family. What to do? His check can't buy everything!

First he goes to Wrong Way Motors, the little country dealer. He finds limited selection and no easy financing arrangement. He leaves knowing he'll have nothing left from his check.

Then he goes to Scalpum Motors. A man with a narrow tie leading a pack of checker-jacketed salesmen pulls the pigeon drop gag on him... tries to take all his Christmas Club check as down payment on an overpriced car. He barely escapes!

Finally he finds Ames Ford. Meets their benevolent sales manager who wears a red suit all year 'round. The benevolent sales manager only wants a small part of his check for the down payment so he's able to make a good deal.

And off he goes! Happy in a brand new Ford that he's able to fill up with all the gifts he needs to buy for his wife and family after making his low down payment at Ames Ford.

FUN AT THE FAIR

Three generations went shopping yesterday afternoon at the parish hall of St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross as Mrs. Thomas Cagwin, left, and her son Jonathan and her mother, Mrs. Ralph Alden decide whether to buy a stuffed toy from Mrs. Cecil Leonard, right. At left George Mackenzie sets up a lively tune on his accordion.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS and decorations and foods lined the tables as members of St. Mary's Chapter, St. John's League of Episcopal Church Women, the Altar Guild and the Episcopal Young Churchmen combined efforts for their annual fair. At far end of the hall luncheon was served at candlelight tables. Fair chairmen were Mrs. Edward Stopper and Mrs. Francis Burt. (Independent-Journal photos)

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Farewell Dinner Will Honor Popular San Anselmo Couple

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. George Arata, who will soon leave Marin to make their home in Pennsylvania, will be honored at a dinner party Saturday night by Dr. and Mrs. Fred Adams at their Greenbrae home. George, who is with the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corporation has been transferred to the Philadelphia office. He is sales manager of the Turbine Division. He will return from Philadelphia tomorrow to assist Alice with the moving details. They have put their San Anselmo home, which they built 13 years ago, on the market. They have bought a new home in Rosetree Valley out of Media, a short distance from Philadelphia. George recently returned from five months in India where he was on a business assignment.

Several dinner parties have been given for the popular couple. Alice has belonged to the Social Service Auxiliary for many years and is also active in Poplar Branch of Marin General Hospital Auxiliary. The Aratas are taking five of their children: Robert 16; Patricia, 12; Kathy, 10; Billy, 7, and John who is 30 months old with them. Their eldest daughter, Mary, who is attending St. Joseph's College of Nursing in San Francisco will remain. She attended the College of the Holy Names in Oakland last year.

They'll have Thanksgiving dinner with Alice's mother, Mrs. Fred Eckert of San Francisco, and Nov. 27 will fly to Philadelphia.

Other guests of Dr. and Mrs. Adams will be Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Neilan, Peter Helms, Richard DeCraf, John Korn and Edward Barry.

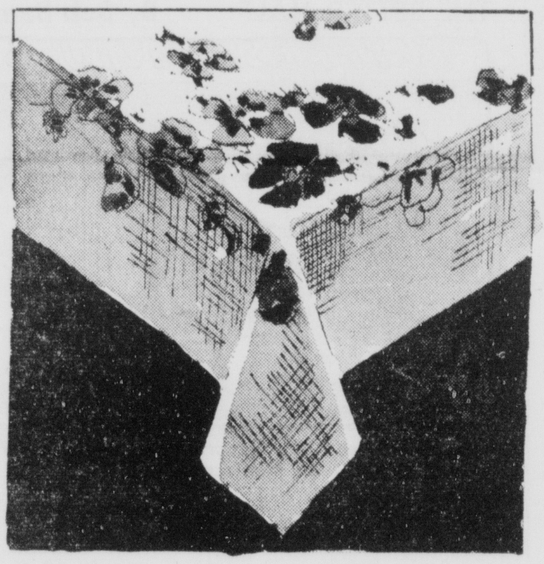

PLANS FOR A big benefit party, to be staged Dec. 7 in Marin County, were unfolded at a luncheon I attended Tuesday at Villa Taverna in San Francisco. I went with Mrs. Homer (Hilda) Hood, publicity chairman for the benefit to be given by two Sunny Hills guilds. Complete details will be released soon. Our hostess was Mrs. Albert (Ellen) Campodonica, member of the posh and exclusive private club in Jackson Square, Villa Taverna. Hilda and I have known Ellen for years. She and Hilda have a mutual interest in art, she collects paintings and Hilda, member of the Marin Society of Artists, is a painter. Ellen is a member of the San Francisco Art Commission and one of her major projects is the restoration of the Palace of Fine Arts. Petite and blonde, she is a human dynamo and assisting Hilda enthusiastically with the benefit plans. I've known Ellen ever since her son, Hampton, attended San Rafael Military Academy.

After luncheon we went to Ellen's house on Vallejo Street. It is a lovely old home, three storied, and filled with antiques Ellen has collected. The lower floor is the art gallery where more than 300 paintings, ranging from works of seventeenth and eighteenth century painters, to moderns are displayed.

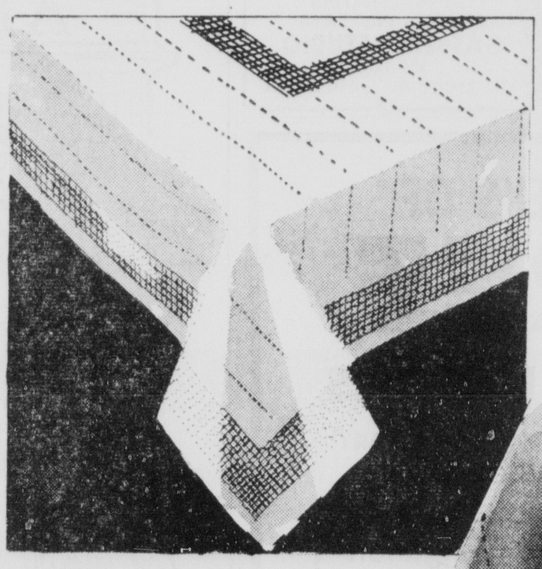

AT ALTA MIRA Hotel a notable threesome had brunch Sunday. It included Ingrid Bergman, her husband, Lars Schmidt, and her daughter, Mrs. Fuller Callaway (Jenny Lindstrom). Miss Bergman and her husband were honored at a small dinner dance given by Mrs. Callaway Monday night in the Admiral's Cabin at Trader Viv's. Miss Bergman and her husband are in California on vacation and skipped the International Film Festival festivities. They'll weekend in Carmel and return for several more days in San Francisco before flying to Acapulco.

AT PEACOCK GAP Golf and Country Club a group of members of the Meadow Club gathered to play golf and have luncheon Tuesday. In the group were Mesdames Arthur Schallock, Ed Abramson, H. C. Billings, C. W. Morrill, Robert Parish, Rinaldo Belli, Arthur Latno, Edwin Christie, Niels Schultz Jr., Frank McMurray, Gordon Wood, Carl Boegerhausen, Paul Hartman and Hodge Davidson.

THE SAN FRANCISCO Yacht Club was the setting for a dinner Friday night to mark the end of a nine months' bridge tournament in which 32 couples participated. Announced were the top winners, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Field, first; Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Beere, second; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Behrens, third.

Party Crashers Quickly Ruin Your Teen-Agers' Good Times

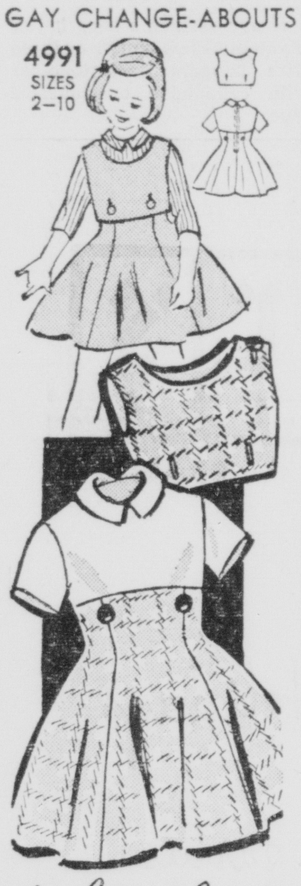

Beware of party crashers. They're everywhere this year. Hoodlum teen-agers take pride in going to parties uninvited, and wrecking them.

A widowed mother from the West Coast writes, "Some teenage strangers walked boldly into my house while my daughter was entertaining her friends. They appeared to be drunk, but they were well dressed. I was speechless with surprise. They upset the punchbowl, and threw the cake into the mess. Then they started tearing down my drapes, laughingly hysterically. I hurried to the phone and called the police. Before the officers arrived the strangers ran to their cars and drove away. They have not been caught. If they ever come to my home again I'll shoot them!"

From the East Coast a father writes, "We were giving a dance for our teen-age son. At 11 o'clock some hoodlums entered. They grabbed the girls and started dancing with them. My son and his friends tried to throw them out and in no time our home was a shambles. I called the police and they restored order. All told the crashers did about $300 damage. They are now awaiting trial. I find I can't make them or their parents pay for the damage. I'm out $300. Please warn other parents to guard against party crashers!"

As I say, beware of crashers. I don't care how nice your own kids are, or how good your neighborhood. Party crashers go everywhere. During a party, have a couple of strong, tactful men stand unobtrusively near the door to turn away interlopers. At the first hint of trouble, call the police.

Gents Now Prefer Brownettes New Study Shows

CHICAGO (UPI) — Gentlemen prefer brownettes, a recent study of the hair-color market indicates.

Forty-three per cent of the men queried said they favored brown-haired women. Only 17 per cent ranked blondes as their first choice. Red, black and gray hair trailed in that order.

A second reason for the popularity of brown, the study indicated, is that this is the natural hair color of the greatest number of women in America.

Of all women using hair color, 70 per cent do so just to cover sprouting gray hair, the study showed.

FACE AND FIGURE

Today 68 Per Cent Of Women Fit Into Size 12 Category

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—You may be a perfect size 12 by government standards and still slip into a size 7 on one occasion or amply fill a 14 on another, depending on the style or the manufacturer of the garment.

Why do sizes vary?

A man who has been keeping a professional eye on women's ever-changing figures for more than half a century has the answer in his eerie garret filled with headless feminine bodies.

There Simon Wolf and his workers make dress forms for the bustling garment district. Around these curves, designers drape and fit women's and children's ready-to-wear.

But each dress form is made according to each manufacturer's specifications. And each manufacturer interprets these so-called standard sizes in his own way, relying on his customers' experiences in adjusting the clothes.

Today 68 per cent of the American women come into the size 12 grouping.

By studying all physical statistics available, Uncle Sam's statisticians have determined that a standard size 12 has a 35½ inch bust, a 26 inch waist line, and 36 inch hips measured 9 inches below the waist. Other sizes are graded up or down from there.

One dress house may conform to all measurements except the hips, which are made slimmer or wider. Another may change bosom or waistline measurements, Simon Wolf says.

Fashion also plays havoc with standard measurements as Wolf's ghostly paper figures from the past prove.

In 1910 he made forms generally fuller through the waist, slimmer through the hips. By the roaring '20s era, his papier-mache models were flat-chested.

By the late '30s Wolf was plumping up his paper ladies just a bit, but keeping the waistlines slim. Since then, he has been adding an inch here, taking off a half inch there, depending on instructions from manufacturers.

High style manufacturers change forms every six months, even oftener if the designer believes a new fashion warrants it. However, Wolf is quick to point out that not all style changes merit new molds.

Posture, and foundation garments shift the womanly figure so that it does not always conform to standard dress form measurements, he says. For that reason, his company also produces models for makers of foundation garments, pajamas, aprons, even shrouds!

Oblivious to the Venus nudes around them, Wolf's workmen disinterestedly paste inches of papier-mache into plaster casts that look like sarcophagi. They then shove the wet paper bodies into ovens for two days, pad them with cotton (to hold pins) and cover with cloth.

When the venerable man was just beginning, his job was much easier. Dressmakers were satisfied with figures that graduated up and down the scale in methodical order. Today his clients also must have forms for tall girls and giant sized ones, petites, juniors, chubbies, the mature figure, and variations on all of these.

Mathematics Demonstration Set Tuesday At Dominican

Marin mothers who might wonder what is going on in classroom mathematics these days will have a chance to see and hear for themselves at Dominican College in San Rafael on Tuesday at 11 a.m.

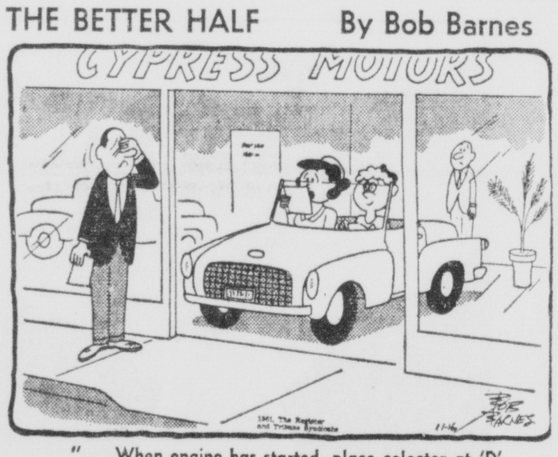

A demonstration of teaching of fifth and sixth grade students will be given by one of the leaders in the development of new curricular materials, the Rev. Stanley J. Bezuszka, S. J., of Boston College.

Brought to the West Coast to address teachers of mathematics at the California Mathematics Council meeting at Asilomar this weekend, Father Bezuszka will then come to Marin, where he will spend the day, Tuesday, on the Dominican College campus. In addition to the morning class there, the mathematician will conduct two other sessions. An afternoon meeting, 4:30 to 6 p.m. will be turned over to a demonstration class in which Father Bezuszka will teach a group of 9th and 10th graders for the length of a regular class period. The class will be followed by discussion and time for questions from the audience. At 7:30 p.m. Father Bezuszka will speak on trends in modern mathematics.

All sessions will be held in Angelico Hall. The public is invited.

Religious Art's Function Inspirational, Says Artist

Miss Blanque said that the church has been accused of lack of taste in religious art. In discussing the decadence of Christian art, she said that it might be divided into three forms: (1) art of the clergy dictated by doctrine, which became monotonous; (2) art of the people, which was humorous, animated and closer to life but became mediocre, and (3) art of the artists, in which man looked within himself.

With the 20th Century and the liturgical movement, she said, pure art began to show living simplicity.

A contemporary artist herself, Miss Blanque emphasized the obligation of the clergy and laity to judge what to reject or accept, for all contemporary art is not necessarily good.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Nov. 16, the 320th day of the year with 45 more to follow in 1961. Today is Oklahoma Statehood Day.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

The evening stars are Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1914, the 12 federal reserve banks were opened formally in accordance with the Glass-Owen Bill passed in 1913 to "... establish a more effective supervision of banking in the United States."

In 1950, the first reinforcements for British and American troops reached Berlin, together with the first small arms shipment for West Berlin police.

A thought for the day: Former president and chancellor of the University of Chicago Robert Maynard Hutchins said: "We do not know what education could do for us, because we have never tried it."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Good Player Refuses First Trick In Enemy's Best Suit

Almost every experienced player automatically refuses the first trick in the enemy's best suit if he has only one stopper in that suit. This is the simple hold-up play, so named because you hold up your winning card instead of taking the trick. Not all hold-ups are as simple as that.

Opening lead — ♠ Q

One of the strangest hold-ups on record was executed by Sidney Silodor, noted Philadelphia expert, in a national tournament some years ago. Silodor held up twice even though he had two stoppers in the enemy's long suit.

West led the queen of spades and was allowed to hold the trick. Only a good player would think of refusing the first trick with two stoppers in the dangerous suit. The average player would win the first trick and think about a hold-up when it was a question of taking the other top spade.

West continued with the jack of spades, and Silodor refused this trick also, discarding a heart from dummy. The idea was to win his first spade trick when East was following suit with his last spade.

PAYS DIVIDEND: Silodor's care paid a dividend. West continued with a third spade, and Silodor won and knocked out the ace of diamonds. East couldn't lead a spade, thanks to the double hold-up.

With any other return, Silodor had time to force out the ace of hearts. He won two spades, two clubs, four diamonds and a heart. The opponents took two spades and the two red aces.

South could have made the contract by winning an early spade and guessing to lead hearts before touching the diamonds. Anybody who is that lucky about guessing which suit to tackle first doesn't also have to be skillful.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner bids on club, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ 3
♥ J 10 9
♦ K Q J 7 5
♣ A 10 6 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one diamond. You have the values for a jump to three clubs, but the double raise in a minor suit is a very unprecise bid. Show your own good suit first and the strong club support later.

Klopstock Draws Fine, Probation In Drunk Driving

Samuel Curtis Klopstock, 47, of Ross, former Stanford University track star, drew $158 fine and nine months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Klopstock was convicted of drunken driving on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo last March 15. Two prior convictions, in 1940 and in 1949, were stricken from the record because they occurred so long ago.

William Clayton Richter, 29, of 45 Louise Street, San Rafael, must pay $166 fine and remain on six months probation for his first drunken driving offense, ruled Judge Leonard A. Thomas. He was caught on Highway 101 on Nov. 3.

Marguerite Shirley Myers, 53, of 120 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, drew $105 fine and six months probation. She was caught on North Bridgeway Boulevard near Sausalito last April 7.

Remodeling Plans Are Approved

Mill Valley planning commissioners approved plans Tuesday night for remodeling of two neighboring businesses, the Palate Restaurant at 163 Throckmorton Avenue and the Office Bar at 153 Throckmorton.

Also granted were a use permit and plan for B. R. Randolph to construct a building at 653 East Blithedale Avenue to house a real estate office combined with Del's Liquor Store, already built. Robert G. Cruickshank was granted a variance to permit construction of an administrative-professional building at 187 East Blithedale Avenue.

Grocery Plan Decision Postponed

Larkspur Planning Commission has postponed to Nov. 28 decision on Fred Schefer's request for architectural approval for a new grocery store on Magnolia Avenue.

Schefer plans to build at Ward Street and Magnolia Avenue, and move his grocery, to the new quarters.

The commission, meeting Tuesday night, also put over until Nov. 28 decision on rezoning a strip of land 120 feet deep next to Magnolia Avenue, extending from Elite Cleaners 2,600 feet south. The land is now zoned commercial; multiple family residential is sought.

Architectural supervision for an apartment house to the rear of the area which is up for rezoning was granted Joseph Pell. Architects are Hooper and Malone.

The commission recommended the council approve an amendment to the zoning ordinance to specify two types of commercial zoning instead of the present one. The current zoning would remain unchanged but a second more restrictive, type of commercial zoning would be added.

The commission held up action on granting Arick (Rip) Van Winkle approval to split a one-acre lot into four building lots until the city council accepts part of the property deeded to the city for use as greenbelt area.

KITCHEN INSTRUCTION FOR ASPIRING CHEFS

Fundamentals of preparing restaurant food are explained by Jean Joaquin, chef d'cuisine at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. Observing the techniques are assistant chef Arthur Torres and Mike Ketchens, Gary Brannegan, John Curry, Dan Pauloo, Pat Weatherwax and Roger Sweetland, students in the Tamalpais Union High School District interested in making a career of cooking. Efforts are being made to establish training classes at the College of Marin. (Independent-Journal photo)

A SILO OF WHITEWALL TIRES

Farmer Lowell Fisher of the Fairmont area in southwest Minnesota has found a novel use of old car tires. He's collected more than 300 of them to hold down a plastic tarp over his 150-foot long pile of corn silage. The tarp is used to prevent spoilage. (AP Wirephoto)

Changes Mind

LONDON (UPI)—The Cunard Line has postponed plans to build a 70,000-ton replacement for the 81,000-ton, 25-year old "Queen Mary" because of competition from the airlines, the company reported.

Paris Meeting On World Trade Begins

NEW YORK (AP)—Fear that the U.S. dollar is heading into another struggle in world financial markets is an added starter at today's meeting in Paris of 20 nations, all entries in the world trade competition.

And the American delegates also are aware that the United States is anticipating one of the bitterest battles in years over a revision of its tariff policies.

The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, meeting in Paris, is known as the Atlantic Community, although some like Turkey and Greece are a bit distant from that ocean. Its official aim is to expand world trade and spur economic growth.

Looking over the shoulders of the delegates at the conference is the Soviet Union. The Reds are conceded to be planning a stepped-up assault on world trade markets themselves. They've already inflicted considerable pain on American oil companies.

The United States is especially interested just now to see world trade expand—specifically its own exports. Its imports have climbed sharply and so has the deficit in its balance of payments. If continued, the trend could put pressure on the value of the dollar.

The deficit arises because the dollars we spend abroad on imports, foreign aid, military commitments, investment, travel exceeds the dollars we get back for our exports, earnings on investments. The deficit almost disappeard early in 1961 but jumped by 50 per cent during the summer and now runs around 3 billion dollars a year.

Some of the dollars that foreigners get are used to buy gold from our Treasury. And a year ago the outflow of gold reached a volume that made the dollar itself unpopular in some world financial markets. The United States bolstered the dollar's value by trimming the deficit through cuts in overseas spending and pushing of American exports.

Now the threat is once again sighted. Not even the dollar could hold its exchange value if the imbalance continued indefinitely.

Adding to the problem is the rapid growth of Western Europe's economy and export trade and the move of Britain toward joining in a trade bloc with nations on the Continent. That could freeze American exporters out of an important market.

The U.S. administration talks of meeting this threat by bargaining for trade concessions. And to be able to bargain it proposes to ask Congress for power to cut tariffs further here.

Opponents of further tariff cutting are numerous. And so are those, both in management and labor, who think tariffs already are so low that ruinous foreign competition is being encouraged in domestic markets.

That's the background as the United States starts today's talks in Paris about ways to speed up economic growth for all the 20 nations and make trade freer.

FRIDAY

In Freewood Acres, N.J., a colony of Buddhists has built a temple in which worshippers acknowledge Tibet's Dalai Lama as their spiritual leader. The group is made up of Kalmuk refugees, who are among the few direct descendants of a Mongol tribe that fought against the armies of Genghis Khan.

Kramer, Allen Real Estate Firms Merging

The real estate firm of Kramer Associates in Mill Valley has been acquired by Frank Howard Allen and Son, Realtors, it was announced today by Charles Howard Allen and Robert C. Steele, partners in the latter organization.

The merger will become effective Dec. 1.

The Mill Valley office of Frank Howard Allen and Son, heretofore located at 489 Miller Avenue, will be moved to the Kramer office at 535 Miller Avenue, a steel and glass structure designed by Michael Wornum of Mill Valley. No sale of the real estate is involved in the transaction.

Headed by Stephen Kramer of Mill Valley who organized the firm in 1954, Kramer Associates has been exclusive agent for the planned communities of Rancho Los Lomas, Enchanted Knolls and Garden Hills—all in the Mill Valley area.

Kramer will continue in the real estate field in the capacity of consultant.

Frank Howard Allen and Son, one of the county's oldest real estate firms, was organized in 1910 by Charles Howard Allen's grandfather, a banker and land developer. The main office of the firm at 232 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, is still located in the original building.

Charles Howard Allen joined the company in 1935 as a builder, real estate broker and insurance agent. Robert C. Steele, a native of San Rafael, joined the firm in 1953.

L.A. County Has 6.2 Million People

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles County had a population of 6,291,988 at the end of September, the Regional Planning Commission estimated today.

The population of the City of Los Angeles was estimated at 2,561,674.

The commission figures give the county more than a quarter of a million more people than the official U.S. Census of 1960. The commission calculates the city gained 47,928 people the first nine months of this year and the county 121,451.

Mill Valleyan Found Guilty Of Conspiracy In Theft Case

Forrest Seter of Mill Valley and two other officers of the California Law Enforcement Officers Assn. were found guilty by a Sacramento Superior Court jury Tuesday night of conspiracy to commit theft.

Seter, president of the association; J. L. Levitt of San Francisco, vice president, and Wallace Lund of San Francisco were accused of soliciting money to combat juvenile delinquency but using it for other purposes.

Motions for a new trial will be heard Nov. 27, reports United Press International. The offense carries a maximum sentence of three years in prison and $5,000 fine.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said Seter, then of San Francisco, was involved a few years ago in soliciting advertising for a purported peace officers' magazine which was without official sanction. He said the "law enforcement officers association" also has no official status.

Attorney General Resignation Asked

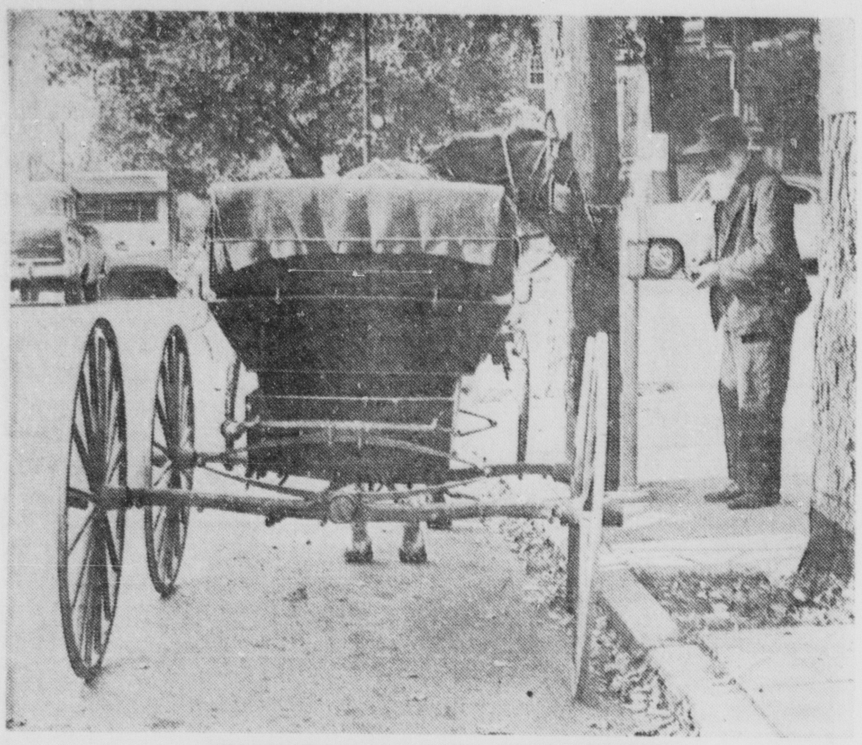

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A Republican candidate for Stanley Mosk's state job demanded today that he resign either as Democratic national committeeman or attorney general.

Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen (R-Los Gatos) said the two jobs are incompatible.

He said Mosk has no business engaging in partisan political activities while also serving as the state's chief law enforcement official.

Salt Is Linked To Hypertension

NEW YORK (UPI)—The once widely held theory that "essential" hypertension is caused by an abnormality in the body's utilization of salt is likely to have a revival. A new scientific finding seems to reverse the old findings which knocked the props from under the theory.

It's important to find the unknown cause (or causes) of this common form of high blood pressure because it sets people up for premature death. And the salt theory is attractive because there are apparently sound reasons for believing in it.

You take a person with "essential" hypertensions and deplete his body's supply of salt and there is a good chance the hypertension will become much less hyper and stabilize around normal levels. This depleting is done with salt-free diets and drugs which hasten the excretion of salt.

That surely indicates that in these blood pressure patients hypertension is connected with an excess of salt in the body's chemistry—that not enough salt is being excreted and too much is going into the "metabolic pool" where it reacts upon blood pressure.

In 1951 a technique was invented which permitted the measurement of the available salt in the body chemistry of a person with "essential" hypertension. It did not seem abnormal. Since 1951 this technique has been applied to many hypertensive persons. With the exception of a few far advanced cases, no abnormality was demonstrated.

But now a new technique reverses that. It was devised and tested in 15 persons by Drs. Lewis K. Dahl, Malcolm G. Smilay, Lawrence Silver and Sanford C. Sparagen of the Brookhaven National Laboratory, Upton, N. Y. The technique's basis is a radioactive isotope of salt, Sodium-22.

The 15 persons lived by the precisely disciplined routine of a hospital metabolic ward where everything which goes into and comes out of the body is subjected to minute analysis and measurement. The salt which went into these 15 was reduced to the barest minimum.

Then it was increased in exact stair-step amounts. But it was sodium-22 whose radioactivity revealed whether it was being accumulated by body chemistry and if it was, to what extent.

Of the 15, seven had "essential" hypertensions and the other eight had normal blood pressure. Without exception, the seven with the disease retained and accumulated salt in their body chemistry at a much higher rate than those who were free of the disease.

The scientists felt their findings should stimulate another look at the salt theory by medical science in general. They recalled that many of the measurements which seemed to contradict the theory were made in overweight persons.

Japanese Scientists Find Key To Allergy Trouble

NEW YORK (UPI)—A technical triumph by two Japanese scientists may prove to be a key which will unlock some of the outstanding chemical mysteries of allergy.

Their triumph was to make quinea pigs extremely allergic to penicillin; in the tissues of those animals they produced, with penicillin, the most violent of allergic reactions—anaphylaxis.

Heretofore penicillin anaphylaxis seemed to occur only in people. Science's inability to produce it experimentally in animals stymied efforts to get to the bottom of it and perhaps find a way of preventing it.

Meanwhile, physicians have become chary about injecting penicillin and other antibiotics into any person who is allergic to anything or who has ever had even a mild allergic reaction. The anaphylactic reaction can be fatal.

Drs. Toshi Torii and Yoshihi Kohoriuchi of Hokkaido University, Sapporo, Japan, began with the promise it would take penicillin and something else to set up guinea pigs chemically for penicillin anaphylaxis. The something else also turned out to be the common protein, albumin.

Albumin is abundant in the tissues of all animals, man included, of course. The scientists incubated egg white albumin with penicillin. The resulting chemical products were the two in "bound" form and sure enough, when injected into guinea pigs it "sensitized" them for anaphylaxis.

You could think from that there was a special chemical quality to egg white albumin, since penincillin injected into guinea pigs does not become "bound" to guinea pig albumin and set them up for a massive allergic reaction the next time they get peninicillin.

But Torii and Kohoriuchi demonstrated that albumins were interchangable in guinea pig sensitizations. They incubated penincillin with horse albumin, with human albumin and with guinea pig albumin and each combination "sensitized" guinea pigs.

The incubation took place in laboratory cultures, not inside the bodies of guinea pigs, however. Their preliminary experiments indicated a process of alkalinazation inside guinea pigs prevented penicillin and guinea pig albumin from becoming "bound."

In their laboratory cultures they controlled the degree of acidification of the cultural medium precisely. When the medium was made alkaline, the binding of penicillin and albumin into allergy-provoking substance was halted. When the medium was pushed higher and higher up the acid side, the binding was hastened.

In reporting their triumph and their first experiments based upon it to the technical journal, "Nature," the scientists said blood taken from human beings who had had the anaphylaxtic reaction, showed a strong capacity to get "bound" into allergy-provoking substances even in the absense of acidification.

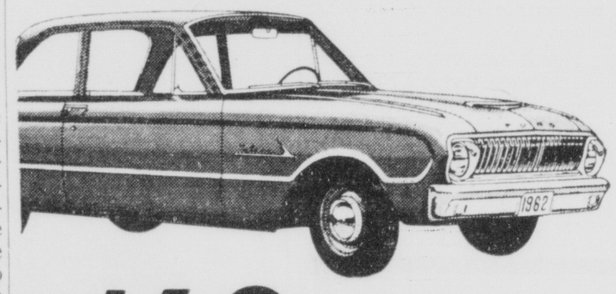

This caused them to suggest highly allergic persons have in their blood "a peculiar protein" which has a strong capacity to get "bound" with outside substances, such as penicillin.

YOU CAN SURVIVE

Community Shelter Program Is Called Cheapest And Best

(Ninth in a series)

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

The cheapest, most sensible shelter is the community or neighborhood type accommodating 50 to 100 persons or more.

You and neighbors can build one for about $100 per family member. This could well be five to 10 times less than building an equally effective individual family shelter. The larger the community shelter, the cheaper it is.

Few people remember that just such a community shelter was actually tested in Nevada a few years ago, virtually under an A-bomb, with two dozen men inside.

The shelter "rocked like a ship," they said, but they and the shelter came through the blast and fallout in perfect shape.

And few Americans realize that the Soviets are far, far ahead of us in building shelters, especially of the type for 100 persons or more.

Expert students of Russia's civil defense vouch for this, despite Madame Khrushchev's recent statement that the Soviet Union was not building shelters. To the contrary, the Soviet program even provides for compulsory training in defense and survival to make nuclear war less costly in human lives.

EXPERT SEES PUSH FOR BIG SHELTERS

The Atomic Energy Commission likely will recommend and begin planning within the next year for large underground community shelters—to protect from 100 to 1,000 persons each.

This was the opinion expressed by Nobel Prize-winning nuclear physicist Owen Chamberlain, speaking on "Fallout and Fallout Shelters" last night at the Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur.

It came in response to a question from the audience as to whether the public was being furnished with full information regarding what type of shelter will provide the best protection from a nuclear explosion.

"Thinking in the AEC has been changing" said Chamberlain, a physicist at University of California in Berkeley. Before the advent of the huge new nuclear devices, emphasis was put on immediate blast and radioactive fallout."

Now he said, with the 100-megaton bomb boasted by Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev, the greatest danger is in fire—the firestorm. He said one 100-megaton bomb could immediately set ablaze everything within 60 miles of detonation and continue to carry the fire on winds up to 150 miles per hour.

Only 300 such bombs could "literally destroy the country," he declared. The only answer, he feels, are the large underground shelters. And, to be of any protection, they would have to be air-tight with elaborate supplies of oxygen and food—"enough to last for weeks or months." He estimated a cost at $500 per person.

And when the survivors came out from underground; someone asked. The country deforestrated, water sheds gone?

"With the number of survivors," Dr. Chamberlain said,

Mother Held In Quentin Dope Ring

A Los Angeles mother of two, believed to be the chief source of an $18,000 heroin supply that trickled into San Quentin Prison since March, was headed for Marin Municipal Court today from Southern California.

Paula Huerra, 31, married and mother of two, was arrested at her home yesterday by Inspector Donald E. Midyett of the Marin County district attorney's office and two state narcotics' agents. She was held in lieu of $5,250 bail.

Midyett telephoned yesterday that he and the state agents would drive Mrs. Huerra to Marin today. No narcotics were found at her home when she was arrested.

Another woman charged with conspiring to smuggle heroin, marijuana, and peyote into San Quentin is free on $1,050 bail. She is blonde Anne Marie Kellam, 25, of Oakland. Mrs. Kellam was scheduled to be arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday but could not show up because she was ill.

A third woman charged in the Marin complaint is Marie Frances Hall, about 47, of Hayward, who has a son serving time in San Quentin.

Six inmates at the prison are accused with the three women of conspiring to smuggle dope into prison for sale to inmates.

SAUSALITO PLANT IS DISMANTLED

Ellis A. Lando, who has operated the plant since 1953, was overseeing 20 of his former 60 workmen in dismantling, lining up and labeling parts so that foreign workers will be able to reassemble them. He expects to finish the packing job by Dec. 15.

"It's like a funeral parlor around here," Lando said.

He added that he has been in the business 40 years, formerly in San Francisco, where he was called "Lando the blind man."

SOME TO HOLLAND

Much of the equipment, which he estimates weighs about 200,000 pounds and is worth approximately $750,000, will go to Holland, Lando said. Some may go to South America, Japan and Canada.

Lando stopped production in September. He said he is leaving Sausalito because, when the city refused to give him a use permit to expand his plant, it was not economically feasible to continue. He had sought a permit to expand his 180-foot long plant to 500 feet. The permit was denied in August by 3-2 vote of the council, with George Keeney and Howard Sievers voting against denial.

PLANNING CITED

Councilmen voting for denial said the Marinship area needed professional planning and said the addition to Lando's factory might truncate Marinship as it would extend over the route for a proposed north-south road.

Lando, who lives in Mill Valley, said he plans to open another plant, but not in Sausalito. "I would love to settle in Marin," he said. He said some of his employees have been with him for 27 years and he would like to locate in this county so they could remain in their present homes.

He said he has had invitations to build a plant in Richmond, Petaluma and Willits.

He said his annual payroll had been $425,000.

APPOINTIVE, ELECTIVE?

Mill Valley Vote On Treasurer Job Set

Mill Valley voters will be asked next April to decide whether the city treasurer should be appointive or elective.

The Mill Valley City Council voted 3-2 last night to put the matter on the municipal election ballot. It turned down 4-1 a proposal by Mayor Robert D. Huber to also put on the ballot a proposal that councilmen be paid $25 a month. They now receive no pay.

Huber was alone in voting to put the pay measures on the ballot.

The mayor and Councilmen Michael Wornum were dissenters to the proposal for the electorate to decide on elective vs. apointive city treasurer, which was moved by Councilman George D. Monardo.

Mayor Huber said he was "completely unbiased" in proposing $25 per month pay for councilman since he will not be a candidate for re-election next April.

The only incumbent councilman who could be affected would be Joseph E. Sheeks, whose term also expires next spring. Huber pointed out that the council cannot legally vote pay for terms which have already started.

Sheeks said he would "adamantly oppose the whole idea." Other councilmen—except Huber—agreed with him.

Paul Fourman, a spectator, spoke up to suggest: When you think of the abuse you have to take without pay, think of the amount you would have to take at $25."

Wornum argued against an appointive treasurer, declaring "this is the last vestige of control on how the council spends the money."

Councilman George Blackwell pointed out that former City Treasurer E. H. Daniel recommended the job be appointive.

"We had the same problem with the city clerk when that job was elective," said Blackwell. "Then we made it appointive." (City Manager A. E. Almcrants doubled as city clerk.)

Sheeks said Mill Valley is a city where people are conscious of what goes on and if an appointive city treasurer misspent funds "there would be no lack of hue and cry."

"We have the newspapers to keep a check," added Mon-

Novato Trustees Vote Pre-Election Contracts

Contracts of the three top administrative officials of Novato Unified School District were renewed for two years last night—providing the unification of Novato and San Jose Districts is approved by voters next Tuesday.

Contracts of Supt. William J. J. Smith; Ralph D. Giovannello, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, and Eugene DeBrecht, assistant superintendent in charge of business, all expire June 30, 1962. This is the day before the new unified school district would come into being if it is approved by the voters.

After meeting in an executive session, the board voted to offer two-year contracts beginning July 1, 1962 and ending June 30, 1964, to the three administrators. These contracts do not provide changes in salary or conditions of employment.

Smith had told the trustees Tuesday night that the county counsel gave the opinion there was a possibility that the board could not renew the contracts after the election, if unification passes.

This would leave the new unified district with valid contracts with the San Jose administrators, but not with the Novato administrators.

Edwin L. Blackmore, assistant to the county superintendent of schools, has stated that the new unified district must honor all administrative contracts for two years. Phillip W. Schneider, San Jose district superintendent, has a contract which runs until June 30, 1964.

Sam Rayburn Dies Of Cancer At 79

Longest Service In House

BONHAM, Tex. (AP)—Sam Rayburn, who served longer as House speaker than any man, died today in the home town he loved. (See also page 7).

Cancer and its complications caused his death. He would have been 80 on Jan. 6.

The White House was notified immediately. So with Rep. John W. McCromack of Massachusetts, the Democratic leader of the House.

McCormack was the man Rayburn chose to serve temporarily as speaker when "Mr. Sam" had to leave Congress before it closed because of what he called lumbago.

MAY HAVE KNOWN

But even then, his doctor believes, he knew he had cancer.

The physician, Dr. Joe A. Risser, and members of the speaker's family and staff stood by the bedside in Risser Hospital as Rayburn faded away.

"It was a very easy death for a very great man," Dr. Risser told reporters.

Asked about the immediate cause of death, Risser said simply that: "He just quit breathing."

Then, in more formal language, he put it this way:

"At 6:20 this morning Mr. Sam passed away. He died quietly. He showed no evidence of pain lines in the face. He semed to be as one in sleep."

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Rayburn had been unconscious for about 36 hours before his death. The doctor and family had spent two near-sleepless nights at the hospital.

The funeral services will be conducted by Elder H. C. Ball, minister of the Primitive Baptist Church of Tioga, Tex. Rayburn joined the church some years ago.

The chaplain of the House, the Rev. Bernard Braskamp, will assist.

Dr. Risser told reporters that the family decided that they would prefer that people remember the Rayburn Foundation, which supports the library instead of sending flowers.

The burial services will be held immediately after the church services at Willow Wild Cemetery. These, as well as the services at the church, will be open to the public, Holton said.

The burial will be in the family plot perhaps three-quarters of a mile from the center of this northern Texas town of 7,000, where Rayburn was the outstanding citizen.

President John F. Kennedy is expected to attend the services.

Rayburn achieved one wish concerning his death but failed in another.

"I want to die with my boots on and with my gavel in my hand," the venerable dean of 20th century politics told

U.N. Says Italians Slain By Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Thirteen Italian airmen flying for the United Nations in the Congo were murdered by drunken Congolese troops last Saturday, a U.N. spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the Italians were shot shortly after they landed at Kindu airport in Kivu province.

He said some of their bodies were hacked to pieces and thrown into the Luluaba River near Kindu prison.

They apparently had been mistaken for Belgian paratroopers.

"It is with very deep regret that we must presume 13 colleagues of the Italian Air Force have been brutally murdered by soldiers of the national Congolese army at Kindu," he said.

Smith said the Italians were having lunch at a Malayan U.N. officers' mess when a drunken mob of Congolese troops attacked.

He said the Italians were beaten severely and dragged off to a hilltop near Kindu prison where they were shot in front of a cheering crowd. Some of the Italians were unconscious from the beatings when the shooting occurred.

Smith said some of the bodies then were hacked to pieces and thrown into the Luluaba River nearby.

The United Nations sent word to central government Premier Cyrille Adoula that the troops guilty of the killings must be punished.

New Version Reported On Arrest Of Beria

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A sensational new version of the arrest of Soviet police boss Lavrenty P. Beria, purporting to come from Premier Nikita Khrushchev, was reported by Polish Communist sources today.

They said Beria brandished a pistol and was disarmed by Khrushchev himself who wrestled with him in a heretofore undisclosed meeting of the Communist party politburo.

The informants said Beria later was tried and executed on Dec. 23, 1953 in Azerbaijan. This date agreed with previous announcements of the execution.

The Polish sources told Western newsmen they were present at a glass-clinking reception for about 1,000 persons during the recent Soviet party congress in Moscow when Khrushchev launched into the story of his physical struggle with Beria.

One informant said he took notes of what Khrushchev said.

This is the account:

Khrushchev proposed a toast to the victory over the Stalinist cult of personality. He said Beria, backed by an army of secret police, launched a determined bid for power. Beria was a member of the triumvirate that included V. M. Molotov and Georgi Malenkov, and was then ruling the Soviet Union after the death of Stalin.

Other members of the Politburo decided the situation was intolerable and called a showdown meeting of the Politburo for the ostensible purpose of discussing military questions.

Before the meeting Khrushchev appealed for support to Marshal Kiril S. Moskalenko, the commandant of the Moscow garrison who since has become deputy defense minister and chief of rocket forces.

He asked Moskalenko: "Have

Mob Stones Paris Embassy In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—A mob of 1,000 African students threw stones and bottles at the French Embassy today in a howling protest against French Algerian policy. Soviet troops and police kept the demonstrators from entering the embassy building.

About 100 policemen and 100 infantrymen called out from the Moscow garrison pushed the mob back from the embassy doors. But the screaming demonstrators, who included a sprinkling of Soviet students, shattered most of the double plate glass windows on the ground floor and threw ink and milk bottles.

Damage was far less than than inflicted on the American, West German, Belgian, and Danish embassies in past anti-Western demonstrations. The troops reached the scene about 20 minutes after the crowd began marching past the building. The demonstration broke up in less than an hour.

Three Fasting Algerians Pose Problem

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle today faced mounting pressure from abroad to release three fasting Algerian nationalist leaders who reportedly intend to continue their hunger strike until set free.

Three Moroccan ministers sent by King Hassan II to plead with De Gaulle for the release of Mohammed Ben Bella, vice premier of the Algerian rebel government, and two rebel ministers announced last night that they were delaying their departure for home.

The announcement raised speculation that De Gaulle may be showing signs of freeing the three rebel leaders to avoid making them martyrs in Algeria's fight for independence.

Ben Bella and his fellow prisoners, Hussein Ait Ahmed and Mohammed Khider, were transferred under heavy guard from the Chateau de Turquant in the Loire Valley to Garches Hospital near Paris Monday night when French officials became concerned about their health.

The three started their fast Nov. 2, along with about 3,900 other Algerian prisoners in France who are on a hunger strike demanding better prison conditions.

Algerian spokesmen had indicated earlier that Ben Bella and his two ministers were demonstrating solidarity with all Algerians imprisoned by the French. But their attorneys made it clear that the three are fasting for their freedom. Ben Bella is determined to go on "to the end," his lawyer said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Victory Statement

MANILA (UPI) — A Manila newspaper publisher published a victory statement today by Liberal Party presidential candidate Diosadado Macapagal but Nacionalista candidate Carlos P. Garcia, the incumbent president, doggedly refused to concede defeat.

Macapagal, vice president under Garcia for the past four years, distributed his statement to newsmen yesterday for use only after Garcia conceded.

But wtih most of the vote from Tuesday's presidential election tallied unofficially, and Macapagal holding an apparently unbeatable lead, the Manila Evening News published his victory statement calling for "a better life for the masses of our people."

Refused Service

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Carl Rowan, deputy assistant secretary of state, was refused service at a Kansas City night club for an hour Wednesday night. Then the management learned his identity.

"It's not particularly embarrassing to me," Rowan said. "I've been in hundreds of incidents like this. I've been a Negro for a long time. It is disgusting, though, that these things happen."

Rowan was here to address the American Assn. of Land Grant College and State Universities.

Trains Delayed

NORDEN (AP) — Three of Southern Pacific's transcontinental passanger trains were delayed by a fire that blocked the railroad's mainline route at nearby Donner Pass last night.

An S.P. spokesman said fire which started in a section foreman's home spread to a wooden structure built over the tracks to keep them free of snow. The snow shed collapsed, blocking 1,200 feet of track in both directions.

The blocked section of track was expected to be restored to use later today.

For Brown

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, has indicated President John F. Kennedy expects to give Gov. Brown active campaign help in his re-election race next year.

Salinger also indicated the national Democratic leadership does not hold very high the chances of unseating Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, California Republican, up for reelection in 1962.

Salinger told a news conference that Kennedy has not planned anything specific on campaign help for Brown, but . . .

"Certainly the governorship of California is a very, very important race, and the administration, of course, is interested in the election of Democrats."

Won't Sell Book

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sacramento book distributors have agreed not to sell the novel "Tropic of Cancer."

Dist. Atty. John Price said yesterday the distributors promised to take the book by Henry Miller off their stands until courts rule on whether it violated California's anti-pornography law.

Airport Accident

BOSTON (AP)—Two airliners collided last night at a runway crossing on Logan International Airport.

Fifteen persons were injured, none seriously.

The collision wrecked one of the planes, a Northeast Airlines jet-prop Viscount. The entire after end of the plane was torn off, including the lounge and part of the passenger cabin.

The other plane, a four-engine DC-6, owned by National Airlines, came to a halt after the crash with its nose on the ground, the landing gear was broken and the bottom of the nose chewed.

A warning that the two planes were going to collide came too late.

New Storm

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter winds blew across miles of snow-covered countryside today behind the second storm to buffet New Mexico and Texas in three days. The new storm also hit Colorado, Oklahoma and Kansas.

As much as three feet of snow blanketed storm areas, which counted eight deaths from the wintry weather since Monday.

Expert Says S. P. Better Equipped

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A transportation authority said yesterday Southern Pacific is better equipped to get Western products into Eastern markets at competitive prices.

"In any case, competition between railroads doesn't keep down rates," Dr. Roy Sampson, an assistant professor at the University of Oregon, said. "But competition among producers for markets does.

"In other words, the more products available for hauling the cheaper the hauling and it is obvious that the unification of S.P. and Western Pacific parallel lines would produce a greater saving than Santa Fe's plan for an end-to-end union with W.P.," Sampson said.

Santa Fe and Southern Pacific are bidding for control of Western. Dr. Sampson gave his analysis as a rebuttal witness for S.P. at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing into the case. The hearing is in its 10th week.

Decision On Eichmann May Have Been Reached

JERUSALEM (UPI) — The three Israeli judges who tried Adolf Eichmann on charges of slaughtering six million Jews appeared today to have reached a verdict.

Teams of English, French and German translators have been asked to stand by. The judgment, reportedly about 300 pages long, is expected to be stenciled in Hebrew beginning next week.

It was believed the court had finished writing it out, or had only minor additions to make. Its members held several meetings this week to discuss reconvening, it was learned last night.

The Israeli press has predicted the verdict will be read in open court Dec. 4, but a court official said yesterday no date has been set.

Other sources pointed out Dec. 4 is the beginning of the Jewish festival of Hanukkah and believed it more likely the verdict will be delivered after the holiday ends Dec. 11.

Eichmann is a former Nazi official accused of sending Jews to death camps during World War II. In the four-month trial which adjourned Aug. 14, he contended he was never an anti-Semite and that he merely followed orders as a transportation official.

When it adjourned, the court announced it would give two-weeks notice before publicly rendering its verdict. Sources said it would take three days to read the judgment.

Eichmann's German-born attorney, Robert Servatius, is due to arrive here in about 10 days for consultations with Eichmann. The two are expected to discuss the possibility the court will allow character witnesses for Eichmann to be heard before udgment is read.

Rembrandt Sells For $2.3 Million

By MILES A. SMITH

NEW YORK (AP) — Rembrandt's masterpiece "Aristotle Contemplating the Bust of Homer" shortly will go exhibition at New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art, which last night bid it in for $2.3 million —the highest known price for a single painting.

The artist got 500 florins for it, the modern equivalent for that being $7,800.

And the National Gallery in Washington, which broke the record for auction prices for the second time in the evening, will display Fragonard's magnificently beautiful "La Liseuse," a picture of a young woman reading. The price was $875,000.

It was a record-topping night at the Parke-Bernet Galleries as 24 old masters brought $4,679,250. They were from the collection of Alfred W. Erickson, New York advertising man who died in 1936, and his widow Anna, who died last February. The auction took just under an hour.

There is no way of proving or disproving how much one painting might have brought in a private transaction at some point in history. But even guesses and rumors seldom have gone above one million to one and one-half million dollars. It never has been denied that when the late Andrew Mellon—whose pictures now are in the National Gallery—paid the Russian government 21 million dollars for seven pictures in 1932, Raphael's Alba Madonna was rated at a little more than 1.1 million dollars.

The record for a single painting at auction was $770,000 for Rubens' "The Adoration of the Magi," at a London sale in 1959. The record for a collection at auction was $2,186,000 for seven French moderns in London in 1958.

A private collector living in New York, whose name was not announced, got the third most valuable painting in the sale. It was the early Venetian Carlo Crivelli's "Madonna and Child" of 1472, the central panel of a polyptych. Other panels are in the Cleveland Museum of Art, the Brooklyn Museum and the Metropolitan, which has two.

Space Tows

PASADENA (UPI) — Ion engines some day may propel "tow trucks" in outer space to give space satellites extra speed, engineers of Consolidated Electrodynamics Corp. said in a recently published pamphlet. The ion-powered space tow trucks would haul the satellites from a low orbit on a spiral course to an orbit farther out in space and then release it.

Deadlines Near For U.S. Reds To Register

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has drawn a bead on Communist party leaders as deadlines for registering near.

The party has until Sunday to register with the department as an arm of the Soviet Union. If the party doesn't register, its officers must by Nov. 30.

Both deadlines are apt to be ignored by party leaders, who have fought the issue in the courts since passage of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy indicated in Dallas yesterday the steps his department would take if the deadlines are ignored.

If the Communist leaders fail to register "as they have indicated," Kennedy said, "they will then be subect to a $10,000 fine and a five year imprisonment."

Both the party and its leaders are subject to a fine of up to $10,000 for each day of violation. If the two deadlines are ignored there is a third: Party members must file by Dec. 20. If they don't, they face the same fine.

Also, individuals may draw a five-year prison term for each day they have not registered.

Taylor Viet Nam Aid Plans Get Go-Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is reported to have decided to go ahead with some of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's recommendations for strengthening pro-Western South Viet Nam against a growing Communist onslaught.

"We're beginning to get off the ground," a high official said.

Secrecy still obscures details of what Taylor recommended to President John F. Kennedy after returning two weeks ago from a fact-finding mission to Southeast Asia. Taylor is Kennedy's personal military adviser.

Reports from South Viet Nam indicated a number of actions already may have begun.

U.S. Air Force jets have been carrying out aerial photographic reconnaissance. The Air Force has been reported shuttling planeloads of supplies from the Philippines to airfields near Saigon. The supplies were said to include helicopters capable of carrying troops and mounting guns for low-level strafing.

There also have been reports that the Air Force is assigning several officers and men to give added instruction to the small Vietnamese air force.

Some members of the Taylor mission are known to have felt Vietnamese air power wasn't being used to its fullest advantage, even though it included only about a dozen single engine propeller-driven fighter planes and a handful of elderly transport aircraft.

To bolster this small force, it was understood a few World War II vintage B-26 bombers were being assigned to the Vietnamese.

Pentagon officials who have talked with members of the Taylor mission received an impression of something less than optimism about prospects for pulling Viet Nam out of the fire.

There was a feeling in some Pentagon quarters that the mission of the U.S. Military Advisory Group in Viet Nam should be changed, that fewer members of the group should stay in Saigon and more get out in the country to work alongside the troops and local officials at the lowest possible level.

Film Series Scheduled By Museum

Switzerland will be the theme of the first of five films in the "World Around Us" series scheduled for 1962 by the Louise A. Boyd Memorial Museum, it was announced today.

Trustees of the museum, formerly known as the Junior Museum of Marin, said the first film would be shown on Jan. 5 at the San Rafael High School auditorium. Others in the series are: Feb. 22, Tuscany; March 22, Central America; April 23, Across Tropical Africa; May 11, Russia. Tickets for the series will go on sale at the museum at 76 Albert Park Lane in San Rafael next week.

President David M. Plant told the trustees Tuesday night that a storage shed is being built with labor and materials donated by the San Rafael Optimist Club. A filter for the seal pond was purchased with funds donated by the Kiwanis Club and scientific reference books have been added to the library with money donated by the Business and Professional Mens Club.

San Rafael landscape architects Katy and Paul Steinmetz have donated a landscaping plan for the museum and plants are being donated by Egger's Nursery, Plant said.

The board was informed the museum will begin construction of new outside animal cages. Two new animals, a spider monkey and a coyote, have been given to the museum, Plant said.

The flower market in Mexico City is half a block long and it is open all night.

RAYBURN

friends when he left Washington at the end of August for what was to be his final departure.

"They're going to have to carry me out of here, God willing. I love this house," he said.

Later, when illness ravaged his body, his associates quoted him as saying he wanted to return to this community, his hometown, to end his days among "those friends and neighbors who for so long have given me a love and loyalty unsurpassed in any annals."

He was brought to this town of 7,000 persons Oct. 31 from Baylor Hospital in Dallas, 75 miles southeast of here.

A diagnosis of cancer was made shortly after he entered Baylor Oct. 2.

The ailment, originally described by Rayburn as lumbago, forced him to abandon his post as boss of the House almost a month before the last session of Congress adjourned.

It was an unprecedented thing for "Mr. Sam" to do, and friends immediately suspected that Rayburn himself feared the worst.

Last Saturday, his doctor said Rayburn had only hours or days to live. He lapsed into increasingly long periods of semi-consciousness or unconsciousness.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas and Mrs. S. E. Bartley of Bonham, and his brother, Richard Rayburn of Bonham. They are the last of a family that once numbered 11 children.

A bachelor, Rayburn's only marriage was dissolved several months after it took place in 1927.

He detested Washington's social whirl of which he had to be a part and preferred to spend his leisure evenings in his homey rooms in a Washington apartment hotel.

There he would sit for hours with friends, nibbling at a steak and sipping bourbon in moderation while watching television. He loved good food and good drink and enjoyed sharing it with his intimates.

Friends suspected that Rayburn would have been a good, or doting father. He loved children, especially boys.

"God," he once confided to a friend, "what I would give for a tow-headed boy to take fishing."

He was sensitive about two things, his lack of hair and his ill-starred marriage. He often accused photographers of focusing cameras in such a way as to emphasize his complete baldness.

He wouldn't discuss his marriage to Miss Metze Jones of Valley View, Tex., a sister of former Rep. Marvin Jones of Texas. They married on Oct. 15, 1927, and several months later the marriage was dissolved. She now is Mrs. Jeff Nelly of Amarillo, Tex.

Although a God-fearing man and a respector of all religions, Rayburn did not publicly embrace any religion until he was 74 years old. At that age he was baptized into the Tioga, Tex., Primitive Baptist Church.

Rayburn's down-to-earth political philosophy could be summed up this way:

"In politics you have to know how the people feel and what they are thinking. If you don't feel what you can't see, you are dead."

BILL FOR BABY PAID 'HARD' WAY

Papa Fred Boracchia of 364 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, proprietor of the Alpine Market in Fairfax, plunked down the cartwheels at the hospital to pay for admission of wife Gloria for arrival of the new baby.

Against the time when she and mama are ready to go home, papa has another 150 silver dollars to pay off the rest of the bill, he said.

ardo. To this Wornum replied: "It's not the duty of the newspapers to check on spending of money. It is the position of the treasurer."

"I don't know why you hesitate now," said Monardo. "You have voted to streamline everything."

Wornum retorted, "The next thing is to make the council appointive."

If the appointive treasurer proposal is approved by the voters next April, it will not take effect until the present term of City Treasurer William G. Rutherford expires in 1964.

EXPERT

"any usable land—it may do."

Chamberlain said most scientists believe there is little radioactive danger from fallout from the current "burst of activity" on the part of the Russians.

He said the effect on the average life expectancy is equivalent to about the loss of one day. Of course, he added, shorten each life by a day all over the earth and you have a 100,000 extra deaths. In Marin it means one or two deaths in the next 30 to 50 years.

Dr. Chamberlain believes that living with fallout need not be any more distressing than living with the hazards of driving, heart disease, or smoking. The body is damaged more from an airplane trip than the current fallout rate, he said.

Asked to comment on the survival series by Prof. Willard F. Libby now appearing in the Independent-Journal and Libby's $30 fallout shelter, Dr. Chamberlain said: "I think the recent Los Angeles fire answers that question . . . Such a fallout shelter would have to be very, very far away from the blast to be of any good."

He said he saw no way out of the arms race with Russia at the present time. "If we are to take our retaliatory power seriously," he said, "we must continue nuclear testing . . . Some of those tests will probably be in the atmosphere."

The talk was taped for Radio KTIM to broadcast at a later date. It was sponsored by the Ross Valley Democratic Club.

Furnace Co. Complaint In Hub City Told

Another complaint against Holland Furnace Co. salesmen was reported today in San Anselmo, and in Corte Madera the building inspector requested action against the firm for violations of the town building code.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani of San Anselmo referred to the district attorney a complaint by Mrs. Adeline Hayes of 49 Park Drive. He said Mrs. Hayes told him she paid a Holland Furnace Co. representative $10 to clean her furnace, but after taking the money he said it could not be cleaned and called a "technician" of the company named Robert Parkerson. The latter then told her the furnace would have to be replaced and offered a new one at a "special 10 per cent discount price" of $1,544. Mrs. Hayes made a $150 down payment and the furnace was installed.

William G. McBride, Corte Madera building inspector, asked Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis to initiate legal action against Holland Furnace Co. for violations of the building code. He listed three furnace installations and one thermostat installation made by the company's representatives without permits. He also charged Robert Parkerson, Paul Rouvalis and William Hill had violated town ordinance in soliciting in Corte Madera.

Town Attorney Davis, in response to a query, said he had not yet received McBride's letter, but commented, "People must defend themselves or we will end up in a welfare state."

you some men who are willing to risk their lives?" And Moskalenko replied without hesitation: "I have."

But Moskalenko managed to smuggle in a submachine gun past the guards. Since the meeting was to discuss military problems, Moskalenko and his picked group were allowed into a waiting room adjoining the Politburo room.

At the meeting, members of the Politburo asked Beria to explain charges he had worked as a British agent during the revolutionary days of 1918. They also asked him to explain what happened to a party member who disappeared in the purges of the 1930s after making this accusation.

Khrushchev told Beria: "You are not a true Communist and never even joined a party organization."

Beria then pulled his gun from a brief case. Khrushchev grabbed him and tried to get the gun. Malenkov pressed a floor button, summoning Moskalenko and his group.

Beria was overpowered, put under arrest and led away.

Trial Set For Longshore Union Aide Archie Brown

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The trial of Archie Brown, San Francisco longshore union official charged with violating a federal law forbidding a Communist to be a union official, yesterday was set for Jan. 22 by U.S. Dist. Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli.

The date was agreed upon by U.S. Atty. Cecil F. Poole and defense associate counsel Norman Leonard.

Leonard said Richard Gladstein, attorney in cases involving leftist personalities, will defend Brown.

Brown was indicted May 24 on a charge of violating the Landrum-Griffin Act. The indictment charged Brown was a member of the executive board of Local 10, International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, while still a member of the Communist Party.

Brown, 50, contends the law under which he is charged not only violates his right to be a member of the union but also violates the right of the union to choose its own officers.

U.S. Has Busy Day In Space —3 New Satellites Circling

Navigation, 'Spy' Aids Get Boost

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three new United States satellites circled the globe today seeking data for navigation and spy-in-the-sky space systems.

The trio soared aloft yesterday in one of this nation's most productive days in the space age.

Two of the satellites rode skyward in the nose of a Thor-Able-Star rocket fired from Cape Canaveral last night. One is the 190-pound Transit 4-B, partially powered by a nuclear generator. The other is a 240-pound "Dumbell" package which is intended to stretch out more than 100 feet in two weeks in a satellite stabilization experiment.

The satellite twins gave the U.S. a big boost toward a space navigation network to guide ships, planes, submarines and missiles.

Earlier, the 35th rocket in the Discoverer series flung a satellite into orbit from Vandenburg Air Force Base, in another try at developing means of recovering capsules from space.

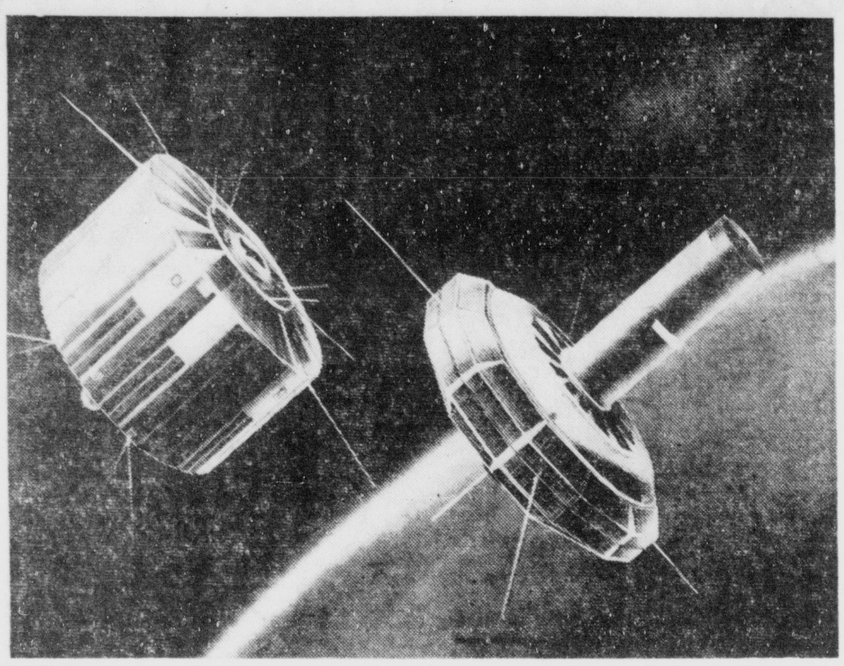

Within a few days, the Discoverer is scheduled to eject a capsule which Hawaii-based planes will attempt to snare as it parachutes to earth. Eight such capsules have been retrieved in previous tests. Perfecting the tenchnique is essential for recovering data from the Midas missile detector and Samos reconnaissance satellites.

The successes raised the total of successful U.S. satellites to 59. The Soviet Union has orbited 13.

In other missile-space developments yesterday:

A Pershing artillery missile scored its 22nd success in 26 test firings on a short-range hop of less than 220 miles from Cape Canaveral.

The Nike-Zeus missile killer system registered a double triumph at White Sands, N.M. In one test, Zeus radar tracked a special missile test target. In the other, the launch technique and ground electronics equipment were given a trial.

SATELLITES LAUNCHED — The Defense Department released this drawing in Washington yesterday after a rocket was fired at Cape Canaveral in an effort to put two satellites into orbit at once. The units are the drum-shaped 4-B navigation satellite (left) and a doorknob-shaped one named Traac. (AP Wirephoto)

The Air Force announced plans to send into orbit next month a 10-pound satellite named Oscar (for orbiting satellite carrying amateur radio) to beam signals to more than 200,000 amateur radio operators in this country. Intended to be kicked loose from a Discoverer, Oscar will enable the hams to practice the art of tracking and observing a moving space object.

In the only failure, an Argo D-8 rocket broke apart shortly after it lifted off from Point Arguello. The shot was intended to probe briefly the Van Allen radiation belt with a parcel of instruments.

Transit 4-B is the fifth and last test satellite in the series aimed at an operational network of four transits by the fall of 1962.

The Atomic Energy Commission reported the grapefruit-sized atomic generator in 4-B is operating. The first unit of this type was aboard transit 4-A last June and gave the United States a large lead over the Soviet Union in harnessing nuclear power for space exploration.

Labor Blasts Closure Of NWP Tunnel

Members of the Marin County Labor Council voted last night to protest abandonment of the Puerto Suello tunnel by Northwestern Pacific Railroad with consequent halt of rail service through San Rafael.

The action was taken on recommendation of County Supervisor Walter R. Castro, who dealt with a variety of problems now before the supervisors in a talk to the AFL-CIO union representatives. He proposed that council members meet with his board to discuss such matters as have been subject of recent council letters to supervisors.

Notable among these was the problem of building costs, concerning which the council has repeatedly held that some changes in official procedure might help bring down local costs and make it easier for working folk to live in Marin County.

Castro countered that costs of supplying utilities are significant in housing developments. He cited an example of a reported cost of $1,100 per house to bring water to one development now in the planning stage.

He said further study should be given such matters as building costs, the railroad tunnel closure with effect on business and industry, and the problem of the county hospital. This last, he said, might be solved by use of nursing homes or by retaining the 40-cent tax now used for the civic center and diverting it for hospital construction during the next fiscal year.

Paul Crumley of the Carpenters Union reported a slight slowing of carpenter work in the county, with resultant reappearance of an "out of work" carpenter list which had disappeared through the summer.

Lloyd Brooks of the Laborers Union said he thought the "bottom seemed to be falling out" though work was still fairly good. Omar McNally of the Machinists said his union needs skilled and semi-skilled help. Other unions had good reports.

United States Mourns Death Of 'Mr. Sam'

In a statement released after the chief executive, saddened by the death of House Speaker San Rayburn, had taken off on a trip to the West Coast, Kennedy said the nation "has lost a devoted servant and the citizens of this country an unflinching friend."

The presidential statement echoed sentiments voiced in an outpouring of sad tributes which began flowing from the Capitol immediately after the news came from Bonham, Tex., where the speaker died. (See also page 1.)

There were no party lines in the expressions of grief over the loss of the man known as "Mr Democrat." The Republicans who fought him at every step in the chambers of Congress were as outspoken in sorrow as the most loyal political followers.

Two partners of the speaker in dealing with the nation's business—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana — effectively summed up for their legislative colleagues.

Johnson's office said:

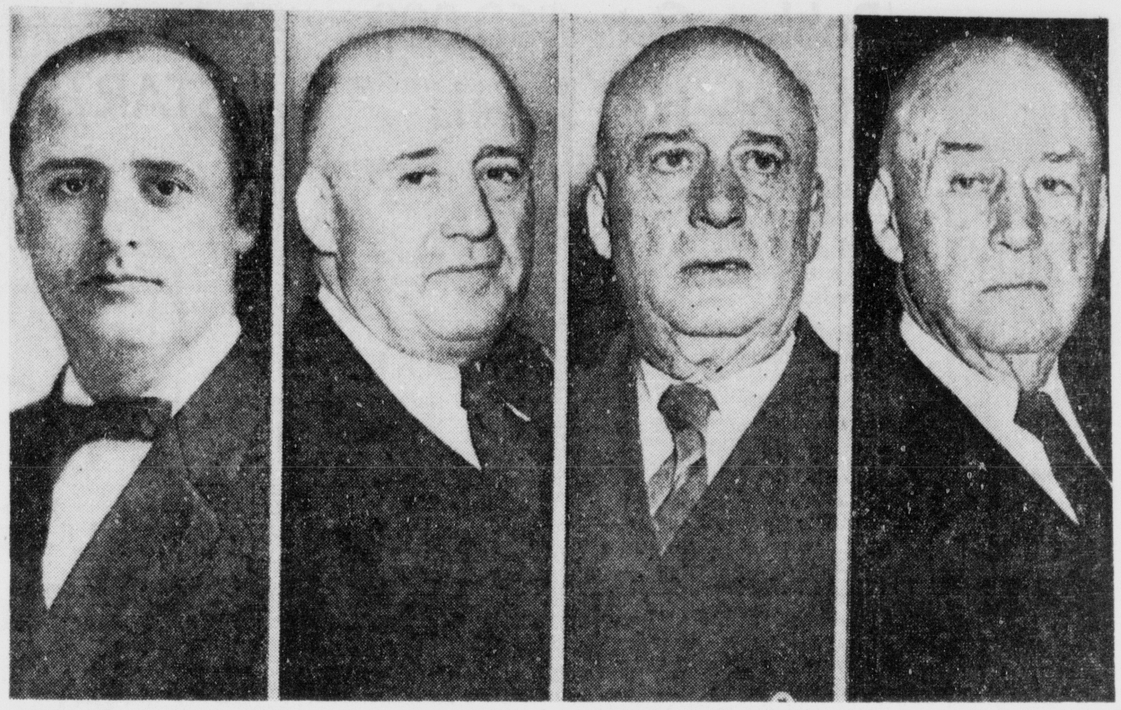

"The Capitol is a lonely place without him and the good people of the world have lost a companion and an ally. He was always there when he was needed. His voice and his judgment were heard and respected. In the end it all added up to one thing: He did what was right."

Mansfield put a similar view in these words:

"He was the last of the old frontiersmen and his place will be difficult to fill."

Former President Harry S. Truman, also a close associate of Rayburn, said at his home in Independence, Mo., "I am just as sorry as I can be to hear of Sam's passing. He was one of the great men of our time."

Former House Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, long a co-worker with Rayburn and the man who took over from the Texan when the Republicans were in control of the House, said few men have had a greater influence on our national life in recent years than Rayburn.

STEPS IN LONG CAREER — House Speaker Sam Rayburn, who died today in Bonham, Tex., is shown at various stages of his career (from left) in 1911 after becoming speaker of the House in the Texas Legislature; in 1939 as House majority leader in Washington; in 1949 after his election to speaker of the house, and as he appeared earlier this year before being hospitalized for cancer. (AP Wirephotos)

McCormack Appears Likely To Be Speaker

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A veteran Massachusetts Democrat with whom President John F. Kennedy has feuded sparodically for more than a dozen years appeared slated today to take command of administration forces in the U.S. House of Representatives.

All signs indicated that House Democrats in January will elect their floor leader, 69-year-old Rep. John W. McCormack, as speaker to succeed 79-year-old Sam Rayburn.

For a record-shattering 21 years McCormack has served behind Rayburn as the No. 2 Democrat in the House. Although he is not the most popular man in the house, many Demorats feel McCormack has earned a right to the top post because of his long party service and seniority.

The administration's legislative program undoubtedly will suffer from the change in leadership. No new speaker will have the influence that Rayburn wielded.

Reporter Helps Get Scoff Law Under Arrest

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—A gun-toting former Naval officer held off deputies who tried to serve him with traffic warrants yesterday and wound up in jail.

The retired officer, Edgar Leslie, 55, fired one shot from a .30-caliber rifle over the head of a Sonoma County sheriff's deputy before he surrendered to a newspaper reporter.

Deputy Art Loveland retreated to his car and radioed for reinforcements. Two more deputies arrived but Leslie refused to accept the warrants.

Leslie finally surrendered to Boniface Saludes, a reporter for the Santa Rosa Press Democrat. Leslie was held on charges of resisting arrest, threatening an officer and refusing to accept a warrant.

Bay Butchers Accept Three-Year Contract

More than six weeks of negotiations between butchers and retail meat dealers ended last night when 1,700 members of the Butchers Union in the Bay Area voted to accept a new three-year contract.

Included in the new agreement is a $7-a-week, across-the-board raise for the first year, $4 the second year and $3 the third year. The butchers now make $126.40 a week.

More than 300 butchers in Marin County are members of the union. The vote last night, at a meeting in the Sailors Union of the Pacific hall in San Francisco, represented 2,024 Bay Area members.

Also agreed on between the union and the Retail Meat Dealers Assn. were $2 a day premium pay for work performed before 9 a.m. and after 6 p.m., 12.2 cents an hour for straight hour time toward a medical plan, and three-day funeral leave for a death of an immediate member of the family.

Robber Gets $60,000 In Nob Hill Jewels

The robber, posing as a telephone company worker, escaped with a pocketful of jewels and $350 in cash from the apartment of retired auto dealer Joseph Glikbarg and his wife.

The man tied up Glikbarg, 70, his bedridden wife, and their cook, Antoinette La Flame, after brandishing what Glikbarg described as "the biggest gun I ever saw in my life."

The robber, wearing a loose-fitting white sweater and gray slacks, told the maid he had come to repair the telephone. Once inside, Glikbarg told police, he pulled the pistol and announced, "This is a holdup."

$200,000 In Jewels Taken From Store

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Two well-dressed men, one carrying an attache case and the other a briefcase, coolly staged a $200,000 jewelry store robbery yesterday.

Ten days ago one of the men bought a jeweled cross at the store, H. L. Gross and Co. This time he strolled in with a companion and said he came to exchange the cross.

The other man informed Joseph Singer, the manager: "I am a Treasury agent. This store has been depositing phony money, and I'm here to check on it."

As Singer swung open the safe door, both men produced guns. The attache case and briefcase were filled with watches, rings and loose diamonds.

Aubrey Burns Suffers Attack

Aubrey Burns, executive director of the Marin United Fund for the past 12 years, was taken to Ross Hospital early today after suffering a heart attack at his home 117 Oak Drive in San Rafael.

Hospital attendants said he was out of danger and resting comfortably today.

He suffered an attack last evening and was taken to the hospital at 4 a.m. today.

U.S. Catholic Group Says Anti-Red Extremists Aiding Communist Cause

The assertion was made by the Social Action Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference in a report submitted to the annual meeting of U.S. Catholic bishops. The department is headed by Archbishop William E. Cousins of Milwaukee.

Although it mentioned no specific groups, the report expressed concern about "various U.S. anti-Communist organizations which stress the danger of internal subversion."

It said such organizations are lending unintentional aid to the Communists by "dividing and confusing Americans."

It said they also divert attention away from the real menace of "critical Communist gains in Asia, Africa and Latin America."

A recent study by the Social Action Department, the report said, showed that extreme anti-Communist organizations "often consider as Communists those who hold views and positions which most Americans consider as legitimate if controverted political attitudes."

"Some of these groups openly profess to use tactics and methods borrowed from the Communist Party," the report said. "They tend to label individuals as pro-Communist or Communist, and to harass or persecute such individuals."

A Catholic professor, Rev. Charles B. Quick of Providence College, said recently that "a substantial number of Catholics"—including priests as well as laymen—had become "dues-paying members" of the John Birch Society.

Four cardinals and 182 bishops and archbishops from all parts of the United States are attending the hierarchical meeting, which will continue through tomorrow. The assembled bishops will issue a joint statement after they adjourn. The annual statement usually deals with some current public issue.

Two Are Named To Conference

College Students Tell About What They Want

College of Marin students have some pretty definite ideas of things they want at their school, the college's trustees learned yesterday at a luncheon discussion.

Among them: a college debating team, student participation in counseling high school seniors, anonymity for reporters on the campus newspaper.

The get-together at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto was initiated by Tom Schulz, student body president, "to get closer relationship between the board and students." Attending were trustees, administrators, teachers and students. Six round-table discussion groups were formed.

Elbridge (Sonny) Nestlehut said an increase of student responsibility and control of the students' own affairs is needed. He said his group felt the campus newspaper reporters should not be required to have their names appear on all items.

Margaret Deedy, daughter of board clerk Elizabeth M. Deedy, said her group was interested in having college students participate with counselors to tell high school seniors "what college is really like from a student standpoint."

Schulz said students in his group felt the college administration should be able to make the cafeteria and book store more self-supporting.

Peninsula Coordinating Group Elects

William H. Rafter of Belvedere last night was elected president of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council. Rafter represents the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. and the Bel Aire merchants on the council. He succeds Dick DeBerry as president.

Other officers elected were Dr. Fenimore Cady Jr., vice president; Fred Hannahs, secretary; Alan D. Kirchner, treasurer; Peter MacGowan, Stephen H. Nash, George Goddard, C.W. Young, and Helen Newman, directors.

Peter H. Behr, candidate opposing Supervisor J. Walter Blair in the Dec. 5 recall election, spoke to the group.

He charged that the board of supervisors, by not making policy decisions, has let the county hospital issue drift.

For economy reasons, he recommended purchasing compact cars for county use. This would not include the sheriff's cars, which should be leased, Behr said.

Ball Field Named For Custodian

Larkspur school district trustees have voted to name the district's Little League baseball field Wagner Field, after the district custodian who died on Oct. 25 while on duty.

The Larkspur-Corte Madera School student council suggested the name.

The board, meeting Tuesday night, hired Michael Wagner, 21, son of the late Joseph J. Wagner to replace his father as custodian of Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel reported refuse was being dumped over the fence onto the San Clemente School property by Mariner's Cove residents. The board instructed Seidel to send a letter to the homeowners asking they clean up the mess.

Trustees decided to hire a fulltime teacher in January to relieve teacher Lucille Cordeiro from her classroom at Larkspur-Corte Madera School. Mrs. Cordeiro will be a special language instructor for all schools in the district.

OPENS NEW FIRM—Alden S. Nye, 14 Community Road, Belvedere, has announced his resignation as TV-radio director of McCann-Erickson, Inc. to open his own firm, Nye Communications Enterprises in San Francisco.

New Power Tools Are Space Savers

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UPI)—Going on the theory that families are getting bigger but living space is getting smaller, a firm here has announced production of a line of power tools so compact they can be stored easily in a closet or even under the kitchen sink.

Called "Compactool," the line consists of three units—a saw, drill and jointer — each of which weighs less than 40 pounds.

Rezoning Near School Is Denied

The Mill Valley Planning Commission Tuesday night unanimously denied a request to rezone the Bothin property across from Tamalpais High School from special commercial to a zoning to include retail sales and services.

Commissioners said there is already plenty of retail sales and service property in the city and to add more might create shop vacancies and depressed areas.

Francis Newton, representing Bothin, said rezoning would not devalue the existing shopping areas. He said this has been proved in other communities.

Bridge Motorists Getting Cards On Destinations

Motorists using the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge became postcard collectors today.

They're not expected to hoard the postcards, though, The California Division of San Francisco Bay Toll Crossings wants the cards back.

From today through Monday, each motorist passing through toll gates of the bridge is to receive a postcard asking the origin and destination of his trip. He is asked to answer the questions and drop the card in the nearest mail box. The state pays the postage.

The results are to be used in selecting location of a new crossing of San Francisco Bay to carry rapid transit facilities, according to the Division of Bay Toll Crossings announcement.

Of 2,128,948 soldiers who served in Union armies during the Civil War, only 47,347 were draftees.

New Tam Teachers Meet Members Of Kiwanis Club

Dr. Joost Sluis, San Francisco physician, was guest speaker at a Ross Valley Kiwanis Club luncheon yesterday at which five new teachers in Tamalpais High School were introduced to the members of the club.

Introduced were Maxwell Hull, English; Edward McClellan, mathematics; Henry Marshall, physical education; Joseph McConnell Jr., history, and Mrs. Florabel Walker, English. Six more new teachers at Tam High will be introduced at the Kiwanis Club meeting on Dec. 6.

Dr. Sluis, who is a member of the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade, spoke on the communistic conversion attempt in the United States. He said Communists will try domination through philosophy, force, psychology, or trade.

He concluded that Americans have two alternatives of combating this infiltration: (1) Turn the job over to the government—which would form a type of dictatorship, or (2) each individual build up himself to combat the Communist philosophy. He strongly urged the latter.

Ross Council To Wear Two Hats

Ross Town Council will wear two hats tonight, sitting first as a planning commission and next in its council role.

Hearings on a proposed new zoning ordinance, starting at 8 p.m. in the town hall, will continue along lines followed for the past seven or eight months.

Then as council the group will undertake revisions of the Ross sales tax ordinance, to bring it in line with recent changes in state law, and will consider a grant of right of way to the Marin Municipal Water District for laying 157 feet of pipe on Winding Way.

Don't Carry It Too Far, Jayne

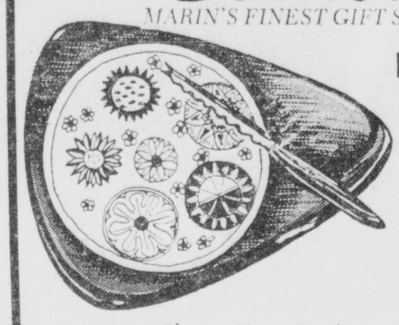

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Jayne Mansfield is changing the color of her hair and she says this will mark the beginning of the end of her sexy personality.

She is allowing her hair to become its natural light brown from its famous platinum blonde.

"Already I have bought a completely new wardrobe and it was selected to go with the new color of my hair," she said. "Now that I am making the color change, I think I am done with the sexpot bit."

She did not indicate she was changing her equally-famous low cut gowns.

Blair Absent As Panel Debates Whether He Should Keep Office

With the subject of the topic absent, four attorneys today debated on the radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" whether County Supervisor J. Walter Blair should be recalled Dec. 5.

Mill Valley attorney Peter H. Behr, Blair's opponent, and attorney David Ring of Tiburon argued that Blair should be recalled as having failed to represent the people of the Third Supervisorial District as they wished.

Attorney's John B. Ehlen of Sausalito and Albert Bianchi of Mill Valley argued that he should be retained as an honest, conscientious official against whom recall would be a misuse of the law.

Moderator Kitty Openheimer said Blair had been invited to appear but had declined.

The program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

The four panelists shared something less than a half hour to state their positions, then answered questions from the radio audience.

The program began with appearance by R. Keith Dearth, president of the Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn., sponsors of the program for the past nine and one-half years, and Daniel C. Davis, president of Marin Industrial Development Foundation.

The occasion was the 500th "Sounding Board" since the series was inaugurated.

Mrs. Oppenheimer read the recall petition to the board of supervisors. It assailed Blair's votes to abolish the office of county administrator, to reduce the size of the Point Reyes National Seashore, to stop work on the civic center and to approve the Strawberry Tower Apartments.

Ring said it is "up to the people" to decide whether the recall move is fair. He said election does "not mean the officerholder is entitled to the full term of his tenure" if he does not act as the people wish.

Ehlen said recall is intended only to remove "officials guilty of misconduct or neglect of official duties," and asserted Blair has not been remiss. He denied Blair had failed to consider the wishes of the voters.

Behr backed the propriety of recall as "desirable and essential" because state law does not otherwise provide checks and balances on a supervisor who has both legislative and executive functions.

Bianchi said recall is one of the "valid and cherished tools" of government, but said Behr backers had "not charged Blair with being a crook or having his hand in the taxpayer's till." He termed Behr supporters "a small clique of self-motivated associates" and said they sought a "cure-all, patent-medicine brand of government."

At 9:30 a.m. when listener questions were delayed in reaching the studio, Behr asked Ehlen and Bianchi whether they were familiar with the preliminary or final county budget for fiscal 1962.

Ehlen replied he was not but he was sure Behr could get "adequate answers from Supervisor Blair after the election."

A listener question to Behr and Ring asked whether defeated Supervisor Vera Schultz talked of a recall at the time of Blair's election. Ring said "as far as I know this is 100 per cent false." Behr said "I don't believe it is true."

Bianchi said, "It is my understanding there was a meeting in Olney Hall at College of Marin shortly after Blair took office and other meetings before he took office."

In answer to another question, Behr charged the county now has the largest budget in its history "and it is $350,000 higher than it appears."

Ring was asked whether voters had come to Blair with requests on specific matters. He replied "Yes—and with no success."

Behr assailed Blair's vote to reduce the size of the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore from 53,000 acres to 23,000 acres as "infamous." Ehlen replied Supervisor Walter R. Castro was alone in the 4-to-1 vote for this.

Ehlen said the county tax rate had gone down seven cents this year. Ring said that while he was Mill Valley City Councilman in 1956, Behr had voted to spend "$20,000 for a drag strip."

A.F., Army Workers Get Raise

About 500 civilian employees of Air Force and Army installations in Marin will collect nine cents more per hour on their next pay checks.

The hike will mean about $100,000 per year more in the pay envelopes of the workers.

The increases are included in a general raise for civilian employees of the armed services, starting with the first pay period after Nov. 8.

About 400 are affected at Hamilton Air Force Base, 19 at the Mill Valley Radar Station, and 72 at Fort Baker, according to Air Force and Army sources here.

Oakland Council Votes Home For Raiders

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland City Council today voted to give the homeless Oakland Raiders football team a temporary stadium next season, and a club official said that the American League entry would not change cities.

"The understanding was that we'd stick around if the city would give us a home field," general manager Wes Fry of the Raiders said.

Silent Crowd Has Its Way In Mill Valley

A dozen Mill Valleyans were poised ready to protest the modified four-lot subdivision of C. B. Redmond on Greenwood Way at the Mill Valley City Council meeting last night, but won without saying a word.

The citizens were there to protest the subdivision on the basis the road would lead up to a proposed road on Corte Madera Ridge, the latter being laid out in the North Ridge Master Plan. Redmond's attorney, Leonard Blume, asked for a continuance.

Councilmen said it was not the policy to continue such hearings and felt it especially bad when so many people had turned out on the matter. It voted 4-1 not to continue, Councilman George D. Monardo dissenting.

At this Blume said, "in that event, the applicant withdraws the matter."

A letter from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. told the council the firm has no objection to its property being annexed to the city. The land, with that of Adolph Biggio, who has also agreed to annexation, is about five acres and lies in the marshland area near city-owned land bought for the proposed small craft harbor.

After a public hearing on proposed amendments to the zoning ordinance, the council voted 5-0 to approve a planning commission recommendation to prohibit service stations in professional-administrative districts.

It voted not to amend the variance procedure regarding substandard lots which would allow the council to confirm or deny action of the planning commission. It voted to change the height limitation for building to allow part of a building to exceed the specified limit.

The council voted to amend the ordinance to process planned unit development on lands adjacent to the city and due to be annexed in the same manner as provided for city land. It referred to the planning commission for further study a proposal for automatic setback for parking structures and decks.

The council also:

1. Introduced a proposed sewer ordinance by title only.
2. Referred to city engineer Stanley M. Bala a request from Sherill Brodie asking the city to consider acceptance of fill from Enchanted Knolls point in a possible exchange for Brodie's firm leasing some city land.
3. Directed City Manager A. E. Almcrants to report at next meeting possibilities of setting up a subcommittee, to include Tamalpais Valley, to pursue the matter of the drainage problems of Corte Madera Del Presidio and Coyote creeks.
4. Heard that police chief Dan Terzich is working on a police training course with other cities after which mayor Robert D. Huber commended work of police reserve officers as well as amateur radio operators who have worked with the police.
5. Decided to place a stop sign on the northwest corner of Cornelia Avenue at the intersection with Lovell Avenue.
6. Asked Bala to prepare plans for annexation of 12 Country Club Drive properties and that city attorney Leland H. Jordan forward information to the boundaries commission.
7. Voted 4-1, Councilman Monardo voting "no," to permit A. R. Larson to subdivide a lot at 121 Lomita Drive to give him two substandard lots, each lot to be slightly short of the total necessary area.
8. Approved warrants of $28,879.

DINOSAURS CAN BE PAIN IN THE NECK

Three-year-old Irwin Horn discovered yesterday that there are no dinosaurs under his back porch in Tamalpais Valley.

Irwin poked his head under the bottom step of the back porch of the home at 351 Linda Way at 3:10 p.m. When he tried to withdraw it, it was stuck. He yelled.

Mrs. Robert H. Horn tried to release her son but found him stuck fast. She called the Tamalpais Valley Fire Department.

Fire Chief Herbert Owen raised the step and freed Irwin.

"What were you doing, anyhow?" Mrs. Irwin asked her weeping son.

"Looking for dinosaurs," he replied.

Mrs. Doyle Was Not At Meeting

Mrs. Agnes Doyle was not present at a Belvedere City Council meeting Monday night at which the council voted a resolution rescinding its censure of her at a Sept. 11 meeting and extending its apology.

The Independent-Journal reported in error Tuesday that Mrs. Doyle was present the preceding night.

What Becomes Of Patients If County Farm Condemned?

By RANDALL GOULD

Marin County supposedly has just 20 nursing home beds available for patients at this time.

The condemned county hospital has 71 bed patients.

Nearby counties which have been recently checked have virtually no extra beds available.

These three facts today summed up results of check by County Medical Director Rafael G. Dufficy Jr. and his staff in view of the state's threat to suspend the county hospital license Dec. 31.

Told that his facts spelled one big question — "what to do?"—Dufficy said:

"We don't know."

But as is Dufficy's wont, there was quick elaboration:

"As of right now we haven't got the answer, though we've been mighty busy trying to find some course if the license is lost. The supervisors say they will make a decision, but so far it hasn't come.

"Clearly it is not going to be easy and perhaps it isn't going to be possible to find beds outside the hospital.

"Such being the case I will say one thing. Even with the license gone, I'll fight against pulling the patients out if beds aren't available.

"The welfare of the patients comes first and I think even a court would agree. In any case, if the license is lost the state will give what it calls 'a reasonable time' for us to find other accommodation. Then, if we haven't moved, they can bring an injunction.

"But all this takes time. We will be doing our best. Clearly, though, it would be inhumane to move those patients into sub-standard care."

Dufficy said his survey of the "beds available" situation has so far taken in Sonoma, Napa and Contra Costa Counties. He found a few beds available in Sonoma County, none in the other two.

This seemed odd, he added, because "in Sonoma the county authorities are in quite a bind themselves. So we must investigate and see why they are not using those beds. The reasons might prevent us from using them, either."

Even in Marin County, it has been Dufficy's policy to refuse to put patients into some nursing homes authorized for reception by state approval but not up to what he felt the patients required.

Dufficy said that he's not concerned about money at this emergency stage. Others, however, are doing some fast thinking on that subject.

Welfare Director Betty L. Presley said it is far from clear as to whether after Jan. 1 the county can expect medical aid for the aged.

Administrator Alan Bruce said it is uncertain whether even in such a scheme as proposed by Frank E. Marsh, for private provision of beds at $400 per patient a month, it would be possible to use state medical aid money plus a special county contribution to make up the $400.

"It's supposed to be a matching formula of 50 per cent federal, 25 per cent state and 25 per cent county," explained Miss Pressley. "If the county goes beyond 25 per cent—well, we just don't know.

"Even more important to me in any situation of farming out the patients, perhaps to other counties, is control of medical care. What social work and medical review of the placement every three months?"

Smoking Effects Class At School

A two-week program to acquaint students with the effects of smoking started yesterday at Vallecitos School in Terra Linda.

The Marin Medical Society is sponsoring the program under direction of Dr. Gerald Hill. It includes a film strip and teaching outline provided by the American Cancer Society. Various volunteer members of the Marin Medical Society are presenting the film and talks, followed by a question and answer period for seventh and eighth graders at Vallecitos School.

A PROPOSED COMMUNITY SHELTER PLAN

The group shelter tested in Nevada—the only shelter ever subjected in this country at least to actual bomb test—was a quonset hut type of structure, a multiplate corrugated steel arch set on a concrete slab, and placed in the ground.

Its top came about level with the edge of the hole; it was covered with several feet of dirt.

Atomic Energy Commission scientists and technicians stayed inside it while an A-bomb, about equal in power to the one that fell at Hiroshima, was set off atop a tower about one mile away.

This community shelter was equipped with bunks (one bed for each two persons), dining and recreation room, toilets, an antenna and periscope, air intake and filter, air exhaust vent, water supply and food stocks, a gasoline-driven electric generator, oxygen supply, and an emergency sand-filled exit, among other items.

Built for the AEC at a cost of $2,500, it was designed to withstand blast pressure of 35 pounds per square inch, and to reduce the intensity of fallout radiation about 10,000-fold from the immediate area above the shelter.

It can sustain 100 persons for 14 days to a month. All 100 of them could get inside the shelter within five minutes by filing in quickly. It can be completely buttoned up or sealed for three hours—as it might be in a firestorm—or for a week when the outside air is used.

Built privately, this shelter might coust about $5,000 now if undertaken by a neighborhood group. The estimate of $5,000 includes equipping it with radiation meters and other essential equipment. Beyond that, the neighbors would still have to contribute food, blankets and other supplies.

Such a community shelter would be very effective, and far more comfortable than the economical poor man's shelter which is designed solely to keep you alive.

This type of shelter could also be used in ordinary times as a clubhouse, recreation hall or meeting place for social functions. It certainly need not be considered an emergency building in case of attack.

Building it involves selecting and buying a site, meeting zoning requirements, getting approval of the Civil Defense Office, perhaps a bank loan, and engaging a reliable contractor.

Designs for community shelters are available from your local office of Civil Defense.

Hub Mother, Children In Fair Condition

A San Anselmo mother and two children injured in an automobile accident yesterday were reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Mrs. Barbara Currie, of 100 Oak Springs Avenue, and her children, Debbie, 5, and Randy, 12, were held at the hospital after their car slammed into a tree. A third child, Bill, 13, was released yesterday after treatment for minor injuries.

Contaminated Food Being Looked Into

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—At least six California agencies are making plans to protect people from contaminated food in the event radiation fallout increases to the danger point.

Dr. John Heslep, acting chief of the State Bureau of Radiological Health, said yesterday, "we cannot foresee any reason to be concerned about radioactivity in our food commodities."

But he added that since the resumption of Russian nuclear testing we are beginning to see a pickup of radioactivity in food, especially in crops of short production duration like milk."

Heslep said that although radiation fallout levels "would have increased many fold over what we see now" to harm foodstuffs, state officials had decided to begin "making plans against any contingency."

Charles Paul, state director of agriculture, said his department is conducting research on the washing of food in the field to remove contamination.

Paul said the state, with federal help, is taking an inventory of all stored and canned foods available to the state.

"Within 30 days we'll have a complete inventory of every mouthful of food in California," he said.

Paul said these six state agencies were taking part in the planning: The state departments of agriculture, water resources, fish and game and public health, the University of California and the state atomic energy coordinator.

In its early days, Fort Huachuca was an outpost of civilization in the southern Arizona Territory, with the mission of keeping the Indian tribes on their reservations and patrolling the border between Mexico and the United States.

Marin County Shrine Club Elects

C. R. (Dick) DeWitt of Fairfax has been elected president of the Marin County Shrine Club for 1962. He will succeed Harry Underwood of San Rafael.

Elected to serve with DeWitt were: Marvin E. Lechner of San Rafael, first vice president; Harold G. Sellers of San Rafael, second vice president; C. R. (Hap) Banfield of San Anselmo, secretary-treasurer, and Ray Eubanks of Larkspur, executive officer.

Jewish Leader Praises JFK On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Washington attorney told Reform Jewish leaders yesterday that the Kennedy administration "did as much for civil rights in its first eight months as the previous administration did in its entire eight years in office."

This appraisal was made by Joseph L. Rauh Jr., a leader of Americans for Democratic Action, in an address before the General Assembly of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

Rauh added, however, that the Kennedy administration has made only "a very small beginning" on the "tremendous task" of securing the civil rights of Negroes and other minority groups in America.

"The record is good or the record is bad, depending on whether one looks forward or backward," he said.

On the "good" side, Rauh credited President John F. Kennedy with "setting a new moral tone for America by speaking out unequivocally and often against discrimination and segregation" and "making clear that they are not only illegal but immoral."

But Rauh said the administration's performance must be weighed against its own promises — and also against "the size of the job to be done." And in that scale, he said, the record is not so good.

RETURNED FOR RANSOM—Tony Hewitt, 8, hugs his toy poodle, Peaches, at his La Puente home after the dog was returned by a youth who demanded—and got—$25. The dog was snatched from Tony by two unknown teen-agers and returned after the ransom was paid. (AP Wirephoto)

Teen-Agers Reported Taking Dogs --Receiving Ransom For Return

But there's no one to thank: Tony's mother had to pay $25 ransom to a teen-ager.

The Pasadena Independent today reported this story of Peaches' abduction and return:

Tony was walking to the candy store with Peaches and a chum when a car pulled up Sunday afternoon. Two teen-agers jumped out, grabbed the dog, told Tony, "We're taking him for a ride"—and left the child in tears.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Hewitt, Tony's parents, summoned police. But no clues turned up. Hewitt, a cement contractor, says the dog is worth $350. Youths have been stealing dogs from neighbors, Hewitt says, and selling them.

On Monday, Mrs. Hewitt went to the scene of the crime, a nearby bowling alley parking lot. She asked several teen-agers about the dog. They shook their heads.

Then she offered $25 reward, and one youth said: "I may be able to help—but I don't want to get mixed up with the law."

Mrs. Hewitt promised not to identify him to police, and the boy, about 16 or 17, left. That night Mrs. Hewitt heard from an anonymous, but apparently youthful, phone caller, who said: "You can get the dog back if you'll meet me in three minutes at a church parking lot."

Mrs. Hewitt rushed to the lot. Minutes later, the boy appeared with Peaches and demanded $25 ransom, saying it has to go to the boys who stole the dog. Mrs. Hewitt gave him the money. The boy returned the dog and fled.

Today Hewitt is offering $50 reward for arrest of the dog-napers, but adds: "I don't want anything done to the boy who returned the dog."

Service — Plus

NEW YORK (UPI)—American motorists soon may be able to get their coats as well as their windshields cleaned at the local gas station. Whirlpool Corp. said it will install coin-operated dry-cleaning machines in seven American Oil Co. service stations and later may expand the service to American's 29,000-station chain.

Bible Society Asks $400,000

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Bible Society has been asked to set aside $400,000 to buy and distribute Bibles to overseas areas where communistic, atheistic literature is being passed out.

The society's council, at the close of its annual meeting yesterday, urged the expenditure, adding: 'All over the world people are choosing either atheism, materialism, or the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Millions may choose Christianity if we can reach them with copies of manuscripts in their own languages."

Christopher Would Do Well To Study McCarthy First

There have been violently obvious signs recently of trial balloons being launched about San Francisco Mayor George Christopher's candidacy for Republican lieutenant governor.

Now we haven't anything to say at this point about Mayor George Christopher. The fact is he's one of the backbones of Marin's dairy industry.

But we do want Neighbor George to realize that already in the field for the lieutenant governorship on the GOP ticket is a man with 10 times the knowledge of state affairs, 10 times the experience with legislation in Sacramento, 10 times the ability to handle the affairs of the State Senate (the principle job of the lieutenant governor).

We're not bashful about whom we mean. We've said it before and we'll say it again:

Jack McCarthy has the knowledge and the experience and the ability that are needed in the state's No. 2 position.

Now it well may be that Mayor Christopher has hidden talents which he may call to our attention; we may have to reassess his qualifications for the job at some future time.

But we hope that Mayor Christopher thoroughly considers the abilities and qualifications of Senator McCarthy, considers too McCarthy's proven ability to carry the standard of the Republican Party, before he makes up his mind as to whether he should be a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Neighbor George would find himself in a real fight with a man who knows all the ropes, and with the strength to pull them.

Fiery Leaves Of A Dry Fall

Have you noticed the autumn colors in Marin this year? Richer, more vividly colorful than usual, we think. We hear the Napa Valley vineyards are particularly beautiful this fall. That's always a good November drive.

The rich, fiery colors are typical of a dry autumn. Nature's vivid shades do not like watering down. The chemical reactions which produce the beautiful reds, oranges and purples are best initiated in dry weather.

Since it would be difficult to imagine a more dry or dusty fall than this one, it follows that the colors this November are especially lovely.

CHESS PLAYERS TAKE THEIR TIME

A chess match that started in 1926 is still edging towards its conclusion. The competitors were both students at Glasgow University when they began their unhurried game.

Undeterred by the fact that one player has long since moved to Australia, they exchange moves by mail. A single move each year is all that is allowed, meaning that each of them has 2 years in which to deliberate.

The thoughtful opponents optimistically predict that the issue will be decided by 1976.

Seldom does anything in our quickly changing era take so long to complete as this round-the-world chess game. But no matter how much time it takes, it is only a flash compared to the eternity of happiness that God has prepared for those who serve Him well on earth.

Pray, think and act on behalf of others in the light of your eternal destiny and you will be sure of winning the only game that counts.

"And this is the promise He has promised us, life everlasting." (1 John 2:25)

Let me treat each person, O Christ, as someone with whom I share the endless joys of heaven.

The Way Those New Yorkers Talk Confuses A Northern Californian

By BUD SPRUNGER
(For Hal Boyle)

Friend of mine from the Southwest couldn't get a doughnut. They kept handing him something with jelly in the middle—where the hole is supposed to be. Finally he found out that in this spot the word for doughnut is cruller.

Arriving from San Francisco, I made the mistake of asking for a snail with my coffee. The dudes turned sort of green before I corrected that to butterhorn. They figured that out but told me in the future to ask for Danish.

Other translations are not quite as difficult. Almost any tourist can figure that hotcakes on the menu are pancakes.

But you can get mixed up in the names of meals. In the Midwest, Southwest, West and South we say supper for the last meal of the day, but around here it is dinner. And so they won't get confused, they say lunch when they mean dinner.

By and large these folks speak English pretty well, but they do have a lot of trouble with the word bring. They hand you something and say "bring it over there." Apparently the teachers around here don't drill their kids on the verb take.

New Yorkers go to business, while the rest of us go to work. Maybe they just don't work as hard here. I don't know.

You never hear of them going to the city, either. Just about everybody in Northern California goes to the city when they go to San Francisco, which they pronounce San Frencisco. But here suburbanites say they are going to New York, and those that live in boroughs other than Manhattan say they are going to town.

CLOTHING CAN cause you trouble, too. I wanted a pair of Levis the other day and some clerk was trying to be helpful. After I had tried out overall pants and jeans on him, he finally convinced me that what I wanted was a pair of dungarees. Turned out he was right.

Maybe the trouble here is the schools. The kids around here don't get grades. No, sir. What they get are marks.

AND ALTHOUGH that bring and take thing floors them, the Eastern kids go to grammar or elementary schools instead of grade schools.

When they go to a grocery, they haul home a bag of food when they should be getting a sack. Or, as they say in Tennessee and Kentucky, a poke.

Let's Not Use First Names

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have developed an irritation which I feel might be shared by others than myself in this area.

Why, do you suppose, in this area in particular, there are those characters who feel compelled to address even a total stranger by their FIRST NAME?

Twice within the past few weeks, I have run down two flights of stairs to answer the phone to total strangers, who within two minutes addressed me by my first name. In both instances, I was meant to be a prospective CUSTOMER.

Can it be that this is supposed to be a new selling technique? If so, I should indeed keep a list of those offensive characters, and be certain not to buy from them.

Then there are those whom you meet for the first time and before the evening is over remark chummily, "Let's use first names." Why? First names are for old, tried friendships. A first name is a very personal belonging and meant to be shared by those we have loved over the years. Are people just simply too LAZY to say Mr. or Mrs.?

Personally, I dislike a person who addresses me by my first name without being invited to, as wholly as one who might ask if they could have lunch at my house — without being invited!

Psychiatric Unit At S.R. General

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The letter of Mr. Campbell Oct. 31 raised an important issue about which both the physicians of Marin County and the staff at San Rafael General Hospital have been actively concerned.

The county has been sending mentally ill patients to Napa State Hospital for observation for many years, particularly when an issue of acute, serious mental illness is involved; or when the patient is possibly dangerous to himself or others.

The letter of Mr. Campbell implies that none of these patients is cared for locally without recourse to Napa. Actually, a significantly large percentage of seriously mentally ill patients can and have been cared for in San Rafael General Hospital, as well as in Marin General Hospital and in Ross General Hospital.

For instance, sometimes after an operation, a patient becomes disturbed, depressed, irrational, etc. Many of these and similar patients are and should be cared for locally and not carted off willynilly to be deposited in that huge institution at Napa. Of course, in some cases, local facilities are not extensive or adequate enough for local care, which should be remedied.

To that end, that patient care be improved and extended, San Rafael General Hospital recently organized a psychiatric section of the medical service, in which many patients can be cared for without the stigma of a mental hospital or psychiatric hospital. We hope that some arrangement can be worked out whereby patients who require some legal observation or supervision can be cared for under arrangement with the Board of Supervisors.

Kuchel Casting Pro-Socialist Vote

EDITOR,

According to a report from Washington, D.C., the Democrats are having a difficult time finding a candidate willing to oppose Sen. Thomas Kuchel come next election time.

Just why the Democrats would want to get Senator Kuchel out of office is a puzzle to this Republican. I have never been able to see any difference between "tax and spend" Democrat Clair Engle and his "tax and spend" buddy Republican Senator Kuchel.

My opnion about the recent New Jersey governorship contest is that New Jersey Republicans couldn't get enthusiastic about a New Deal Republican, and that handed the victory to his Democratic opponent.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York has just conned the deluded people of his state into blowing 100 million dollars on useless fallout shelters. The eminently qualified publisher of the Scientific American magazine, just told the truth about shelters.

If Governor Rockefeller, Senator Javitts of New York, Senator Case of New Jersey, Senator Kuchel and the other New Dealing Republicans are allowed to dictate Republican Party policy, that is surely going to spell the end of a one time good party.

The Conservative Party in Britain did not defeat the Socialists (read Demo-Socialist for America) and return to power there, until they woke up and abandoned their mistaken "me too" aping of the Socialists.

I have very small hope that Senator Kuchel will change his tax and spend, pro-socialist public power voting policy. He appears to this Republican to be far more interested in getting re-elected than he is in being a principled supporter of an honest free-enterprise Republicanism.

Sabotaging the system that made this country great is a disservice to the American people.

Sleeping Pills For Dr. Libby?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I see in today's I-J (Nov. 9) that Dr. Willard Libby is unruffled by the cave-in of his $30 fallout shelter in the great L. A. firestorm. I'm relieved to learn that he still has faith.

In yesterday's Libby "You Can Be Safe" column, published in your paper, Dr. Libby suggested taking sleeping pills as a way to reduce boredom while sitting out the fallout danger. But would he be able to choose between fallout and firestorm if the worst should hit L. A.?

A revenue agent, hot on the trail of a West Virginia whiskey still, suddenly heard a shot, and something grazed his left arm. Undaunted, the agent continued forward, whereupon a second shot whistled through his coattails. When a third bullet, neatly puncturing his slouch hat, still failed to halt him, a voice from the woods sounded.

"One more step, mister," it warned grimly, "and I begin takin' aim!"

Does Recall Election Boil Down To Difference Between Honesty, Savvy?

When I was a little boy in Seattle it had the first city-wide strike in the history of the nation. A few years later the citizens recalled Mayor Frank Edwards.

Just graduated from University of Washington, I came to San Francisco to encounter the second general strike in the nation.

Now I work in Marin where 3,150 of the 19,285 registered voters of the Third Supervisorial District have petitioned to recall Supervisor J. Walter Blair. The election will be Dec. 5.

IN ITS FACT sheet for November, the Recall Blair Committee notes:

"Recall does not imply malfeasance or criminality — these are properly the province of the grand jury and the courts.

In Albany, Mayor Kathie Zahn was recalled last Jan. 17.

BLAIR AND HIS opponent, Peter H. Behr, had been scheduled to address a meeting recently in Tamalpais Valley, reputedly a Blair stronghold. Blair people said he could not attend. Attorney Albert Bianchi spoke for him.

Real estate man Stephen Kramer, who helped nominate Blair in 1960 and joined the recall movement against him in 1961, spoke for Behr. Behr attended and answered some questions.

Bianchi pointed to Kramer's acknowledgement of Blair's honesty and said he only had carried out his election platform.

He termed the recall petitions "a minority," as Blair earlier had dismissed scores of persons opposing the projected high-rise Tower Apartments on Strawberry Point as "pressure groups."

Backing Blair presumably are the same persons interested in large-scale commercial development of land as heretofore have supported him.

BACKING BEHR (as indicated by the publication in Mill Valley of the names of the recall petition signers) are a variety of professional persons, artisans, trades unionists and persons in public life including city officials of Sausalito and Mill Valley.

A point made at the Tam Valley meeting was Kramer's assertion that in such things as the civic center stopwork dispute and the vote to abolish the county administrator's office, though most California counties have an administrator, Blair had "acted first and investigated later."

He said this was the opposite of what was wanted of a supervisor. He said honesty wasn't enough; savvy also was wanted.

COLUMNIST Heywood Broun wrote in 1934 regarding a government committee to be sent to San Francisco to deal with the Pacific coast waterfront strike that he disagreed with just sending a good committee. "Let's send an intelligent committee out there," he said.

It seems to me (to borrow the late Broun's column title) that most of the more vociferous persons at the Tam meeting were asking that a comparatively more qualified person represent their district.

Yale-trained trial attorney Peter H. Behr, whose four years as Mill Valley city councilman are still praised, appeared to be their man.

Decision On Testing Must Be Left To Man With Facts—The President

WASHINGTON—The Soviet nuclear explosions, which have been in the open air, have posed the question of our resumption of testing in the open air. The President's statement of Nov. 2 deals with this question and, so it seems to me, defines it accurately.

Since the Soviet Union has broken off the negotiations for a treaty, the United States must decide for itself whether, when, how, and how often it needs to conduct open air tests in order to protect its vital interests and its essential responsibilities.

These decisions have to be made here in Washington. They cannot be made by the United Nations in New York because the United Nations cannot meet our paramount responsibility should we become unable to meet it.

OUR PARAMOUNT responsibility is to maintain the nuclear force needed to preserve without question the nuclear balance of power. If we do that, co-existence will continue to be practiced and a world war will continue to be highly improbable. We can, therefore, never take the chance of losing the race of armaments, and the question of testing must be decided by that criterion.

This is, as I understand, the position taken by the President. He will resume testing in the open air if and as it is necessary to the maintenance of our "relative position." He will not resume testing in order to make a big noise, or propaganda or psychological warfare.

HE WILL NOT, I take it, order a test because some group of nuclear scientists and weapons makers have had a bright idea which they would like to try out. If the United States tests in the air, it will be only because it deems the tests essential to maintain the balance of power.

This means that the decisions will have to be made by the President, that they cannot be made by public debate.

It is not only because the President has the final responsibility. It is also because he is the only man with complete access to all the knowable facts. Whether, when, and how to test is not something that can be decided by the governor of New York or by members of Congress or by editors and columnists, or by the man in the smoking car. None of them can know enough.

TO TEST OR NOT to test will not be one decision, but many. There will be a long series of questions to be decided specifically in the circumstances. Only the President can make these decisions because only he can know the true condition of our own armaments and of our own technological capability. Also, he knows what our best intelligence believes about affairs in the Soviet Union.

The recent tests are an admission by the Soviet Union that they are far behind us. But the Soviet Union is already a sufficiently great nuclear power to hold up its end in the balance of terror.

Unification Won't Affect Building Plans

(This is the third of a series of four articles on various aspects of the proposed unification of Novato Unified and San Jose Elementary School Districts, on which voters in the two districts will ballot next Tuesday.)

By THERON A. NEWELL

If the voters approve unification of San Jose Elementary and Novato Unified School districts next Tuesday, it will not affect the building program of either district in the elementary and intermediate grades.

Supt. Phillip W. Schneider said the San Jose district has caught up with classroom needs temporarily.

"Of course we have Bel Marin Keys being developed. That will call for another school probably sometime in the next year or two," Schneider said.

The Novato Unified district, on the other hand, has elementary building needs right now, according to the program outlined by Novato Supt. William J. J. Smith.

Rancho School needs expansion of probably six classrooms and a multipurpose room. Lu Sutton School needs a multipurpose room. Some expansion is needed at Olive School.

In addition, the Novato district is faced with starting another elementary school. This could be at the high school location or on a new site on Sutro Avenue, depending on how the population moves, Smith said.

Hill Intermediate district is completing an intermediate school which will take care of the needs of that area for seventh and eighth grades for some time.

The big building problem, if the districts unify, will be for high school.

Part of the problem, Smith said, could be solved by building a graphic arts building at Novato High. He suggested a building of about 3,600 square feet costing around $54,000. It could be used for art classes, ceramics, wood working, etc. Or another wing of six classrooms could be added to the high school at a cost of about $78,000, Smith said.

"Of course, it will depend on what the new school board thinks is the most urgent," he remarked. "It could take a gradual method of absorbing the high school students, or make a crash program out of it."

San Jose District now has a tax rate of $3.05 per $100 assessed valuation for operations, plus 33 cents for bond retirement, a total of $3.38. In addition, San Jose District residents pay a total rate of $1.63 to San Rafael High School District, including 29 cents for bond retirement. This makes a total school tax rate in that district of $5.01.

Novato District residents pay a total rate to their unified district — which includes high school—of $4.72 per $100 assessed valuation. This includes 66 cents for bond retirement.

If the tax rates were evened up, San Jose residents would probably pay about 16 cents per $100 assessed valuation less in a new unified district, while Novato residents would pay an increase of about eight cents.

Both districts have authorized bonds, some of which they are eligible to sell at present and some which cannot be sold until the future.

The San Jose district has $259,000 in bonding capacity left, according to Superintendent Schneider. It is eligible to sell $89,000 of these now. The district's bonded indebtedness is $237,000, Schneider said.

Novato Unified district voters have authorized $1,500,000 in bonds for future construction. Of this amount, the district is attempting to sell $207,000 before the election, which are all the bonds it is eligible to sell now. The district has $1,728,000 bonded indebtedness against its bonding limit of $1,935,000.

"The San Jose bonds can be sold after the election, but not Novato's," said Edwin L. Blackmore, administrative assistant to the county superintendent of schools.

"The law reads that a unified district may sell the bonds of any elementary or high school district that becomes a part of it," he said. As Novato is already a unified district, this would not apply to its bonds, he said.

It was probably the intent of the lawmakers to make it so that a unified district could sell all authorized bonds of its component districts when it unified, but they probably did not think of a unified district becoming part of another unified district, Blackmore surmised.

A new district would of necessity go to the voters soon to ask for another bond issue, both superintendents agreed.

"San Jose would be out of bonds if another major project came along, like a school at Bel Marin Keys," Schneider said.

Novato voters would however, not be asked to vote more bonds for some time if the districts remained separated, according to Smith.

The new district would be in line to benefit both from the state and federal government money if the unification passed.

On the state level, the state offers a "bonus" in its allotments over a five-year period to new unified districts, Smith said.

"This has been estimated between $225,000 and $300,000, probably around $250,000" for the first year, Smith said. It would decline through the following four years.

The San Jose Elementary district is getting $193.41 from the federal government for each student that lives on federal property. The new unified district would get $227.37 each for these same students, according to Schneider.

There are 1,063 of these children attending San Jose schools. This would mean additional revenue or $36,142 per year for the new district.

San Rafael High School District is now receiving $370.66 per student living on federal property. Raymond J. Simpson, assistant superintendent for business services of San Rafael schools, estimates that half of the 400 students now attending San Rafael High School from the San Jose district belong in this classification.

In summary, the new district would gain money in the current operating expenses by the unification. However, it would lose bonding capacity from the Novato district, necessitating call for another bond election.

(Next: What if voters reject unification?)

Episcopal Bishop Due In Marin

Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California, will be guest speaker at a Marin County Council of Churches, ecumenical worship service at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael tomorrow at 8 p.m.

The service will mark the beginning of the Third Assembly of the World Council of Churches to meet in New Delhi Saturday through Dec. 6, announced Rev. Bliss W. Bellinger, president of the Marin Council and pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, Terra Linda.

"The purpose of this gathering, to which the public is invited," said Pastor Bellinger, "is to search for and discuss the common basis we have for Christian unity on a county-wide basis." He said Bishop Pike would discuss "the importance of the present-day ecumenical movement and relate it to the local responsibility of each Christian and his congregation."

"Spokesmen for the ecumenical movement look to the New Delhi Assembly as a major step in the reunification of Christendom," said the Terra Linda pastor.

Uruguay Social Worker Visits Juvenile Hall

A pretty, young social worker from Uruguay, studying juvenile problems in the United States, walked away with first prize for popularity at Marin Juvenile Hall on Tuesday afternoon.

"They made a flag and a map of my country in honor of my visit," she said delightedly. "This is the only place I have visited that such a nice thing has happened."

Her tour, sponsored by the State Department, began in New York in June and has included Boston, Chicago and Minneapolis prior to her arrival in San Francisco last Sunday.

"I saw street gangs in Chicago," she said, obviously awed by the enormity of juvenile problems in the nation's large cities. "The whole thing is so much bigger than it is in my country."

Educated through high school in Montevideo, the one-million-population capital of her country, she went to college in Switzerland and France. She now works for the Movimiento Naconal Gustave Volpe, a private agency named for an Uruguayan student, Gustavo Volpe, who was killed six years ago by a young delinquent while Volpe was defending a friend from a street thief.

"How beautiful!" she said repeatedly. "What surroundings for such a place. They will never believe these pictures in my country. No wonder the children here look so happy."

One last question: Did she ever plan to be married?

"Of course," she said brightly. "Who doesn't?"

Coin-Operated Machines For Dry Cleaning Coming To San Rafael

This do-it-yourself service will soon make its entry into San Rafael at the Montecito One Hour Cleaners where Roy and Gladys Okerstrom are having eight RCA Whirlpool coin-operated machines installed on the Mall in the Montecito Shopping Center—around the corner from their present establishment but connected with it.

The operation is quite easy, Okerstrom says. Simply weigh your garments on the scale provided and be sure there are no more than eight pounds per load — the maximum the machine can handle efficiently. Close the door, put in $2 (eight quarters) and relax for 50 minutes. When the cycle is completed the door opens automatically and garments are ready for removal -- cleaned, dried and with no more wrinkles than they had at the start.

Same cleaning detergent is used as in professional cleaning. Okerstrom figures an eight-pound batch of dresses, sweters, etc. can save you $9.60 from having his own operators do the job. The Okerstroms are on hand to give special advice on handling.

The operation should be ready to go by the end of the month.

Property Stolen From Parked Cars

Two residents of the Aztec Apartments at 1563 Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael told police Tuesday that property had been stolen from their parked cars sometime Monday night.

Hickey Acting Like Viennese Analyst

He's showing them movies of their finest hours — their 49-0 trouncing of Detroit and 35-0 shellacking of Las Angeles in October. To the 49ers, that seems a long time ago.

San Francisco was sitting atop the football world a month ago but they've lost three and tied one in their last four games.

Len Rohde will go at offensive tackle in place of big Bob St. Clair, who has a painfully pulled thigh muscle.

Abe Woodson, who won all league honors last year, is back in the defensive secondary in place of Jerry Mertens.

But Hickey won't say whether he plans to go with John Brodie or Bill Kilmer or both at quarterback now that Bobby Waters, the third triggerman in the shotgun triumvirate, is injured and apparently through for the season.

SOME SURPRISES

"That's for the Bears to find out," Hickey says, "but we'll have some surprises for 'em."

At least one man has ventured a prediction on whether the 49ers will go with the T or shotgun formation Sunday.

The veteran owner-coach of the Bears, George Halas, says he is convinced Hickey "is going to divide up his attack against us about half and half between shotgun and T."

Halas was in a jovial mood. Told the 49ers were still working out in Redwood City, the Papa Bear lamented "I was hoping they'd change sites. That place is completely blacked out. I've got a picture of the field on my desk.

CANVAS SCREEN

"They've got big pieces of canvas 20 feet high stretched all around the grounds. And my men out there tell me Hickey won't even let his own brother watch practice from the inside.

"All I need is just one little peek," he said.

"We can't let this happen Sunday," Hickey said.

Giants Hinting They May Consider Swapping Willie McCovey; Dodgers?

CONNOLLY

In order to save themselves a lot of unfavorable criticism, the San Francisco Giants are hinting, subrosa, that they may consider a trade for first baseman Willie McCovey. This comes as no great surprise, considering the kicking around McCovey has been taking the past few seasons.

The element of surprise, however, is the fact that the Los Angeles Dodgers seem to be angling to acquire McCovey. In order for the Dodgers to land Willie, it may take some pretty sharp trading, involving, for sure, name pitchers.

McCovey will only go to a club that can offer hefty pitching material in exchange. And right now the LA club seems to be the only outfit with surplus pitching, and the only club sorely in need of a first baseman.

There may be some people who will argue McCovey isn't really a first sacker. But if anybody can tell me where else he can play, then I'll go for it.

It would be silly for the Giants to sell or trade McCovey if they didn't happen to have Orlando Cepeda. In everybody's book, Cepeda belongs on first base and when he is moved to the outfield the whole Giant club is shook up.

The ideal way to get rid of McCovey, of course, would be to swap him to some American League club. But since the Harvey Kuen deal, the Giants want to shy away from the American League surplus talent. Kuen laid a big egg and he was supposed to be top material.

NATIONAL LEAGUE pitching rates higher than any of the American League, so it is really of necessity that the Giants may consent to ship McCovey to the Dodgers.

Before McCovey is shipped away, though, it would behoove "Chub" Feeney and Horace Stoneham to be sure Cepeda is signed. There could be quite a money hassle before the Puerto Rican inks his 1962 contract.

Cepeda led the league in home runs and in runs batted in for a salary said to be around $30,000. Measure that dough against what Willie Mays is collecting and you can understand why Cepeda's salary adjustment for 1962 is a project worth while studying.

THEY SAY that before Cepeda is through wrangling over his 1962 stipend, he will insist on nothing less than $60,000.

On the market he may be worth that but with another member of the same team collect $85,000 it makes quite a difference.

Owner Horace Stoneham has had many a brush with his players in years gone by, but they all seemed to have been well taken care of and all signed, being quite stubborn during negotiations.

Harvey Kuen is supposed to have swept in 40,000 clackers last year and some of the pitchers got that or better. But in my book, Orlando Cepeda is much more valuable and far more popular than any single player, pitcher or outfielder now on the roster.

THE CONTRACT season is quite a spell off yet but it promises to be a whammer when the shooting starts within the next 30 days.

Tars To Seek Second Place Tomorrow

Tomorrow night at Kentfield the College of Marin Tars will have a chance to win or tie for runner-up spot in the 1961 Golden Valley (football) Conference.

Dick Read's Tars will face American River Junior College at 8 o'clock. The Tars carry a 2-2, won-loss, conference record and are tied in the standings with Shasta College for second place. Marin, by winning could capture the second place cup if tomorrow first place Sierra College beats Shasta College, or if Shasta wins, Marin would tie for the cup.

It will be the GVC's last grid games of the season. Marin to date, has a 4-4 season record.

Four Indians Fit For Limited Play

Curtice said halfback Stan Lindskog, troubled with a foot injury, will do the Indians' kicking against Washington State here Saturday but will be unable to run.

FORMER 49ER ACQUITTED OF FORGERY

SAN JOSE (AP)—A Superior Court jury acquitted former San Francisco 49er professional football star Joe Arenas last night of forging a business partner's name to a $264 check.

The partner, Dante Canepa, had accused Arenas of forging his signature in cashing the check, a refund by the State Board of Equalization after an application for a liquor license had been denied.

The check was made out to both men. Arenas contended that he had authorization from Canepa to endorse the check with both his own name and Canepa's.

Jim Doran, 34, is the oldest member of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League. This is the 11th pro season for the former Iowa State star who plays outside end.

Big 5 Favors 'Open' Status Of Rose Bowl

LONG BEACH (UPI) — Tom Hamilton, Athletic Association of Western Universities commissioner, yesterday indicated a lessening of interest on a new Rose Bowl contract with the Big Ten.

In an interview with Jerome Hall of the Long Beach Independent Press-Telegram, Hamilton said officials of the host conference were "very pleased" with nationwide speculation on open selection of the outside representative.

This year's selection is on an open basis, with the Rose Bowl not bound by contract to pick a Big Ten team.

Sportswriters voted Monday in favor of Alabama as a potential visiting team, against either Ohio State or Minnesota —currently top rated in the Big Ten. But a Big Ten team has played here for the past 14 years and there is strong support for a resumption of the agreement.

Hamilton said there is no present plan to change the open selection for this year.

The Big Five host team on New Year's Day will probably be decided when eighth ranked UCLA meets unranked USC on Nov. 25.

Big Growing Pain Of New ABL Is Expansion Problem

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Basketball League, only three weeks old, already has growing pains. Expansion is a main item at a league meeting in Chicago Saturday and Sunday.

Also on the agenda is the 1962-63 schedule and plans for the ABL's first annual All-Star game.

"The league has been overwhelmed with franchise applications," says Commissioner Abe Saperstein, who owns the Chicago Majors entry as well as the independent Harlem Globetrotters. "Among cities seeking membership are Portland, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Denver, Indianapolis, Rochester, N.Y., and Milwaukee."

The ABL currently is made up of Chicago, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Hawaii, Washington, Kansas City and Los Angeles.

ROGER MARIS

MVP Greater Thrill Than 61st Homer

BOSTON (UPI)—Roger Maris, even more elated than on the day he hit his 61st homer, considered his year "complete" today upon being named the American League's "Most Valuable Player" for the second straight season.

It was a tight squeeze for the 27-year-old New York Yankee outfielder, who barely beat out teammate Mickey Mantle in the voting by four points.

Maris polled 202 points with seven first place votes compared with Mantle's 198 points and six first place votes. A year ago it was even closer, with Maris topping Mantle, 225 to 222.

"Without a question of doubt, this makes my year complete," said the delighted Maris at his Raytown, Mo., home. "I was hoping I would win, but I wasn't confident. Believe me, I'm very, very happy I won again."

Even en route to becoming the first man in major league history to hit 61 homers in a single season, Maris made it clear how he felt about the MVP award.

GREATEST HONOR

"To me, it's the greatest honor that can ever come to a ball player," he said during the last few days of the season. "Winning the award last year was the greatest thrill of my life.

"I don't know if I'll be fortunate enough to win again this year. There are a lot of great ball players in this league. We've got some of the best on this (Yankee) ball club."

Along with his new all-time high total of homers, Maris also led the league with 142 runs batted in, so that little attention was paid to his relatively low .269 batting average.

Mantle, hampered by injuries from time to time, threatened Ruth's record 60 also, but finished with 54 homers, 128 RBI's and a .317 batting mark.

Jim Gentile, Baltimore's slugging first baseman, finished third in this year's balloting with 157 points and five first place votes. Gentile had a fine year, hitting 46 homers, driving in 141 runs and hitting .302.

First baseman Norm Cash of Detroit, who led the league in hitting with .361, was fourth with 151 points, followed by southpaw Whitey Ford of the Yankees with 102 points, and Yankee relief ace Luis Arroyo with 95.

Tudorich, winner of this year's Chicago and Arlington Handicaps, was foaled in England. He's a 4-year-old son of Tudor Minstrel.

Halfback Kip Solinsky and guard Mark Pearce both got football captain's blankets and Randy Keller received the cross-country blanket.

The affair, sponsored by the Redwood Benchwarmers Club, was held to honor both cross-country and football athletes with merit awards. It was attended by more than 200 persons. Presiding was club president James Wylie. Chairman for the affair was Dave Teather, club president in charge of football.

'PREPS OF THE WEEK' — John Cook, left, tackle for Novato High, 1961 undefeated and untied champions of the Marin County Athletic League, and

Cook, Coombs Get Newspaper Award

John Cook, Novato High tackle, and Dennis Coombs, Redwood High halfback, have been selected "Preps of the Week" by the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM for their outstanding performances in games last week end.

Cook, a 200 - pound senior, was outstanding on both defense and offense in the San Rafael - Novato game last Friday which gave the Hornets the Marin County Athletic League 1961 Championship. He not only exerted leadership to his colleague linemen, made key breakthroughs and tackles against the Bulldogs, but also kicked two conversions and tackled Bulldog quarterback Jack Sovereign in the San Rafael end-zone for a safety.

Giant halfback Coombs led his Redwood teammates to defeat Marin Catholic last Saturday afternoon. The victory saved his team from the humiliation of the cellar in MCAL standings. Coombs scored two touchdowns, one on a 57-yard romp, and set up Redwood's third tally.

Novato's Cook is used to honors. This year he was chosen by San Francisco newspapers as lineman of the week for Northern California twice, and as a junior, last year, received the honor once. The six-foot athlete is also a track letterman (discus and shotput) and a varsity baseball catcher.

It is John's intention to apply soon for San Jose State College where he hopes to play football and major in industrial arts, a subject he would like to specialize in as a high school teacher. Much of his free time as well as his class time is devoted to that field.

Cook will no doubt apply for a San Jose State athletic scholarship and there not only be a valuable lineman, but with continued drill in conversion kicking be an asset to a college team in that skill. Cook developed kickoff and field goal booting through an injury. Last year, he tore a cartilage in his knee, could not participate in contact sports for several months, so to stay in shape, he ran and kicked. It resulted in his being tabbed "The Toe" around school and became "top kick" for the varsity team.

Cook presently at the high school shop is putting a V-8 "overhead" engine he has rebuilt into an older pickup which will be redeveloped into a slick roadster. Both he and Dennis McCormick, Hornet star halfback, spend much time working on their cars together. Cook has driven McCormick's pickup roadster and motorcycle in Cotati drag race time trials, and Mac has won trophies in the finals.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cook of 93 Buena Vista in Novato. His father is a sporting goods wholesaler for the Sloss and Britian Manufacturing Co. in San Francisco. John also has a sister, Elizabeth, 10, of the family home.

During the summer — for "good pay" and to stay in shape —Cook worked as a laborer for John Novak, Novato developer.

Redwood's Coombs is a bad and good actor. On the gridiron to his opponents he is considered a "bad actor," and on the stage to his theatrical colleagues, a good one.

Dennis is active in drama at Redwood High and is a member of the youth group players of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, Greenbrae Ward. Now that football season is concluded, Dennis will be traveling evenings with the church players. He will participate in a Mormon drama festival of the Santa Rosa stake next week.

Dennis, 17, was born in San Francisco, and for the last decade has resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Coombs and a brother Chris, 15, in Tiburon. The Coombs live at 541 Comstock Drive. Dennis' father is co-owner of Merchandising Advertisers of Calif. in San Francisco.

In addition to acting Coombs, 165-pounds, plays baseball. He is a quiet, modest and popular athlete, and when it comes to the theater and football, a very determined person. For example in order to play football, he underwent an operation to keep his arm from slipping from its shoulder socket while playing. Surgery did the trick, but then during the season his other arm began to slip. Dennis played anyway. And at home after hard practices and after games spent some sleepless nights.

Dennis wants to go to college, "maybe Brigham Young" in Utah. He also, like many dedicated Mormon young men, may spend several months or years as a missionary before beginning his lifetime occupation.

Huskies Work Hard For UCLA Contest

SEATTLE (AP)—The Washington Huskies had an extra long and hard workout yesterday as they prepared for their grid tussle with UCLA in Los Angeles Saturday.

There were two reasons for the intense drill. No. 1 was that they think it would be kind of nice to whip the Uclans. The Huskies' wins have been a bit scarce this season.

The No. 2 reason was that they didn't have much time for a workout today. They had to make room for President Kennedy, visiting the university to make a speech. He and his party took over the Huskies' dressing room.

Don Jordan's Hopes Dealt Another Blow

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Former welterweight champion Don Jordan's comeback hopes were dealt another setback last night as Jordan was beaten decisively by Rodolfo Chivo Diaz.

Jordan, 144, of Los Angeles didn't win a round. Diaz, 141½, banged away at will. There were no knockdowns in the 10-round bout.

HANLEY

A year ago at this time when the 49ers were bogged down with a 4-4 record, Red Hickey sprung the Shotgun for the first time and it whipped a heavily favored Colt team in Baltimore.

Now, the redhead is confronted with another crisis, created by three losses and one tie in the last four appearances of the same Shotgun which has lost its surprise element and one of its triple-barrels.

To expect Hickey to come up with another magical solution is asking too much. Yet, that is precisely what he must do to regain the affection of 49er fans. They are not interested in technical explanations why the Shotgun no longer is firing with the deadly efficiency it did two months ago.

Football technicians, such as Hickey is, may attribute the Shotgun's failure to blocking and tackling, or rather the lack of both. And detailed discussion of such niceties may fascinate the technicians in the same way a complicated chess problem will charm devotees of that parlor game. But sports fans—football, baseball, boxing, basketball, hockey, or what-have-you — want action, not an exercise in mental gymnastics when they put their money on the line. They don't care whether it is provided by the Shotgun or the T, just so long as it is action, preferably the winning kind.

"The manager of American sport must be especially tough or a philosopher, because his public knows no tolerance of defeat or failure."

A TALENTED English sports writer, Part Ward-Thomas of the Manchester Guardian, wrote that following his first visit to Candlestick Park. And he was right.

Pat was right insofar as pro sports are concerned because there is only one objective in such competition—to win. Unlike amateurs, pros don't play the game for its character-building benefits. It is their way of putting the bread-and-butter on the table and they know the consequences if they perform their jobs sloppily.

"There are no signs of sympathy in baseball parks, and the greater the player the louder will be the jeers that greet his mistakes," Pat also wrote following his Candlestick visit. He should have stayed around a little longer and taken in a couple of recent 49er games and he would have written the same thing about football.

FOOTBALL is a rugged way to make a living, coach or player. But it isn't the only rough way. Politics isn't any soft touch. The late beloved senator from Kentucky, Alben Barkley, used to take great delight in telling about his campaigns and constituents, particularly one of the latter on whom he believed he could rely for a favorable vote because of many, many past favors.

Barkley was surprised to learn this particular voter was wavering and cited to him all he had done for him, only to be jarred by: "But what have you done for me lately?"

Hickey, in effect, now is being asked the same question by 49er fans.

Warmups Tonight For Fifth World's Bowling Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 128 men and 64 women will warm up tonight in a "parade of champions" for the fifth annual world's invitational match game bowling championship.

The 10-day tourney, with a distribution of $48,240 in prize money, formally starts tomorrow with the entry list representing 25 states and Canada and Mexico.

The preview in tonight's special competition for $3,000 in prizes will be followed by day and evening sessions for nine days and a climatic single daytime session Nov. 26.

After the first four days, the fields will be sliced to 48 men and 32 women, a double round Tuesday, Nov. 21, will send 15 men and 15 women into the match-play finals along with defending champions Don Carter of St. Louis and Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Canadian Jockey Rides 5 Winners; All In Day's Work

SAN BRUNO (AP) — Canadian jockey Paul Frey, 23, rode five winners including Barracho J. J. in the featured Highlands Purse at Tanforan race track yesterday.

It was the biggest day for any rider in the current Tanforan meeting. Previous high was the four victories of jockey Ralph Neeves last Friday.

Frey's first victory came in the third race aboard Special Purchase ($14.60). He rode Woodtick ($37.60) home in the fourth; Gliding Wings ($9.40) in the fifth; and Deer Call ($20.40) in the seventh.

Then came the featured eighth and Frey's 200th victory of the year aboard Barrach J. J. ($6.80).

Tennessee Boy Is AP Back Of Week

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Mallon Faircloth, Tennessee's talented tailback, used his head as well as his hands and feet in leading the Vols to a 10-6 upset victory over Georgia Tech last Saturday.

Cadets' Big Game Tomorrow

The game, originally scheduled for Saturday, will kickoff at 2:30 p.m.

Both teams of private schools have been rivals since 1909. Both teams this season are undefeated in five starts and will clash for the Bay League 1961 Championship. Menlo is the defending champion, San Rafael, last year's runner-up.

In the last 14 years the academy has never beaten Menlo. Tomorrow they should do it.

While Cadet coach Phil Roark said the game's outcome is a tossup, at the same time declared: "Menlo will have to beat us . . . that's how we're going down there. We may win, they may lose."

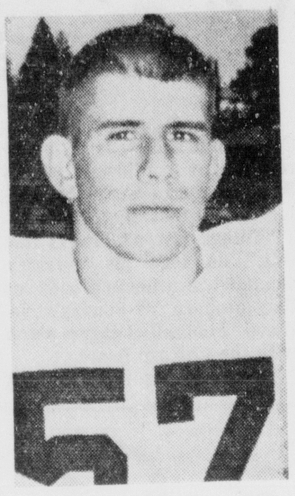

BILL FREEMAN

The contest is called "the little big game," and to its winner, along with a crown, goes a big train bell, a symbol of a significant victory.

Roark said the southern team will probably run off an unbalanced line and will strike with a fierce aerial attack. While in past games the Cadet pass game has been short of good, these last two weeks they have been going through it as consistently and severely as close order drill at a military academy or in the Marine Corps.

San Rafael will probably counter attack by air from its wing T and sometime-spread formation. But Roark's gravel crunchers, like spirited a leading running back Bill Freeman, and line sparker Steve Beck calling signals, may be too much for the civilians. The dark clouds of the past 14 years may split tomorrow.

JOE HEINZ
Starting fullback

Cadet starters will be: quarterback Hoffmann, halfbacks Bill Freeman and Dave Kerr, fullback Joe Heinz, tackles Doug Silva and Dave Blaine, guards Robin Gehres and Jeff Eales, ends John Knudsen and Frank Blakemore and center Beck.

Huskies Knock Heads For UCLA Contest

SEATTLE (AP)—The Washington Huskies knocked heads in a long, tough workout Tuesday as they prepped for their game with UCLA in Los Angeles Saturday.

Almost the entire session was contact work and there was plenty of concentration on line blocking and short drives to try to punch over the goal line.

The third and fourth strings ran UCLA plays against the first two teams.

A Strong Spartan Defense May Do It

SAN JOSE (AP) — San Jose State Coach Bob Titchenal says he believes his Spartans will have to put up a strong defense if they hope to stop unbeaten Fresno State Saturday.

Titchenal ran his squad through a defensive drill yesterday. He said his offense will be weakened by the loss through injuries of fullbacks Johnny Johnson and Mike Miller.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

That hoped-for grand finale for the salmon trollers failed miserably. Sunday was almost a complete bust. Perhaps one fish per rod or less. Considering that limit catches were normal up until Friday, we are saddened over the fish. Oh, well! While it's goodbye, ocean salmon fishing, it's hello, river and bay salmon fishing. A different "modus operandi" but perhaps still greater sport with each fish hooked.

It is a far different story on striper striving in the local areas. Not so hot on lures but sizzling on bait in certain sectors. Particularly heated are the Mission Rock region and all along the east side of San Pablo Bay.

Around 350 stripers in the medium sized class came in from 74 skiffs in the Mission Rock region, an average of approximately 4½ fish per boat, not bad, eh?

Still better was the take over the weekend in the upper San Pablo Bay. Carl Bennett, of the Rodeo Marina, called me to report the F&G boys counted over 600 stripers. Most of them were in the six-to-eight pound category, but some of the oldtimers (and the lucky ones) used sardine heads and bullheads to bring back some lunkers.

For example: On Sunday morning Bob Asarani worked the area near the Radar screen and collected his legal trio weighing respectively: 12½, 16 and 16 pounds; J. Horimoto only fished until 11 o'clock Sunday morning but managed to boat a pair of 10s and a 12 pounder. Harry Faver and Nick Talioga fished with bullheads near Buoy 14 and came in with limits each from eight to 18 pounds. The party boat, "Two Dares," tried the Buoy 9 sector Saturday afternoon and netted 17 limits by 2:30; the Kathie unloaded limits to 10 pounds at Buoys 8 and 10. On Sunday, the Sunfish ran into a problem. Out of the 20 passengers aboard, 10 of them were without an angling license. The fact was not learned until the boat had left the harbor. Result? Only 10 rods were permitted to fish. The Kathie M, on Sunday, accounted for 10 limits to 12 pounds at Buoy No. 15; the Poisdon had a field day with 45 bass for its 15 rods, and the Two Dares, took 13 limits of mediums in a half-day's fishing between buoys eight and 10.

IT HASN'T been quite so torrid on the Marin side of the Bay as on the Contra Costa side, but the prediction that an improvement in the entire shore line area from the Marin Islands to the mouth of the Petaluma Creek has proved true. Quite a few limits and many near limits have been taken the past three days. Generally speaking the fish are in the 3-to-8 pound class, but some of larger size have been taken in around 20 feet of water near the black buoy.

The well heralded appearance of bass in the Richardson Bay sector has been somewhat disappointing. Probably the action has been only from the forerunners of the main schools. So far the take has been much smaller than at the same season last year, but we can take an optimistic view when we realize the movement of bass has been delayed this year over last. The reports that the herring had come into Richardson Bay were, I am afraid, a bit previous. Such oldtimers as I contacted maintain the little fish have NOT made their appearance as yet.

(This is being written Tuesday, Nov. 14. Could be by the time you read it, the herring will have arrived and fishing in Richardson Bay will be fast and furious). Here's hoping!

Here's a suggestion. When the herring do start running and the bass are in hot pursuit. Try plug casting from a skiff. Use your casting rod and attach a spinner to your line; use just enough weight to make a long cast easy. Retrieve with jerks to give the spinner life. Unless I miss my guess you'll have the time of your life with each fish landed. Okay?

OH, YES! I should tell you I just received a couple of pictures of a bear and a local hunter in the mail. Edward Williams of Mill Valley, was the sender. The pictures may not be clear enough to take news print, but the story of how, where and when the bear was killed by our hero is interesting. Look in tomorrow's paper for a brief resume.

Saturday's Winner Gets Title Crack At Joe Brown

NEW YORK (AP) — The winner of Saturday's Carlos Ortiz-Paolo Rosi fight will get a title bout with lightweight champion Joe Brown, matchmaker, Teddy Brenner said today.

He said Brown's manager, Lou Viscusi, agreed to the bout in telephone conversation.

"He accepted our offer of a $60,000 guarantee," Brenner said. "The fight will take place in March. The site hasn't been selected."

Brenner said the fight probably will be in either Houston or New York.

Rosi, a native of Italy, and Puerto Rican-born Ortiz, now fight out of New York. Ortiz, who has won 34, lost four and fought one no decision, is a 9-11 favorite for the nationally televised ABC-TV Saturday fight. Rosi has a 36-8-2 record.

When Airmans Guide, a 4-year-old bay filly, won The Beldame at Belmont Park, it was her sixth victory in eight races this year. The race marked her 12th straight time in the money in the last two years.

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — After 13 years of frustration, Y. A. Tittle views with caution any talk about "big money" and a possible pro football championship for the New York Giants.

"It's a long way off yet," said the 35-year-old quarterback today. "We'd be foolish to get too excited and look ahead to that instead of looking ahead to next Sunday's game. That Pittsburgh club can be just as tough as Philadelphia."

Tittle long has been one of the greatest passers in the National Football League. In 13 years as a pro—most with the San Francisco 49ers—he came close but never hit the jackpot with a championship team. He was traded to the Giants last August when Red Hickey, 49er coach, decided to go all the way with his "shotgun" offense and had no use for a quarterback who couldn't run.

"We came close in '57," said Tittle, whose teammates call him "Yat," an abbreviation of his given name of Yelberton Abraham Tittle. "We wound up in a tie with Detroit in the Western Conference. We led 24-7 at the half but they beat us. Then they went on to win the league championship.

"Last year we were close again, but Green Bay beat us. In '59 we were two games ahead at the mid point, but we finally lost it to Baltimore."

Tittle could see a trade coming when the 49ers went to the "shotgun" near the end of last season.

"I sat it out most of the last three or four games, partly because I was hurt," he said. "A quarterback has to do a lot of running in that formation and I am not cut out for that. When they drafted Billy Kilmer, I figured I would go.

"Here we use the same kind of shotgun but only about 10 per cent of the time."

Ironically, it was from the "shotgun" or spread formation that Tittle threw the "clubhouse boy" pass to Erich Barnes last Sunday, the blow that broke the back of the Philadelphia Eagles.

The road ahead for the Giants is rugged. Pittsburgh this week. Then Cleveland, Green Bay, Philadelphia and Cleveland again with three of the last four on the road.

The Steelers come to Yankee Stadium Sunday on a three-game winning streak. They have won four of their last five under Rudy Bukich, stand-in for Bobby Layne who now is ready to return to action.

Mr. Marin wants to buy many things with his Christmas Club check. He needs a new car but he also has to get gifts for his wife and family. What to do? His check can't buy everything!

First he goes to Wrong Way Motors, the little country dealer. He finds limited selection and no easy financing arrangement. He leaves knowing he'll have nothing left from his check.

Then he goes to Scalpum Motors. A man with a narrow tie leading a pack of checker-jacketed salesmen pulls the pigeon drop gag on him... tries to take all his Christmas Club check as down payment on an overpriced car. He barely escapes!

Finally he finds Ames Ford. Meets their benevolent sales manager who wears a red suit all year 'round. The benevolent sales manager only wants a small part of his check for the down payment so he's able to make a good deal.

And off he goes! Happy in a brand new Ford that he's able to fill up with all the gifts he needs to buy for his wife and family after making his low down payment at Ames Ford.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Farewell Dinner Will Honor Popular San Anselmo Couple

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. George Arata, who will soon leave Marin to make their home in Pennsylvania, will be honored at a dinner party Saturday night by Dr. and Mrs. Fred Adams at their Greenbrae home. George, who is with the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corporation has been transferred to the Philadelphia office. He is sales manager of the Turbine Division. He will return from Philadelphia tomorrow to assist Alice with the moving details. They have put their San Anselmo home, which they built 13 years ago, on the market. They have bought a new home in Rosetree Valley out of Media, a short distance from Philadelphia. George recently returned from five months in India where he was on a business assignment.

Several dinner parties have been given for the popular couple. Alice has belonged to the Social Service Auxiliary for many years and is also active in Poplar Branch of Marin General Hospital Auxiliary. The Aratas are taking five of their children: Robert 16; Patricia, 12; Kathy, 10; Billy, 7, and John who is 30 months old with them. Their eldest daughter, Mary, who is attending St. Joseph's College of Nursing in San Francisco will remain. She attended the College of the Holy Names in Oakland last year.

They'll have Thanksgiving dinner with Alice's mother, Mrs. Fred Eckert of San Francisco, and Nov. 27 will fly to Philadelphia.

Other guests of Dr. and Mrs. Adams will be Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Neilan, Peter Helms, Richard DeCraf, John Korn and Edward Barry.

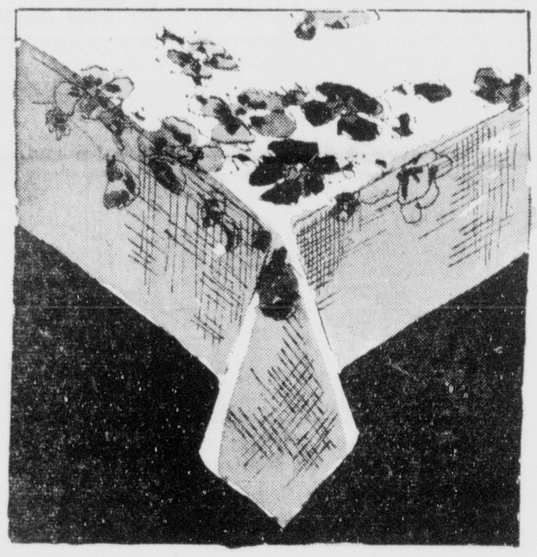

PLANS FOR A big benefit party, to be staged Dec. 7 in Marin County, were unfolded at a luncheon I attended Tuesday at Villa Taverna in San Francisco. I went with Mrs. Homer (Hilda) Hood, publicity chairman for the benefit to be given by two Sunny Hills guilds. Complete details will be released soon. Our hostess was Mrs. Albert (Ellen) Campodonica, member of the posh and exclusive private club in Jackson Square, Villa Taverna. Hilda and I have known Ellen for years. She and Hilda have a mutual interest in art, she collects paintings and Hilda, member of the Marin Society of Artists, is a painter. Ellen is a member of the San Francisco Art Commission and one of her major projects is the restoration of the Palace of Fine Arts. Petite and blonde, she is a human dynamo and assisting Hilda enthusiastically with the benefit plans. I've known Ellen ever since her son, Hampton, attended San Rafael Military Academy.

After luncheon we went to Ellen's house on Vallejo Street. It is a lovely old home, three storied, and filled with antiques Ellen has collected. The lower floor is the art gallery where more than 300 paintings, ranging from works of seventeenth and eighteenth century painters, to moderns are displayed.

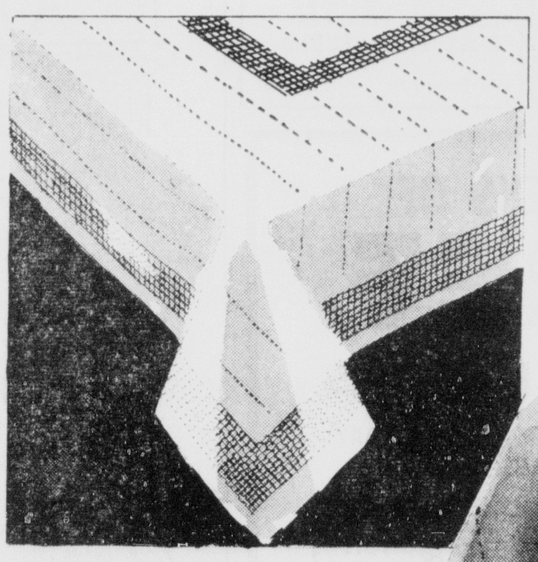

AT ALTA MIRA Hotel a notable threesome had brunch Sunday. It included Ingrid Bergman, her husband, Lars Schmidt, and her daughter, Mrs. Fuller Callaway (Jenny Lindstrom). Miss Bergman and her husband were honored at a small dinner dance given by Mrs. Callaway Monday night in the Admiral's Cabin at Trader Viv's. Miss Bergman and her husband are in California on vacation and skipped the International Film Festival festivities. They'll weekend in Carmel and return for several more days in San Francisco before flying to Acapulco.

AT PEACOCK GAP Golf and Country Club a group of members of the Meadow Club gathered to play golf and have luncheon Tuesday. In the group were Mesdames Arthur Schallock, Ed Abramson, H. C. Billings, C. W. Morrill, Robert Parish, Rinaldo Belli, Arthur Latno, Edwin Christie, Niels Schultz Jr., Frank McMurray, Gordon Wood, Carl Boegerhausen, Paul Hartman and Hodge Davidson.

THE SAN FRANCISCO Yacht Club was the setting for a dinner Friday night to mark the end of a nine months' bridge tournament in which 32 couples participated. Announced were the top winners, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Field, first; Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Beere, second; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Behrens, third.

Party Crashers Quickly Ruin Your Teen-Agers' Good Times

Beware of party crashers. They're everywhere this year. Hoodlum teen-agers take pride in going to parties uninvited, and wrecking them.

A widowed mother from the West Coast writes, "Some teen-age strangers walked boldly into my house while my daughter was entertaining her friends. They appeared to be drunk, but they were well dressed. I was speechless with surprise. They upset the punchbowl, and threw the cake into the mess. Then they started tearing down my drapes, laughingly hysterically. I hurried to the phone and called the police. Before the officers arrived the strangers ran to their cars and drove away. They have not been caught. If they ever come to my home again I'll shoot them!"

From the East Coast a father writes, "We were giving a dance for our teen-age son. At 11 o'clock some hoodlums entered. They grabbed the girls and started dancing with them. My son and his friends tried to throw them out and in no time our home was a shambles. I called the police and they restored order. All told the crashers did about $300 damage. They are now awaiting trial. I find I can't make them or their parents pay for the damage. I'm out $300. Please warn other parents to guard against party crashers!"

As I say, beware of crashers. I don't care how nice your own kids are, or how good your neighborhood. Party crashers go everywhere. During a party, have a couple of strong, tactful men stand unobtrusively near the door to turn away interlopers. At the first hint of trouble, call the police.

Gents Now Prefer Brownettes New Study Shows

CHICAGO (UPI) — Gentlemen prefer brownettes, a recent study of the hair-color market indicates.

Forty-three per cent of the men queried said they favored brown-haired women. Only 17 per cent ranked blondes as their first choice. Red, black and gray hair trailed in that order.

A second reason for the popularity of brown, the study indicated, is that this is the natural hair color of the greatest number of women in America.

Of all women using hair color, 70 per cent do so just to cover sprouting gray hair, the study showed.

FACE AND FIGURE

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—You may be a perfect size 12 by government standards and still slip into a size 7 on one occasion or amply fill a 14 on another, depending on the style or the manufacturer of the garment.

Why do sizes vary?

A man who has been keeping a professional eye on women's ever-changing figures for more than half a century has the answer in his eerie garret filled with headless feminine bodies.

There Simon Wolf and his workers make dress forms for the bustling garment district. Around these curves, designers drape and fit women's and children's ready-to-wear.

But each dress form is made according to each manufacturer's specifications. And each manufacturer interprets these so-called standard sizes in his own way, relying on his customers' experiences in adjusting the clothes.

Today 68 per cent of the American women come into the size 12 grouping.

By studying all physical statistics available, Uncle Sam's statisticians have determined that a standard size 12 has a 35½ inch bust, a 26 inch waist line, and 36 inch hips measured 9 inches below the waist. Other sizes are graded up or down from there.

One dress house may conform to all measurements except the hips, which are made slimmer or wider. Another may change bosom or waistline measurements, Simon Wolf says.

Fashion also plays havoc with standard measurements as Wolf's ghostly paper figures from the past prove.

In the early 1900s his company was turning out the hourglass figures, such as Lillian Russell's, worshipped by all young ladies of that day.

In 1910 he made forms generally fuller through the waist, slimmer through the hips. By the roaring '20s era, his papier-mache models were flat-chested.

By the late '30s Wolf was plumping up his paper ladies just a bit, but keeping the waistlines slim. Since then, he has been adding an inch here, taking off a half inch there, depending on instructions from manufacturers.

High style manufacturers change forms every six months, even oftener if the designer believes a new fashion warrants it. However, Wolf is quick to point out that not all style changes merit new molds.

Posture, and foundation garments shift the womanly figure so that it does not always conform to standard dress form measurements, he says. For that reason, his company also produces models for makers of foundation garments, pajamas, aprons, even shrouds!

Oblivious to the Venus nudes around them, Wolf's workmen disinterestedly paste inches of papier-mache into plaster casts that look like sarcophagi. They then shove the wet paper bodies into ovens for two days, pad them with cotton (to hold pins) and cover with cloth.

When the venerable man was just beginning, his job was much easier. Dressmakers were satisfied with figures that graduated up and down the scale in methodical order. Today his clients also must have forms for tall girls and giant sized ones, petites, juniors, chubbies, the mature figure, and variations on all of these.

Mathematics Demonstration Set Tuesday At Dominican

Marin mothers who might wonder what is going on in classroom mathematics these days will have a chance to see and hear for themselves at Dominican College in San Rafael on Tuesday at 11 a.m.

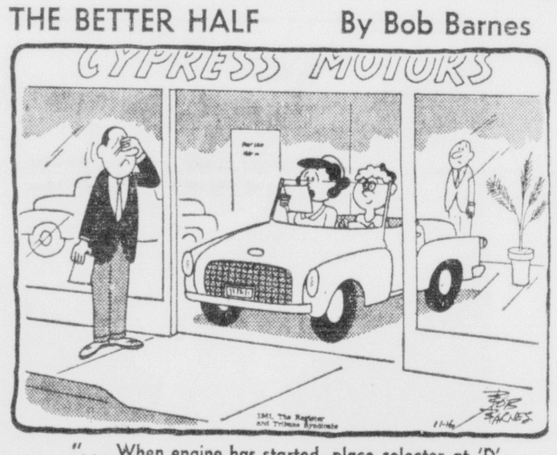

A demonstration of teaching of fifth and sixth grade students will be given by one of the leaders in the development of new curricular materials, the Rev. Stanley J. Bezuszka, S. J., of Boston College.

Brought to the West Coast to address teachers of mathematics at the California Mathematics Council meeting at Asilomar this weekend, Father Bezuszka will then come to Marin, where he will spend the day, Tuesday, on the Dominican College campus. In addition to the morning class there, the mathematician will conduct two other sessions. An afternoon meeting, 4:30 to 6 p.m. will be turned over to a demonstration class in which Father Bezuszka will teach a group of 9th and 10th graders for the length of a regular class period. The class will be followed by discussion and time for questions from the audience. At 7:30 p.m. Father Bezuszka will speak on trends in modern mathematics.

All sessions will be held in Angelico Hall. The public is invited.

Religious Art's Function Inspirational, Says Artist

Miss Blanque said that the church has been accused of lack of taste in religious art. In discussing the decadence of Christian art, she said that it might be divided into three forms: (1) art of the clergy dictated by doctrine, which became monotonous; (2) art of the people, which was humorous, animated and closer to life but became mediocre, and (3) art of the artists, in which man looked within himself.

With the 20th Century and the liturgical movement, she said, pure art began to show living simplicity.

A contemporary artist herself, Miss Blanque emphasized the obligation of the clergy and laity to judge what to reject or accept, for all contemporary art is not necessarily good.

Proceeds will be used to purchase books for the Mount Carmel School library.

Religious music, including Gregorian chant, Christmas carols and children's records will also be on display and may be ordered.

Committee members have selected prints suitable for framing, fabric wall hangings with a religious motif, some European statuettes in wood and metal, a variety of garden statuary and shrines and a collection of both modern and traditional medals.

Books for children will be fiction and non-fiction, age-grouped from the earliest grades through high school. The adult books will be mainly religious in subject with a few current novels and non-fiction of particular interest.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Nov. 16, the 320th day of the year with 45 more to follow in 1961. Today is Oklahoma Statehood Day.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

The evening stars are Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1914, the 12 federal reserve banks were opened formally in accordance with the Glass-Owen Bill passed in 1913 to " . . . establish a more effective supervision of banking in the United States."

In 1950, the first reinforcements for British and American troops reached Berlin, together with the first small arms shipment for West Berlin police.

A thought for the day: Former president and chancellor of the University of Chicago Robert Maynard Hutchins said: "We do not know what education could do for us, because we have never tried it."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Good Player Refuses First Trick In Enemy's Best Suit

Almost every experienced player automatically refuses the first trick in the enemy's best suit if he has only one stopper in that suit. This is the simple hold-up play, so named because you hold up your winning card instead of taking the trick. Not all hold-ups are as simple as that.

Opening lead — ♠ Q

One of the strangest hold-ups on record was executed by Sidney Silodor, noted Philadelphia expert, in a national tournament some years ago. Silodor held up twice even though he had two stoppers in the enemy's long suit.

West led the queen of spades and was allowed to hold the trick. Only a good player would think of refusing the first trick with two stoppers in the dangerous suit. The average player would win the first trick and think about a hold-up when it was a question of taking the other top spade.

West continued with the jack of spades, and Silodor refused this trick also, discarding a heart from dummy. The idea was to win his first spade trick when East was following suit with his last spade.

PAYS DIVIDEND: Silodor's care paid a dividend. West continued with a third spade, and Silodor won and knocked out the ace of diamonds. East couldn't lead a spade, thanks to the double hold-up.

With any other return, Silodor had time to force out the ace of hearts. He won two spades, two clubs, four diamonds and a heart. The opponents took two spades and the two red aces.

South could have made the contract by winning an early spade and guessing to lead hearts before touching the diamonds. Anybody who is that lucky about guessing which suit to tackle first doesn't also have to be skillful.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner bids on club, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ 3
♥ J 10 9
♦ K Q J 7 5
♣ A 10 6 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one diamond. You have the values for a jump to three clubs, but the double raise in a minor suit is a very unprecise bid. Show your own good suit first and the strong club support later.

Klopstock Draws Fine, Probation In Drunk Driving

Samuel Curtis Klopstock, 47, of Ross, former Stanford University track star, drew $158 fine and nine months probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Klopstock was convicted of drunken driving on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo last March 15. Two prior convictions, in 1940 and in 1949, were stricken from the record because they occurred so long ago.

William Clayton Richter, 29, of 45 Louise Street, San Rafael, must pay $166 fine and remain on six months probation for his first drunken driving offense, ruled Judge Leonard A. Thomas. He was caught on Highway 101 on Nov. 3.

Marguerite Shirley Myers, 53, of 120 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, drew $105 fine and six months probation. She was caught on North Bridgeway Boulevard near Sausalito last April 7.

Remodeling Plans Are Approved

Mill Valley planning commissioners approved plans Tuesday night for remodeling of two neighboring businesses, the Palate Restaurant at 163 Throckmorton Avenue and the Office Bar at 153 Throckmorton.

Also granted were a use permit and plan for B. R. Randolph to construct a building at 653 East Blithedale Avenue to house a real estate office combined with Del's Liquor Store, already built. Robert G. Cruickshank was granted a variance to permit construction of an administrative-professional building at 187 East Blithedale Avenue.

Grocery Plan Decision Postponed

Larkspur Planning Commission has postponed to Nov. 28 decision on Fred Schefer's request for architectural approval for a new grocery store on Magnolia Avenue.

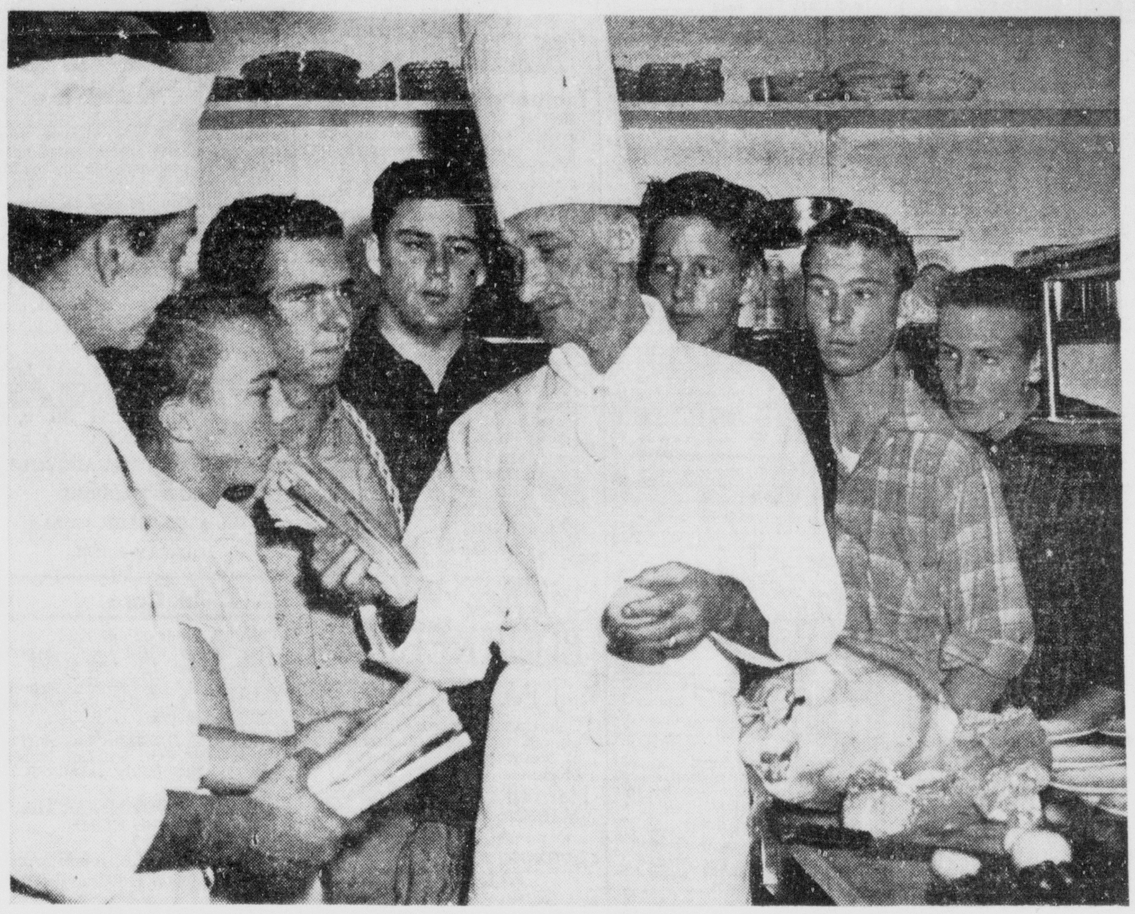

Schefer plans to build at Ward Street and Magnolia Avenue, and move his grocery, to the new quarters.

The commission, meeting Tuesday night, also put over until Nov. 23 decision on rezoning a strip of land 120 feet deep next to Magnolia Avenue, extending from Elite Cleaners 2,600 feet south. The land is now zoned commercial; multiple family residential is sought.

Architectural supervision for an apartment house to the rear of the area which is up for rezoning was granted Joseph Pell. Architects are Hooper and Malone.

The commission recommended the council approve an amendment to the zoning ordinance to specify two types of commercial zoning instead of the present one. The current zoning would remain unchanged but a second more restrictive, type of commercial zoning would be added.

The commission held up action on granting Arick (Rip) Van Winkle approval to split a one-acre lot into four building lots until the city council accepts part of the property deeded to the city for use as greenbelt area.

Paris Meeting On World Trade Begins

NEW YORK (AP) — Fear that the U.S. dollar is heading into another struggle in world financial markets is an added starter at today's meeting in Paris of 20 nations, all entries in the world trade competition.

And the American delegates also are aware that the United States is anticipating one of the bitterest battles in years over a revision of its tariff policies.

The Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, meeting in Paris, is known as the Atlantic Community, although some like Turkey and Greece are a bit distant from that ocean. Its official aim is to expand world trade and spur economic growth.

Looking over the shoulders of the delegates at the conference is the Soviet Union. The Reds are conceded to be planning a stepped-up assault on world trade markets themselves. They've already inflicted considerable pain on American oil companies.

The United States is especially interested just now to see world trade expand—specifically its own exports. Its imports have climbed sharply and so has the deficit in its balance of payments. If continued, the trend could put pressure on the value of the dollar.

The deficit arises because the dollars we spend abroad on imports, foreign aid, military commitments, investment, travel exceeds the dollars we get back for our exports, earnings on investments. The deficit almost disappeard early in 1961 but jumped by 50 per cent during the summer and now runs around 3 billion dollars a year.

Some of the dollars that foreigners get are used to buy gold from our Treasury. And a year ago the outflow of gold reached a volume that made the dollar itself unpopular in some world financial markets. The United States bolstered the dollar's value by trimming the deficit through cuts in overseas spending and pushing of American exports.

Now the threat is once again sighted. Not even the dollar could hold its exchange value if the imbalance continued indefinitely.

Adding to the problem is the rapid growth of Western Europe's economy and export trade and the move of Britain toward joining in a trade bloc with nations on the Continent. That could freeze American exporters out of an important market.

The U.S. administration talks of meeting this threat by bargaining for trade concessions. And to be able to bargain it proposes to ask Congress for power to cut tariffs further here.

Opponents of further tariff cutting are numerous. And so are those, both in management and labor, who think tariffs already are so low that ruinous foreign competition is being encouraged in domestic markets.

That's the background as the United States starts today's talks in Paris about ways to speed up economic growth for all the 20 nations and make trade freer.

Articles Filed Of Incorporation

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced two Marin County organizations have filed articles with his office to form non-profit corporations.

The Marin County Optometric Society listed its directors as John W. Hoag, 158 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley; Shuso Kumata, 54 Freeway Circle, Corte Madera, and Kermit K. Kors, 1129 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

Bel Aire Property Owners Assn., Inc., listed its directors as Alan D. Kircher, 118 Leland Way, and Mrs. J. H. (Phoebe) Brown, 251 Karen Way, Tiburon, and Edward E. Pokorny, 65 Harriett Way, Mill Valley.

Four File For School Board

Four applicants have filed with the San Anselmo School District board for the trustees position vacated last month by Philip S. Bundschu.

They will be considered at Monday's meeting of the school board in the first Marin application of a new law which permits local school boards to fill vacancies. Previously, such vacancies were filled by appointment by the county superintendent.

The four who have written to the board expressing willingness to serve are: Philip J. Hiaring, 95, Suffield Avenue; David Lapidus, 10 Jordan Avenue; Mrs. Doris Harnsberger, 30 Green Valley Court, and James Blair, 157 Sacramento Avenue.

Realty Firm Files For Incorporation

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced a Marin County real estate firm, Cypress Properties, has filed articles of incorporation with his office, to be capitalized at $200,000 in $100 par shares.

Directors of the company were listed as Ronald Antonioli, 76 Manderly Road, and W. N. Denton, 816 Point San Pedro Road, both of San Rafael, and Robert W. Elliott, Skyland Way, Ross.

Kramer, Allen Real Estate Firms Merging

The real estate firm of Kramer Associates in Mill Valley has been acquired by Frank Howard Allen and Son, Realtors, it was announced today by Charles Howard Allen and Robert C. Steele, partners in the latter organization.

The merger will become effective Dec. 1.

The Mill Valley office of Frank Howard Allen and Son, heretofore located at 489 Miller Avenue, will be moved to the Kramer office at 535 Miller Avenue, a steel and glass structure designed by Michael Wornum of Mill Valley. No sale of the real estate is involved in the transaction.

Headed by Stephen Kramer of Mill Valley who organized the firm in 1954, Kramer Associates has been exclusive agent for the planned communities of Rancho Los Lomas, Enchanted Knolls and Garden Hills—all in the Mill Valley area.

Kramer will continue in the real estate field in the capacity of consultant.

Frank Howard Allen and Son, one of the county's oldest real estate firms, was organized in 1910 by Charles Howard Allen's grandfather, a banker and land developer. The main office of the firm at 232 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, is still located in the original building.

Charles Howard Allen joined the company in 1935 as a builder, real estate broker and insurance agent. Robert C. Steele, a native of San Rafael, joined the firm in 1953.

L.A. County Has 6.2 Million People

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles County had a population of 6,291,988 at the end of September, the Regional Planning Commission estimated today.

The population of the City of Los Angeles was estimated at 2,561,674.

The commission figures give the county more than a quarter of a million more people than the official U.S. Census of 1960. The commission calculates the city gained 47,928 people the first nine months of this year and the county 121,451.

Mill Valleyan Found Guilty Of Conspiracy In Theft Case

Forrest Seter of Mill Valley and two other officers of the California Law Enforcement Officers Assn. were found guilty by a Sacramento Superior Court jury Tuesday night of conspiracy to commit theft.

Seter, president of the association; J. L. Levitt of San Francisco, vice president, and Wallace Lund of San Francisco were accused of soliciting money to combat juvenile delinquency but using it for other purposes.

Motions for a new trial will be heard Nov. 27, reports United Press International. The offense carries a maximum sentence of three years in prison and $5,000 fine.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said Seter, then of San Francisco, was involved a few years ago in soliciting advertising for a purported peace officers' magazine which was without official sanction. He said the "law enforcement officers association" also has no official status.

Attorney General Resignation Asked

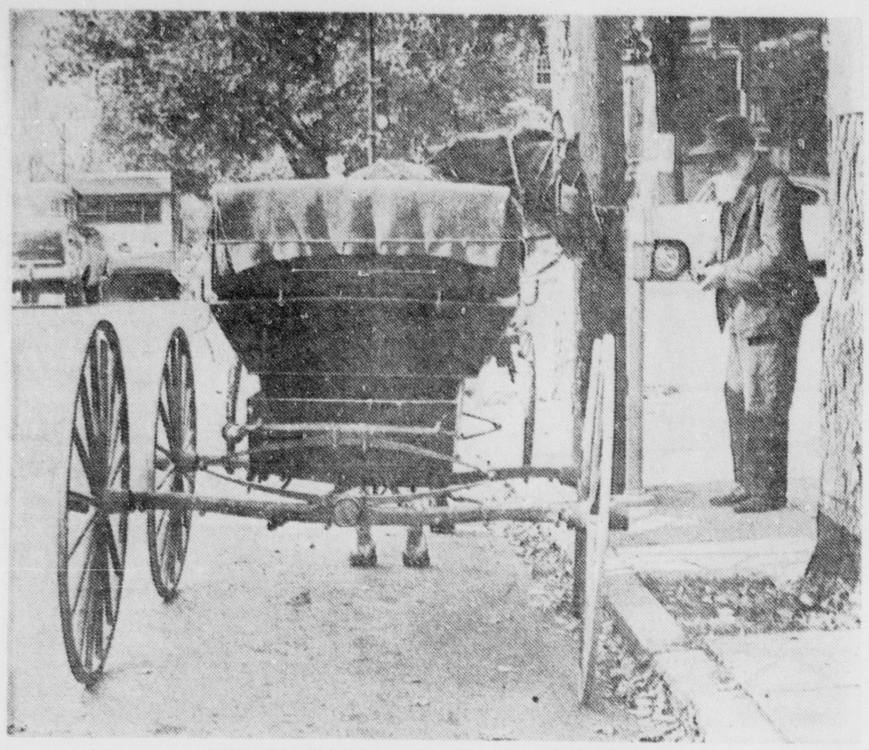

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A Republican candidate for Stanley Mosk's state job demanded today that he resign either as Democratic national committeeman or attorney general.

Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen (R-Los Gatos) said the two jobs are incompatible.

He said Mosk has no business engaging in partisan political activities while also serving as the state's chief law enforcement official.

Salt Is Linked To Hypertension

NEW YORK (UPI)—The once widely held theory that "essential" hypertension is caused by an abnormality in the body's utilization of salt is likely to have a revival. A new scientific finding seems to reverse the old findings which knocked the props from under the theory.

It's important to find the unknown cause (or causes) of this common form of high blood pressure because it sets people up for premature death. And the salt theory is attractive because there are apparently sound reasons for believing in it.

You take a person with "essential" hypertensions and deplete his body's supply of salt and there is a good chance the hypertension will become much less hyper and stabilize around normal levels. This depleting is done with salt-free diets and drugs which hasten the excretion of salt.

That surely indicates that in these blood pressure patients hypertension is connected with an excess of salt in the body's chemistry—that not enough salt is being excreted and too much is going into the "metabolic pool" where it reacts upon blood pressure.

In 1951 a technique was invented which permitted the measurement of the available salt in the body chemistry of a person with "essential" hypertension. It did not seem abnormal. Since 1951 this technique has been applied to many hypertensive persons. With the exception of a few far advanced cases, no abnormality was demonstrated.

But now a new technique reverses that. It was devised and tested in 15 persons by Drs. Lewis K. Dahl, Malcolm G. Smilay, Lawrence Silver and Sanford C. Sparagen of the Brookhaven National Laboratory, Upton, N. Y. The technique's basis is a radioactive isotope of salt, Sodium-22.

The 15 persons lived by the precisely disciplined routine of a hospital metabolic ward where everything which goes into and comes out of the body is subjected to minute analysis and measurement. The salt which went into these 15 was reduced to the barest minimum.

Then it was increased in exact stair-step amounts. But it was sodium-22 whose radioactivity revealed whether it was being accumulated by body chemistry and if it was, to what extent.

Of the 15, seven had "essential" hypertensions and the other eight had normal blood pressure. Without exception, the seven with the disease retained and accumulated salt in their body chemistry at a much higher rate than those who were free of the disease.

The scientists felt their findings should stimulate another look at the salt theory by medical science in general. They recalled that many of the measurements which seemed to contradict the theory were made in overweight persons.

Japanese Scientists Find Key To Allergy Trouble

NEW YORK (UPI)—A technical triumph by two Japanese scientists may prove to be a key which will unlock some of the outstanding chemical mysteries of allergy.

Their triumph was to make quinea pigs extremely allergic to penicillin; in the tissues of those animals they produced, with penicillin, the most violent of allergic reactions—anaphylaxis.

Heretofore penicillin anaphylaxis seemed to occur only in people. Science's inability to produce it experimentally in animals stymied efforts to get to the bottom of it and perhaps find a way of preventing it.

Meanwhile, physicians have become chary about injecting penicillin and other antibiotics into any person who is allergic to anything or who has ever had even a mild allergic reaction. The anaphylactic reaction can be fatal.

Drs. Toshi Torii and Yoshihi Kohoriuchi of Hokkaido University, Sapporo, Japan, began with the promise it would take penicillin and something else to set up guinea pigs chemically for penicillin anaphylaxis. The something else also turned out to be the common protein, albumin.

Albumin is abundant in the tissues of all animals, man included, of course. The scientists incubated egg white albumin with penicillin. The resulting chemical products were the two in "bound" form and sure enough, when injected into guinea pigs it "sensitized" them for anaphylaxis.

You could think from that there was a special chemical quality to egg white albumin, since penincillin injected into guinea pigs does not become "bound" to guinea pig albumin and set them up for a massive allergic reaction the next time they get peninicillin.

But Torii and Kohoriuchi demonstrated that albumins were interchangable in guinea pig sensitizations. They incubated penincillin with horse albumin, with human albumin and with guinea pig albumin and each combination "sensitized" guinea pigs.

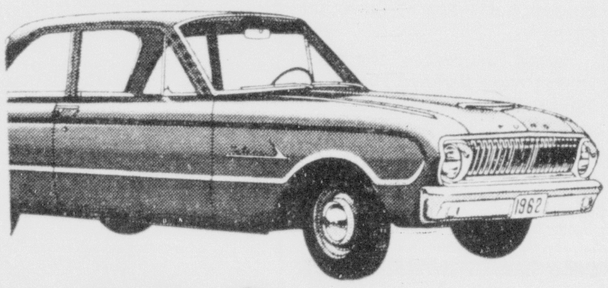

The incubation took place in laboratory cultures, not inside the bodies of guinea pigs, however. Their preliminary experiments indicated a process of alkalinazation inside guinea pigs prevented penicillin and guinea pig albumin from becoming "bound.'

In their laboratory cultures they controlled the degree of acidification of the cultural medium precisely. When the medium was made alkaline, the binding of penicillin and albumin into allergy-provoking substance was halted. When the medium was pushed higher and higher up the acid side, the binding was hastened.

In reporting their triumph and their first experiments based upon it to the technical journal, "Nature," the scientists said blood taken from human beings who had had the anaphylaxtic reaction, showed a strong capacity to get "bound" into allergy-provoking substances even in the absense of acidification.

This caused them to suggest highly allergic persons have in their blood "a peculiar protein" which has a strong capacity to get "bound" with outside substances, such as penicillin.
